PAGE 5

Continued From Page Three. vantages Miss Lee could not have ri-

where even cosmetics failed to preserve her beauty. The charm of the whispering that she would be at the tant date.

raptured with the position he occupied me. Turpin could act as interpreter. before the London social world, but Of course I couldn't take her to Turwith Lady Richmond herself. One day pin, but I might get him on a teleernoon tea to ask a favor.

Desiring, he said, to make some ac knowledgment to a lady of high social standing who had graciously accepted was a 'telefono' sign and succeeded in his attentions, he asked Lady Rich- getting Turpin just as he was starting mond to name a gift that would be ac- out to visit the Roman aqueduct ruins. ceptable. It being obvious that Lady 1 told him what had happened; then Richmond herself was to be the recip- the girl told him her situation; then lent, she eagerly consented. She was I took the receiver and he translated however, a trifle surprised at Mr. the story to me. She'd answered an ad. Jenks giving her a limit of £5,000. At of a Roman family for a governess to the end of a week's inspection the teach the children French and had lady gave a jeweler an order to send a bracelet set with a single diamond to the American with the bill, which when at last she arrived found the amounted to the limit he had given family had been called suddenly to ber. Then she waited to receive the Berlin. Well, she was in a pickle. gift from Mr. Jenks, hoping it would come in time for a function to take place at Buckingham palace, where she expected to meet the "chit from America," as she called Miss Lee, and to blind her with the sparkle of the new gen

But the gift came not, and the queen of the belies was obliged to go to the palace without it. What was her chagrin to see it on the wrist of Miss Lee! Lady Richmond, after saluting the king and queen, retired and neves. again appeared as the reigning beauty. The next day she read in a society paper the announcement of the engageent of the two Americans, Mr. Enekiel Jenks and Miss Lillian Lee.

Zeke Jenks married Miss Lee in the early springtime and instead of seeking further social preferment at the British capital went off to Egypt without even saying goodby to a number of persons to whom the husband at myself, you know-Fil tell you whether least owed his elevation. But, having Turpin has done you a good or an evil paid well for what he had received, he did not consider any farewell neces-

Before the next London season came on Lord and Lady Richmond appeared in the divorce courts. One of the had a big stroke of luck." charges against the wife was that she had sunk £1,000 in a bracelet which she had never received. It came out that when Zeke Jenks had asked her to select a gift, supposing it was for her, being limited to £5,000 and coveting a bracelet worth £6,000, she had directed the jeweler to send it to Mr. Jenks with a bill for £5,000, charging her with the remaining £1,000. The Londoners found this item more deliclous than certain scandalous features connected with the trial.

ing down via cavour-mars cavour street, you know-in Nome, who should valed the highborn Lady Richmond I meet but my French girl, and what had not the latter reached an age do you suppose she was doing?" "What?"

"Crying. She was so distressed whole matter was that Miss Lee did about something that she didn't see not seek to rival any one and was un- me. I spoke to her, and you should conscious that certain prophets were have seen the relief light up her face. "The only thing I could remember head of the reigning belles at no dis- to say to her in French was Good morning.' so I said 'Toi que f'aime.' She It was at this time that Lady Ara- burst into a fresh crying spell. I was bells was winding her tentacles about dying to know why she was in Rome Zeke Jenks. He had been growing and what was the matter, but how could more and more devoted and gave ev- I since she could only jabber French ery evidence that he was not only en- at me? Then a happy thought struck he called upon her at the hour for aft- phone and he could tell each of us what the other said. Good idea, ch?" "Very."

"I stepped into a place where there been sent for to come to Rome. She was delayed for want of funds, and "I telephoned Turpin to tell her that I begged she would accept funds from me to return to Paris. Turpin told her. She dropped the receiver on a table and her head on my shoulder. Then she took my arm, and the next thing I knew we were in one of those measly thousand-year-old churches over there. The girl jabbered French to a priest, which he seemed to understand, and a little English, too, for he told me that to be married I must go through the proper forms.

"It was that rascally Turpin. He'd told her that I asked her to marry me and go to America with me." "What did you do?"

"What could I do? Go back on a thing like that? We were married and here I am."

"Well, old man, I'll call on your wife Conight, and after I've seen her and talked with her-I speak some French turn."

The promise was kept and, after the call, on the doorstep the friend said: "It's a 'horse' on Turpin; he should have got your wife for himself. You've

By HORACE GAYLORD. [Copyright, 1909, by American Press Asso ciation.]

