BURIAL WAS SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Mother Makes Trip to Cabin for Dead Daughter's Effects

John Burwin, of Timber, was in town Sunday.

L. M. Miller, of Scholls, was in town Sunday.

Arthur Flint and wife, and Ferd Groner, of Scholls, were in the city Saturday.

Herman Schulmerich, of Portland, was out Sunday, and spent the day with relatives.

Mrs. May Greer was elected conductor of the Rebecca's, at Albany, last week.

J. A. Vandehey and family, of near Glencoe, were in town Monday.

A sixteen year old girl desires work in a respectable family.—Address Atgus. 11-2

H. R. Findley, a prominent Cedar Mill stockman, was a caller, Monday.

As Decoration Day comes on Monday, May 31 that day being a legal holiday, no mail will be delivered on rural routes from this city.

All persons desirous of entering an athletic club, are requested to hand their names to Ronald Vaught. No one admitted under 16 years of age.

A Portland evening paper last Friday stated that Miss Alice Hale, who was reported as missing the early part of last week, had returned home.

Dance at W. O. W. Hall, Glencoe, May 29. Tickets, including supper, $1.00. Toelle's orchestra. Everybody invited. 10 11

A. B. Smith, a P. R. & N. contractor, was in town Monday, and went out to the front Wednesday morning.

Capt. J. D. Merryman and wife, of Portland, came out to Hillsboro Saturday evening, and were guests of Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Bailey.

For Sale: Clay pigeon trap, and 24 barrels of blue rocks. Will sell for $15.—L. M. Miller, Scholls, Or. at Rowell Bros. & Co. stores. 11 3

Geo. Cypher, of beyond Glencoe, returned Monday from a short visit with his son, who is in the Wadsworth's wholesale house, Portland.

Geo. W. Harrow and wife returned Saturday evening from a two months' visit to Mr. Harrow's relatives, near Toronto, Canada. Mr. Harrow says that on May 12 the leaves had not yet fully burst on the trees, and the Spring is very backward.

Wm. Chenault, one of the pitchers for the Portland club in the Northwest league, was out to Hillsboro one day last week and visited with Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Weathered. The Weathereds and Chenaults were neighbors and friends in Tennessee. Mr. Chenault is one of the best pitchers in the Northwest league.

An old fashioned barn raising occurred at Sam Johnson's place in the Shady Brook section, Saturday. About 60 men were present, and as usual, at such "raisings" there was lots of fun. The ladies prepared a bountiful dinner, and some of the younger members of the party got up a baseball game.

Carrie B. Hall has sued F. J. Hall for divorce, alleging failure to support and cruelty. They formerly lived in Hillsboro, where Hall pleaded guilty to stealing underwear from the Schulmerich store, some years ago. They went from here to St. Johns. The wife asks for the custody of several minor children, and what equity there is—about $300—in their home near the Peninsular mills.

Trouble is being experienced in securing right-of-way between Forest Grove and Verboort for the United Railways says a Forest Grove correspondent of a Portland paper, and unless settlers along the route agree to terms within the next few days, it is probable that the line will not be built to Forest Grove. The business men of the Grove are doing all in their power to induce the owners of property to sell the right-of-way, as failure of the line to build to that city would not only be a great loss to the town, but would also retard the growth of the country adjacent.

Roselair posed for a picture in the Sheriff's office Monday. Two pictures were taken, one while he was sitting, the other while he stood. He wears a moustache and stubby chin whiskers, and is not allowed to shave for fear he might conclude to commit suicide. The Sheriff watches him carefully, and thus far he has shown no mania for getting rid of himself. He is the kind of a man who would enjoy the sensationalism of a trial, and is never so pleased as when he is allowed to exploit his ideas on politics and religion. When asked to pose for a photograph, he made no objection, and seemed rather pleased with the thought of having his likeness taken.

BIG ENTERPRISE FOR THIS CITY

Yerger-Lytle-Stevenson Company Incorporates

BIG SAWMILL TO BE STAR FEATURE

Will use Sawdust Fuel for Operating City Light Plant

The Yerger-Lytle-Stevenson Company has incorporated, with Hillsboro as the principal place of business, the capital stock being $40,000. This company has purchased the Hillsboro city water and light plant, and is now negotiating for the purchase of a mill site, near the city. About ten acres will be required for the purposes of the mill and factories. It is the intention of the company to build and operate a sawmill with a daily cutting capacity of from 60,000 to 75,000 feet per day. A mill of this size, and its attendant factories, would give employment to about 40 men daily. It is the intention to use the sawdust from the mill as fuel for the city water and light plant, and the company figures that it can make a saving of from $4,000 to $5,000 per year in fuel expense. In addition to the water and light plant, the company will have an ice plant, a sash and door factory and a big dry kiln. Mr. Yerger, one of the incorporators, is at present on the Sound, where he is attempting to close the sale of a big saw mill property at Bellingham. If this deal is closed soon, the company will begin the erection of their mill plant this Summer. They may do so, in any event. There is no guess-work about the establishment of the mill. It will be built, and will add another dinner-bucket brigade to Hillsboro's payroll. The location of the site is yet a secret, but will soon be known. Enough is known about the location, however, to say that it will be in a suburb of Hillsboro

County Clerk Bailey is issuing a large number of fishing permits of late. The fishing is getting good in the mountain streams, and many of our local fishermen are getting the fever.

