G. O. Hesse, now running the Gaston Lumber mill and logging operations for his company, passed through from Portland, Tuesday. The company shipped up another donkey for logging use, Monday, and this will give them a fine equipment. The mill cuts about 20,000 daily.

J. C. Lamkin picked up a ligum vitae ball, 11 inches in circumference, and put it on top of the flag pole for the city park, Tuesday. It will be big enough to be seen, even if it will be 90 feet in the air.

Fred Zilly and wife, of Portland, were out Sunday, guests at the T. R. Imbrie home. Mr. Zilly is still travelling for the Irwin-Hodson people, stationers and book makers.

B. C. Hollenbeck, the bee man of Mountaineer, was down Tuesday, accompanied by his wife. He says that the bees are not storing as much honey this dry Spring as they do when there is more rain. Mr. Hollenbeck has bought ten acres down in Florida, and if no thing goes wrong expects to spend the Winter down there, where he can get an alligator steak for breakfast.

W. A. Tupper, who is teaching for the past two years, in the Portland Business College, was out Sunday, guest of his parents. He says that Washington County annually sends quite a number of students to this institution, which is making a reputation in the northwest.

Citizens, Attention! We need each and every one of you to fill a seat at the Theatre Friday night, to see "Lucile," and we will do our best to give you an evening of mirth and laughter that will send you away pleased and satisfied. Parale at noon.—"The Hillsboro Land."

Bert Luther, the "water wagon" man, of Hillsboro, and Geo. Darity, of Glencoe, went to Pendleton, Monday morning, to represent Glencoe Pythian Lodge at the Grand Lodge session.

D. Stöler, prominent in the Sherwood section, was a county seat visitor Monday.

C. B. Taylor, for many years farming up above Mountaineer, near the Harrison claim, was Monday.

C. Reiben, an elder of the Roy section, and who owns a nice farm up there, was in the city Monday.

Born, June 22, 1909, to the wife of Jacob Roffly, Mountaineer, a daughter—the first child in 12 years.

Harry Guild, son of H. G. Guild, former Argus editor, was in the city the last of the week, and started for Seattle Monday.

MORTIMER HALLETT
Mortimer Hallett, aged 67 years, died Saturday, June 19, 1909, at 1 o'clock p. m., after a short illness. He was born in New York, and enlisted Feb. 14, 1863, as private in Co. E. Sixteenth Indiana Infantry receiving his honorable discharge in 1865 at the close of service. He was a member of J. B. Matthews Post, No. 6, Forest Grove, joining March 6, 1895. He leaves three sisters in the East, one being Mrs. Emma Seckerson, of Chastfield, Minn.
Mr. Hallett was a resident of Forest Grove for 25 years, and was a nephew of the late J. L. Hallett, who owned the Spring Hill farm, of nearly 1000 acres.
Interment was in Forest View cemetery, Tuesday. Hallett was a well known horseman and had a wide acquaintance in the state.

BAND CONCERT
The Hillsboro Band will render the following programme at the bandstand in the court house plaza, Saturday evening:
March, "Faint"..... Jean Missel
Overture "Tidbitwa"..... Frank Rose
Daughter of Love Waltz..... C. W. Bennett
Schottische, "Mirth and Music"..... Bebe
"From Ocean to Ocean" Two-step..... Losey
"Concordia" Overture..... Berry
"Cuban Independence"..... Henninger

Notice to singers: All singers, large or small, and all who take an interest in vocal music, are requested to meet in the old Opera House, Monday evening, next week, to take up the matter of chorus work for the Fourth of July exercises. Mr. Alexander is very anxious for some good chorus renditions, and the city has the talent. Chairman Dennis requests all to run out.

Jack Wood, who has been a county resident 32 years, was down from Greenville, Friday, accompanied by his wife. Jack was one of the best athletes in the country 20 years back, but he says that farming takes that all out of a man.

The Southern Pacific has changed its time and the Corvallis overland now leaves for Portland at 4:14 in the evening; the Forest Grove local leaves at 3:32 for Portland, a terminus and the evening train leaves Portland earlier, arriving here at 5:10.

Don't kick at the Umpire. He is there and can see—better than spectators.

If Batchelar keeps up his good work he will not have to wait until he gets his growth before he breaks into big league work.

Old Man Elmer Smith is going to get a patent on that somersault slide home—for it scores every time.

Roy Moore still has a grudge against that horsehide, but he evened it up some by that smash that brought in two units.

Nick Williams was all to the good Sunday, again, and little Alexander did some good work when he went in. With these two on the hump the Cardinals ought to come out of the big end of the circus this season.

Houston played at third, Sunday, and he seems to be good enough anywhere. Houston's knowledge of the game, and his head work help the boys mightily.

Tom Williams had no opportunity to bite himself by reason of bad plays, and he got busy all the time.

Catcher Phelps keeps them busy in getting back to first if they steal off three or four feet. Phelps is about the niftiest catcher Hillsboro has had on the line-up since base ball was invented.

Fitzgerald had his first try with the Cardinals in a blood-feast, Sunday, and the young chap is going to make a dandy first baseman when he gets a little age on him.

And still Manager Moore smiles on his Cardinals.

Umpire Shute was the recipient of two nice incipient Cracks on the tics— But he is game and will stay there, As long as they play there Unless he gets cracked on the nose.

His First Glimpse.

Hardly had the proud father entered the sickroom to get his first glimpse of the new twins than both newborns set up a loud howling. "Now, now," cautioned the father, holding up his hand and glancing from one red face to the other, "one at a time—one at a time."—Argonaut.

First Requisite.

"What would be your choice, Stella, if you could have the one thing you want most?"
"My wants are very simple."
"A handsome lover, I suppose."
"No, a rich father. All the rest would be easy."

Next Sunday the sermons at the Christian church will be: "An Anxious God and an Indifferent World," and "The Abundant Life." The tent meeting, with J. Connell, evangelist, will begin