George Atherton, an American, visited London, and, being without letters of introduction and the English people not being prone to make friends of strangers, he had a lonely time of it. One spring morning he was sitting on a bench in Hyde park looking at some budding plants when a well dressed at scraping an acquaintance with Englishmen that he determined not to speak to the man, who sat huy top-

DEER WORTH $100

Game Warden J. S. Lilly cause i a complaint to besworn against W alter Morgan, aged 33 years; Iraine Kelly, aged 24. Henry Keenon. aged 25, and Win. Weir, aged 24, charging them with having a buck deer in their possession. The game warden's deputy brought in the entire carcass of the veniesn, and before Tuesday, when the quartet pleaded guilty, it had gone the way of all fireh, and was spoiled Julige Barnes taxed them $50 e ch as a fine of the minimum order and the cash was paid over at once D puty T H Tongue appeared for the State and the boys appear d for themselves Game Warden Steven son was present to watch the fund enlarged. The boys take their bunting experience with a degree of stolidity, but you can't make them believe that it is worth that much monsy to have it of count record that they killed a deerparticularly when they have been raised where venison is as plantiful as Jersey calves. Mrs Samuel Bruce Huston gave delightful reception for her dau, h ter, Miss Blanche Huston, who has just graduated from the University of Oregon, at her beautiful home, 622 Elm street, Portland Heights, Thursday afternoon. The rooms were profusely decorated with Car oline Testout roses and forms and the broad veranda was decorated with elaborate porch boxes. The punch table at one was pretty with syrings. Mrs Huston was ass ated in receiving by Miss Huston. Mrs. Jas Magre, Miss Mas Magee, Mrs. F. E Beach, Mrs. John A Keating and Mrs F. I Fuller. The Gamma Phi Betas sorority, of which Miss Huston is a member, assisted in serving ices at small tables in the dining-room About 150 guests called during the alternoon. Mrs Huston wore cream embroidered pena cloth made princess, Miss Huston was in white jusi cloth, Mrs. Fuller in white ince and Mrs. Beach in old rose satin .- Sunday Journal.

The Pythian Building committee Tuesday opened bids for the construction of the K. of P. Building. on Second Street. There were five bidders, and the figures ranged from $6 600 to $9,760 The bide were as follows: Fri'z & Allen, Salem, $7.850; G. M. Hunter, Hills boro, $9,760; Baldwin Bros , Forest Grove, $9,254; W. A. Adams, Hills boro, $5,730; W. S. Moore, Portland, $6 600. Mr. Moore was awarded the contract and will file his bond in the sum of $3,000 for the faithful performance of contract. The construction will begin as soon as it is possible to get the ground cleared and material delivered. Herman Matthes, who has been running a locomotive for the Benon Logging & Lumber Co., a

DAIRDS

Continue this Week on Summe RESS GO NAPPY NAPS

Dargains

New lawns, new patterns reg 15x20c . 10c
Men's patent oxblood oxfords
Boys' " " " 2.50
Misses tan oxfords, low heel 21 to 6. 1.75
Ladies' tan pumps, swell styles
Ladies' white nifty garden ties 1.25
Ladies' white waists, all styles 50c up Infants' garden ties tan and patent Ladies' wash shirts

RENOWN

Steel Ranges

The largest part of a woman's duties are performed in the kitchen. If this room is well appointed her work becomes a

The selection of a right

range is an all important point. A Steel Range will complete the arrangements of an other-wise

"up-to-date" kitchen, and be a comfort and a joy to and Something Better."

is our claim. That Renown Steel Ranges have all the features of other

These special features

Let us explain all the

are too numerous to be all ranges is easily proven.

'Something Different

the user.

mentioned.

source of enjoyment.

MOORE & HOOVER of Mant Machai Fresh and Oured Mests

> ALWAYS IN STOCK Both Phone

Second Street, Millsboro, C

Try a DeLaval

By F. A. MITCHEL.

(Copyright, 1909, by American Press As ciation.] "Helio, Simmons. Got back all safe,

I see. Had a good time?" Well, yes; rather."

"You look as if you hadn't. Anything unpleasant happened?"

"I don't exactly-you see-they tell me there's a certain time in a man's life when he doesn't know whether he's done a very big thing or a very little

"Haven't got into trouble on account of one of your practical jokes, have 7007

"It's something like that. Come here and sit down. I'll tell you."

They had met in a city park. Simmons led the way to a bench. They seated themselves, and he began his tale of woe.

"When I was in Paris, at the pension where I stopped-they call 'em pensions over there; we call 'em boarding or hash houses here-was a French girl. I took a kind of shine to her, and I fancied she took a kind of shine to me, but neither of us could speak a word of the same language. I met Turpin over there. Remember Turpin? Red headed chap with big mole on his left cheek. He and I played jokes on each other. One day I told a gendarme to watch him for a suspicious character and had a lot of fun out of it"-"Oh, you did, did you?"

