Try as they may the anti politicians will not induce the people of Oregon to part with direct legislation. There is too much money coming into the state treasury from the big corporations by virtue of this class of law-making. You can't fool the people.

It is with regret that announcement is made that the Thompson Bros. sawmill, at Hornshuhdale, is in financial troubles. The boys built a mill by five about two years or more ago, and it cost a great deal to rebuild and replace the machinery. The mill has had all it could do, but was unable to realize for present financial demands. It is to be hoped the boys will get things straightened out, as they are worthy of better fortunes.

W. Kuhnman and wife, who have been at Enterprise, Ore., are here for a few days at the home of the wife's parents, Lloyd Ingram and wife. They leave for their home stead near Prineville, the last of the week.

Mrs. A. B. Flint, of Elmira, while shelling an ear, a few days ago, fell against the machine, and suffered an injured shoulder.

The Pacific Railway & Navigation Co. will get its telegraph line into Buxton this evening, and will extend it on to the front. This will prove a great convenience, both for the train service and in getting things on the way to the front for construction.

W. F. Denninger, of Beaverton, was up yesterday, and says Beaverton will celebrate on July 4.

FOREST GROVE SUED BY E. W. HAINES

Brings Friendly Suit to Test Charter

ON WAY TO SUPREME COURT

Citizens Anxious to Have Water System Started

E. W. Haines, through Attorney John M. Wall, has sued the city of Forest Grove, as its best friend, as the bone of contention is the charter. The weakness of the annexment is brought forward, and he is desirous of having the case taken through the local circuit court, and then on to the Supreme Court, by stipulation, and get a decree to hurry up the construction of the proposed water plant.

As mentioned last week, the bond bidders refused to furnish the money, $70,000, until they were satisfied the charter was valid, hence the filing of the suit.

Miss Grace Reverman, of Cornelius, and a contestant in the Journal prize offering, was in the city yesterday, hustling for subscribers. Miss Reverman is a Washington County girl, and the Argus will appreciate any substantial aid given her in this regard.