Those who know say there is considerable snow in the Coast range mountains, well up. What is needed now is some warm weather to melt it, so that we may have some real summer.

A local crawfisher says that these fresh water crabs are extremely shy about getting into traps this year, and that the Portland restaurants cannot begin to supply their customers. Most of the crawfish consumed in Portland are taken in the Tualatin river, and the fisherman referred to shipped hundreds of dozens to the Portland markets, at this time, last year.

John Brooks, the only inmate of the county jail, is getting tired of Roselair's "religious" services, and is anxious to get bail. According to Brooks, Roselair prays and preaches every night until nearly midnight. Brooks, who is awaiting the action of the grand jury on a statutory charge, says he is afraid Roselair may take a notion to smash him some time with a spittoon or a chair.

Mrs. Ann Freeman has applied for a pension, on account of the service of her husband in the Oregon Home Guard, which was organized in this county in 1853, to repel threatened Indian invasion. Her husband, with about 50 others, composing a company in this county, were ordered to the Columbia river, at St. Helens, during the summer of 1853, to meet a body of hostile Washington Indians, who were supposed to be ready to cross to the Oregon side. Geo. Ferrell, a pioneer of this county, was the captain, and led the Washington county boys to St. Helens, but the Indians did not cross, as was anticipated by the Governor. The company maintained its organization for some time after this incident, and while its records were poorly kept, Senator Chamberlain writes to Bagley & Hare, attorneys for Mrs. Freeman, that if two members of the company can be found, who will make proper affidavits, he will endeavor to secure a pension for the widow. J. W. Gibson, of Reedville, was in town Saturday, and stated that he was a member of the company referred to, and that the late Henry Wooley was another. If another member is alive, he will confer a favor on Mrs. Freeman, by making himself known.

J. W. SWEENEY IN THE CITY SATURDAY

Went on Out to the Front With A. J. McCabe

CONTRACT FOR TILLAMOOK LINE

Will Have One Thousand Men at Work in Short Time

J. W. Sweeney, who has the contract for building the unfinished portion of the P. R. & N. line, was in town last Friday, and went out over the road to a point beyond Buxton, to look over the situation. He has a large outfit coming up from Drain, where it was to be used on the Drain-Cook Bay road, which failed to go through. He has another big outfit on the road overland to Tillamook, and he expects to have 1,000 men at work within 30 days. He will build his own camps, and create mess houses and sleeping bunks for the small army of men to be employed. The campaign of construction of the road bed and bridges will be vigorously prosecuted this Summer and Fall, and the tunnels can be worked upon during the Winter.

This line will open up one of the greatest timber belts in Oregon, and many business men in Oregon are keeping an eye on the station locations, with a view to locating, and growing up with the country. There will be one good town at the junction of the Salmonberry and Nehalem, which would tap the trade of the Nehalem valley, which section is quite well settled. This will be the nearest railroad to that prosperous valley, and will give the farmers an outlet for their products. The Nehalem valley produces fine hay, prize apples, and is also locally famous for its dairying and stock interests.

LUST-FREEMAN

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized at the residence of Nicholas A. Freeman, at 321 East Seventh street, Portland, at 3 o'clock, Wednesday, May 19, 1909, when their daughter, Bessie, was united in marriage to Franklin J. Lust. The beautiful and impressive ring ceremony was used, Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher officiating. The bride was beautifully gowned in an empire effect of white ivory satin, and carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Reasha Fowler, a cousin of the bride, sang "Because," very impressively, as the bridal party entered the parlor, which was artistically decorated with flowers and ferns. A sumptuous luncheon was served at 5 p. m. in the dining room, which was decorated in yellow flowers and crepe paper, after which the bride and groom repaired to their home in that city. The presents were numerous. The immediate relatives and friends present were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fowler, Dr. and Mrs. O. Fowler, Mrs. Carrie Morgan, Marie Lenc, Evaline Ground, Cecelia Luck, Bessie Hubbard, Edith Stein, Frances, E. E. and E. D. Freeman.

The bride was formerly a Hillsboro young lady, and claims this city as her birth place.

Dr. C. L. Large, of Forest Grove, was in town Friday.

Julius Croeni, of Bethany; Fred Hamel, of West Union; Herman Glaske, of Bethany, and Henry Becker, of Iowa Hill, were in the city, Monday.

Last Friday night just as the west bound electric car came in, Dr. Linklater was coming up from the depot on Second street, and seeing that he might collide with the car, switched his automobile to the left, and before he could stop it, the machine ran into a crowd by the box car depot, and knocked Thos. Talbot, of Cornelius, down, and tore off a portion of the sole of one of his shoes. A little child was saved from being run over by Mr. Hubbert, who seized it just in time. The car managed to stop, and the auto crossed the track safely. Mr. Talbot sustained some not serious bruises, but took the car for home. Dr. Linklater did not see the car until right upon it.