"Yes. Well, the girl I was telling you about-it was a tantalizing business, sitting along side of her without being able to say anything to her, so I wrote out some things such as 'I'm sorry I can't talk to you' and 'Will you walk with me this afternoon in the Bois de Boulogne? and all that. Then I asked Turpin-Turpin speaks French tolerably well, you know-to write out the French for these sentences. He did so, and it helped things along amazingly with the girl. Turpin told me that 'Good morning' in French was 'Tol que j'aime' or something like that, and I noticed that she blushed every time I said it."

"Do you know what "Tol que f'aime means?"

"Yes; 'good morning,' of course." "Rats! It means 'I love you.' "

Simmons stood paralyzed with surprise for a moment and then went on:

"I learned from people in the house that the girl's father had been well off, but he had lost all his property and then up and died, leaving his daughter with little or nothing. I felt introduced than those who are poor." sorry for her, and-well, I expect I looked it. At any rate when April ceed in order to be presented at court came, and I started for Rome I saw a and then turned over to you to be intear in her eye. It made me uneasy, troduced into society?" for I wasn't thinking about getting mixed up in any affair, especially with a girl I couldn't talk to, but when I got on the train I forgot all about it, supposing the girl would do the same. Turpin and I went down to Rome together, and he didn't seem to think I'd done anything out of the way, and this satisfied me.

"One day, a month later, while walkping his boot with his cane. But good fellowship or the natural animal trait of segregation or whatever it might be called was too strong in him, and he at last remarked:

"Fine morning, str."

"Very; just the morning for the flowers," replied the stranger gentally. "I have a garden at home across the big pond. I wonder whether my man is giving it the proper attention." "Our tastes agree. I'm devoted to my garden."

"All Englishmen love gardens. They all love England. And what is England but one big garden?"

"That's what makes America look unfinished to us here. We're used to seeing every bit of ground made beautiful."

"Have you been in America, sir?" "Never, but I have met several Englishmen who have, and I once knew an American quite well. Introduced him to a life entirely new to him."

"Indeed! He doubtless found you more obliging than I have found your after looking at the departing strancountrymen. I've now been in England a month and have found no one here?" inclined to know me, much less introduce me." "Have you been presented at court?"

"I have not." "Then I am sorry to say I can do nothing for you." "You Englishmen are wedded your precedents."

"Why should we not be? Our constitution is made up of them. Formerly there was the all powerful king and a subservient people. A man in my position then could introduce the strange to him simply at a word from the king. Today the king has only to perform his part of a form. The man offices." is presented at court and may then be at once launched into a social circle from which the sovereign has no power to recall him."

"But what entitles him to be presented ?"

"Oh, there are various things. He must be known-in fact, well knownthat is, if I have anything to do with his case. He must have done something to warrant my taking him up."

with one's securing your good offices?" "Nothing whatever. I make no inquiries as to the size of one's pocketbook. But there is a feeling among of life and death. This man who occu-Englishmen that rich people are less liable to be turned over to me to be "How would you advise me to pro-

"You must become notable for something. But I must bid you good morning, sir. I have an engagement to make an introduction within a couple of hours. I must leave you." "Hope I may meet you again," said Atherton.

The man raised his hat politely as he walked away, but made no further reply

"That's an Englishman all over."

If you are thinking of buying a cream separator why not buy the best? We are the sgents for the DELAVAL

We guarantee this machine to be the easiest cleaned, the closest of skimmers, the longest-lived, and The Best Separator in the market. We will place the DeLaval in a competing contest with any other cream separator. and let the DeLaval speak for itself. Mr Customer, it will pay you to investigate the many super-ior points found only in the -DELAVALmuttered Atherton. "He'll take no responsibility in vouching for a stranger. All must go through the proper form.'

Mays & Conover SCHOLLS, OREGON

At that moment who should come sailing down the way but Tredegar, an American resident of London whom Atherton had known years agone. "Hello, Atherton!" said Tredegar ger with apparent interest. "You over

"Yes, I've been here some time. Note that man who has just left me. I wish to ask you about him. He says that a stranger here, after having been presented at court, is turned over to him for introduction into society."

"Oh, he did, did he? To what kind of society did he say he introduced people?"

"The highest circles."

"What else did he say?"

