

SCHOOL DISTRICT ELECTS OFFICERS

Dr. J. P. Tamiesie Selected for 3-year Director Term

PETER BOSCOV CHOSEN CLERK

Seventy Seven Voters Were in Attendance and Many Women Present

Hillsboro enjoyed the largest school meeting assembly for years, Monday, when the district board elected a director for three years, and a clerk for one year. There were 57 voters present, and a large percentage were ladies. For director Dr. J. P. Tamiesie was chosen by a vote of 33 to 24 votes for Dr. W. D. Wood. Peter Boscov was elected clerk—and this position just exacted the position to a nicety.

Clerk Boscov's report shows that there are 617 of school age, that is drawing school money in the district. This comprises all those between 4 and 20, and there are 321 males and 306 females.

Receipts table with columns for item and amount. Includes 'Cash on hand last report', 'From Co. Treas. dist. tax', 'From Co. Supt. Case', 'Late billings', 'Disbursements', 'Total'.

PLEASANT RECEPTION

Dr. and Mrs. Geo. Schulmerich are a delightful evening's reception last Saturday, in honor of two special couples, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stevens. There were over one hundred guests and the affair was held in the lawn. Delightful refreshments were served, and the guests remained until a late hour.

BRIGADE COMMANDER

Laurel M. Hoyt, Brigadier-General of the Oregon Brigade Uniformed Rank, Knights of Pythias, met to Pendleton, to be present at the Grand Lodge session, this week, and to confer with the Grand Body of the military rank. Gen. Hoyt expects to awaken interest renewed in the military branch of the order this Fall and Winter, and have a representation at the next session of the Grand Lodge. He was hoping that the State would establish an armory in this city, and military company of the National Guard, as the Pythian Company could then be permitted to use the building, and have a place in which to drill. He has several applications for joining the Hillsboro company and this Fall will see additions to the enlistments.

Hillsboro came out of the Pythian Grand Lodge session at Pendleton with honors. Geo. Schulmerich, of the Commercial Bank, presided, and G. and P. Prelate, stationer, is but two removes from that Grand Chancellor, and that public means that the 'Old Man' will pull through and by the main's chief executive in two or three years. Geo. is one of the best known K. of P. in the state and the honor is appreciated by all who know of his work in the order, and has had such a growth in Oregon.

The dairymen's meeting at Banks last Saturday afternoon was a successful meeting from the standpoint of lectures, although the attendance was not large, owing to the fact that this is a busy season with farmers generally. Prof. E. L. Kent, of the O. A. C., and Paul Harris, deputy Food Inspector and M. Schulmerich delivered addresses, and brought out many points of information of value to the listeners. The meeting was held in the Banks school house.

Our band boys are going to present a play that will please you at the Crescent Theatre, Friday June 25. A pretty story, nicely told, and we can assure you that a nice evening will be enjoyed by their patrons. Better join the crowd, and be at noon.

The entire Hillsboro Band will finish the music between acts at the Crescent Theatre, Friday June 25. A splendid programme has been arranged and this alone is worth the price of admission. Seating at noon.

Fred Bradt, a native of New York, and aged about 70 years, was badly trampled by a bull at the Ford Grower farm, near Hillsboro, last Friday. He had just put a strap into the nose ring, and had led the bovine out through a gate. He turned to shut the enclosure and when his back was to his bullship the animal charged him and bore him to the ground. The fact that the bull was dehorned was about all that saved his life, as he was badly gored. His left collar bone was broken, and he was internally bruised. Dr. Linklater was called and he took Dr. Tamiesie along with him for consultation. He is getting along as well as could be expected considering the nature of the injuries.

Judge Goodin heard the failure to support case filed against Will Wolf by his wife, a daughter of Henry Stoffers. T. H. Tongue prosecuted and H. T. Bagley defended, contending that Wolf was doing all he could in a financial way. Judge Goodin held otherwise, however, and decreed that Wolf must pay $250 weekly toward the support of the wife and their two little children, one of which is a babe but two months old. The wife claims that before the last child was born, Wolf left her destitute and that Mrs. Trumbull, of Portland's associated charities, helped her to a ward in the hospital. Wolf put up a bond to pay the stipend, and he must either liquidate regularly or take chances of going to jail.

F. R. Dailey has opened his bicycle repairing and overhaul shop at his old stand, next door to the Crescent Theatre. Watch for his next week. She has new stock for the Fourth.

It is reported on the streets that the city ordinance is in process of passing an ordinance to prohibit the riding of bicycles on the sidewalks inside the city limits. Marshal Larsen has been instructed to have an ordinance drafted to that effect and after a few weeks the council may take the matter up. It is also expected that an attempt will be made to prohibit the tying of cows along sidewalks or streets. Cornelius and Forest Grove prohibit bicycle riding on the walks, as the council consider that it is a menace to small children, as well as pedestrians.

