

J. J. Krebs, the one-time Farmington merchant, and John Kamra, owner of the big Edwards' ranch, one of the finest in the county, were up from Farmington, Tuesday.

John Nyberg, of Tualatin, was up yesterday, and says his section is having lots of good road work performed down his way. He says his onion crop is now looking fine, and promises a good crop. Tualatin and vicinity annually harvests about 100 acres of this vegetable; Sherwood and district, 150 acres, and balance of the county 100 acres more, the other districts being Scholls, Hillsboro, Beaverton, Cedar Mill and Cornelius. The worm is retarding growth in some sections.

Farm of 80 acres for rent, 15 acres in cultivation; ample buildings; barn for 6 cows and 2 horses.—Inquire of J. M. Brown. 8-17

R. W. Armentrout and family were down the middle of the week, guests at the P. M. Jackson home, on East Main street.

Dave Rehitto, who, in the years that are past, has raised more onions, perhaps, than any other man in the county, was up from Beaverton yesterday.

Sam Paisley, field assessor for the northwestern part of the county, was in town yesterday, bringing in field notes.

Al. McCumsey, who has a saw-mill up near Vinelands, was in the city Tuesday.

Clyde Taylor and wife have moved to Hillsboro, from Portland. Mr. Taylor will assist his father, W. E. Taylor, in concrete work, this Summer.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

Why Specify.
 "Don't worry over trifles."
 "Why not?"
 "It is foolish."
 "Well, if one is going to worry I should think that trifles are preferable for worrying purposes."

Some Size.
 "Is this a good chicken country?"
 "I should say so."
 "Hens lay well?"
 "I should say so. They lay eggs as large as ballstones."

In the Family.
 "Why is he such an idiot?"
 "All men are brothers."

The old, old story is told again every time anybody is found to stand for it.

The man who makes a business of recreation is the most worn-out creature imaginable.

An umbrella is a bit of personal property that sometimes makes a business of keeping lent all the year.

There is no danger of kidnapping becoming fashionable if it can be shown to be unprofitable.

It is often as hard to understand why some men butt in as it is undesirable to have them do so.

Being lazy is extremely uncomfortable for those who aren't.

Being satisfied is all right provided you are the satisfied one.

Her chatter is only used as an evidence that a pretty girl is around.

Good English.

"I offer you my love. Can you return it?"
 "Oh, yes, with pleasure. I have no use for it."

Disciplined.
 When you and I were young, lad, And life was all untried, When good was good and bad was bad And there was naught beside, As happy as the nestlings are, We laughed and cried and worked And raised mother's cooky jar, And when we could we shirked,
 But you and I are changed, lad, Life's page shows blot on blot, The good we find is oft half bad, And bad with good is shot, We see the mingling of the streams Of hate and love and truth And sadly mourn the vanished dreams, The light and faith of youth.

The Repeaters.
 "We must do something to cure the divorce evil."
 "Is it an evil?"
 "What would you call it?"
 "It's a habit with some folks."