"He said, for one thing, that to be presented at court one must be notalowest subject into a life entirely ble-at least he never takes up any but notable people. He says one doesn't need to be wealthy to secure his good

"He told you all this, did he? Now, hear what I have to say about him. To secure his attention you would have to be presented at court, but it would be the criminal court, and to do this you would need to become notable by committing a murder. The higher circles to which he would introduce you would be the angels. You would deal of concrete work this season. more likely fall into his hand being poor than rich, for the expenses of "Does wealth have anything to do defense are large, and the poor can't afford them. True enough, the sovereign who once condemned a subject to the block by a word now has no power

> ples such an important position is none other than Calcraft, the hangman." "And I said I hoped I'd meet him again!" "If you did he'd introduce you to a life from which even the king couldn't Grove and this city, returning home recall you. But I'll take care of you. Monday evening. I know some nice people here."

cottage construction, in Portland, bringing in a dandy pair of twine. was out the Fourth, for the day.

Clatekanie, for 8 years, was up to spend the Fourth here and at Lau rel with his relatives. He says the logging camps are about all shut down for the present. The Benson people cut about 60 mil-lions feet of logs, annually.

Dr. J. B. Norman and wife, of California, Mo., guests of Wm. Tip ton and family. Dr. Norman has not seen his brother in-law, for 23 years. They left this evening for Seattle. Their daughter will teach in the Hillsboro public schools this coming term.

Fred Frietag, a young fellow orking for Wm. Meierjergen, four miles northeast of Hillsboro, had his hand badly lacerated by getting it into a pulley the other day. Dr. F. A. Bailey amputated one of the fingers on his right hand near the firet joint.

E. B. Tongue, District Attorney, and wife, who have been at Astoria for two weeks, during the session of circuit court, returned home Friday afternoon, to remain until after the Fourth.

The little 18 months old daughter of Peter Vandenberg, of near Roy, fell, Tuesday, from the steps of the house, and broke her right forearm, just above the wrist Dr. F. A. Bailey reduced the fracture.

J Loren Wigle and wife, of Portand, were out the Fourth, guests of Leo Perkins and wife. Mrs. Wigle is well known here as a girl. Miss Gertrude Kendall.

Bring your watches and clocks to Libby, for prompt and skillful repairing Corner Main and Third streete. 49tf

W. E. Taylor has the contract for putting in the concrete floor in the basement of the school house. He is running as high as nine men, and has been putting in a great

J. H. McFee and wife, of Cooper, Cal., which is nearly 8000 feet above sea level, are spending the Summer with the family of E. C. Mulloy, of Laurel. They like Oregon immensely.

M. F. Peters and wife, and Miss Fay Williams came up from Rainier the last of the week, and visit ed with relatives at Banks, Forest

D. B Lusby, who has spent 37 years in the Greenville-Mountain-Fred D Adams, now foreman on dale section, was in on the Fourth, along with his family.

There is no greater satisfaction in having than to have a mower that is hauled very easily and that cuts evenly.

The Champion draw cut mower cuts evenly, gets all the grass, and is so light in draft that it is practically no work at all for the horses to haul it. It is a draw cut machine; that is, the cutter bor is drawn along over the ground-not pushed.

Drawing the cutter har gives the Champion mower its greater cutting power.

Besides light draft and greater cutting power the Champion mower has exceptional strength and durability, is easy to operate, and has devices to prevent and take up wear when necessary.

The cutter bar on this machine has adjustments for aligning the knife and keeping the knife properly registered.

On the driving shafts the bushings are held in place by means of set screws.

There are ample oiling facilities and all oiling places are arranged in the best manner to get the oil to the bearings.

Is an all steel rake like the Champion machines-is exception lly durable, convenient, and easy to handle. This rake is well adapted for raking all conditions of hay. It rakes clean, dumps quickly and the teeth return to the ground promptly after they have passed the windrow. This leaves the hay neat and compact for taking up with a hayloader, or bunching with a rake, and for cocking with a fork. The Champion self-dump rake is equipped with a lock lever so that the teeth may be locked down to make large windrows or to bunch without effort.

NELSON HARDWARE CO., HILLSBORD, O

N. H. Jones, of Vinelands, was Oliver and Carl Huston, well of near Farmington, were up to down to the city the first of the known here, were out spending the the city Saturday. Mr. Mechan is Donelson. This is one of the rest last Thursday, died the b Thos Madison and T. C. Meehan, est homes in the city.

WOOK.

This pump is compactly with free waterways and acting, adapting it to value poses, such as forcing we different parts of building, ling lawns and fire protected

ling lawns and fire prote

It is the best deep of it well or eistern pumponter for the money, and may with windmill head and her when desired. Capacity lons per hour.

The Champion Leads Them All.