The Forest Grove Colts were defeated at Vancouver last Sunday by a score of six to five. The Colts are one of the best amateur teams in the state, and the Argus sincerely hopes it will creep up to the top of the percentage column. PROMISE OF BIG CROWD ON FOURTH

Concessions Have Sold Well, Say Committees

GROUNDS WHIPPED INTO SHAPE

Big Flag Pole was Raised Tuesday, by D. B. Reasoner

The Fourth of July Committees have been very busy the past week, getting things whipped into shape for the three days of celebration at the city park, commencing July 3 and lasting until the morning of the 6th. W. W. Boscov reports that the concessions have sold well, and he states that a big crowd is promised.

B. P. Cornelius had the big flag pole raised, Tuesday, and it stands 90 feet above the ground. With the big ball at the top it looks the real thing. D. B. Reasoner hoisted the staff free of charge for the city.

By next week the committee will have some important announcements to make to prospective visitors.

HELGESEN—LUND

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the Methodist Episcopal church at 11:00 in the forenoon, Tuesday, June 22, 1909, when Alma Olesia Lund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lund, was wedded to Mr. Conrad Helgesen, of San Francisco. After the beautiful and impressive wedding, officiated by Mrs. Lucile Hancock, the bridal party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin, with Lester Mooberry, of Cornelius, as the instrumental. The bride was given away by the father, and the beautiful Methodist Episcopal ring service was used by the officiating minister, Rev. L. F. Belknap.

After congratulations and best wishes of the many friends and relatives, the wedding party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a delicate wedding luncheon was served. The happy couple departed on the evening train for a short wedding trip to Seattle and Victoria, B. C., and other Puget Sound points.

The groom is an energetic and progressive young business man of San Francisco, and the bride well and favorably known both at Cornelius and Hillsboro, where she has resided for a number of years. She will be missed in the musical circles of the M. E. Church organization, having been a member of the choir since her residence here. Mr. and Mrs. Helgesen will make their home in the Golden Gate city.

The groom is well known here, having been salesman with the Nelson Hardware Co. for some time.

A lady representing the Examiner has a talk with Roselair this morning, but the wife killer only reiterated what he has told a good many times. OREGON ELECTRIC GETTING READY TO BUILD

The Mrs. Anderson Residence Being Moved North

THE LUMBER ABOUT ALL HERE

Construction of Building to Start in a Few Days

The Oregon Electric is starting things moving, in a literal sense, for a force of men is moving the Ludemia Anderson, residence, Fourth & Washington, north off the fifty feet purchased by the Electric line. Contractor Hewitt is doing the work and the work of sliding the house over is under way.

The lumber for the greater part of the depot is already on the ground, and building will commence as soon as a little filling and grading is done. The depot location is an ideal one in every respect, as it is close to the business part of the city.

W. G. Hars, of Bagley & Hare, returns in the morning from a business trip to Denver and attendance at the Pendleton Pythian Grand Lodge session. He was given a place on the judiciary committee, an important billet.

Sam Steinke, aged 19, at the Minter Bridge, severely cut his left heel, while cutting wood the other day, and Ray Emmott, at the Donelson furniture store, gave his left thumb a nasty carving while putting in the back of a picture; Eugene Wells crushed one of his fingers at the sash and door factory, the last of the week, and Herman Huntman, the peach-grower, cut an artery with a scythe, the first of the week. Huntman was working among bees, and when one left his stinger in his hand he put the cool of the blade against the poison, when another bee made a pass at him. Huntman struck with the result that he struck the blade, making a deep cut, losing a great deal of blood. Leo Ray, working on the S. P., dropped a rail on his foot the last of the week and severely bruised it—thus ending a chapter of local accidents. Dr. A. B. Bailey attended all of the unfortunate.

Victor Crop was in from near Glencoe, yesterday, and says that the Crop Bros. steam thrasher and baler will soon be in use for the 1909 season. Their machine is a good one, and the work shows for itself. It did fine threshing last year—its first run—and the firm desires to thresh only in the Glencoe section, provided farmers can get together and give the machine their support. This will make it easy to fix up dates and exchange work, and this way of doing will keep a good machine in the neighborhood. The Crop boys also understand their business—and that is worth while. Mr. Crop says if a farmer has had a machine that has done better work than his will cost—him nothing.

Columbia Academy, built 45 years ago, and standing as one of the ancient landmarks out on the plains, on the Mountandale—Hillsboro road, will be torn down this Summer, and the school board, Wm Chalmers, Victor Crop and J. The school board will advertise for bids in a week or so and here will be a chance for local mechanics.
