BANK'S BATTERS BEAT HILLSBORO BY PINCH

A Game That Warmed the Hearts of The Baseball Fans

Urbane and Unterrified Regulars Clean up Locals

It was a game fit for the gods of freedom—the cleanest, prettiest and most sensational ever seen here—and the score was 3 to 2 in favor of the Dairy Creek denizens. It was a great game—a great game—ten innings of breath holding, fasting and prayer—a great game, such as you will not see once in a hundred times with amateurs on a diamond. Banks had the goods, and they played like demons even after they thought they had lost the game. But wasn't it a great game—and who could be sore if their home team did lose after that exhibition of baseball?

Nothing doing the first two innings. In the third, Ingram, first up lined out a single and made second on Wilson's error and came rumpling home on Wilson's second error of Brown's throw to catch Bunsen at second. The Cardinals second score came in the sixth—Wilkes was passed; Phelps neatly sacrificed him to second, and came galloping in on Moore's drive hit inside the third baseline—and right here the Cardinals rested their case. It looked like a cinch—two to 0. Old Banks got busy in the lucky seventh. Every man on the team took a bracer and every man filled with electricity and got the shock to working in good shape. Pitcher Carstens made first on Wilkes' fumble; stole second on Bullock's out, and raced like a wolf, crossing the plate, scoring on Wunderlich's Texas leaguer to right field. In the eighth, Schlegel singled and advanced to third on Chaffin's out, and came home on a dandy "squeeze" play. This tied the score, and neither side scored in the ninth. In the Cardinals' half of the tenth there was no result save a nipper, with the rim knocked off, at that. The Banks batters then went into win—Wilson fanned; Brown was hit by a pitched ball, reached third on a passed ball and scored on Tauscher's fumble of Schlegel's grounder.

Fully 700 people witnessed the game and no two teams ever played more evenly—ten innings—and a great game! Schlegel really won that game for Banks through robbing Ingram of a hit by a league seasonal catch—running, one-handed—in the ninth, and he also robbed the Cardinals of a score in the third by a great running catch of Tauscher's hit.

Carstens pitched in great form, and Williams was in fine fettle. Banks' catcher was all to the good—well, gold-darn it—they were all good.

Batteries—Banks, Clell Carstens and Chaffin; Cardinals, Williams and Phelps. This is the score book:

Green Hale, wife and daughter, Miss Alois, are out from Portland for their annual Summer outing at Alder Camp, a mile west of town. Mr. Hale reserved this tract when he sold to Haines et als.

The sawmill is running full time these days, and also keeps its planer humming night. Mr. Hale will have a big run this season, and thinks the county will see the 100,000 million feet mark this year, considerably.

We have now finished our run of Building Blocks and have a good supply on the yard. We will have a supply of brick on hand by the 20th of June. We will begin our run of large tile, 10 inch and over, about June 15. Parties wanting these sizes must order them by July 1, as we cannot afford to carry them in stock, so do not blame us if we have none when you call for them later. We expect to have a full stock of smaller sizes the latter part of July. We have 3 in., 4 in. and 6 in. on hand at present. Phone, before you come for tile, as this stock may be out any time. We burn our tile and brick hard, as wood is no object with us. Don't forget that we carry a good line of rough and dressed lumber, and can fill any ordinary bill from our yard stock. We also have a quantity of lumber at Hare's switch that we will sell at a very reasonable figure, 1x4, 1x6, 1x8, 2x4, 2x6 and 2x12 of different lengths, all surfaced and sized, except the 2x12. This is all good lumber and is all stacked, so it is very dry. If you can use lumber of these dimensions, it will pay you to look it up.—Groner & Rowell Co.

John M. Wall has filed an information against Louie and Will Wolfe, two brothers, and who are sons of Mrs. Bahr, alleging larceny by bailie. Wall claims he had a chattel mortgage on some property, including 4 cows, 2 hifers, a mare and some harness, and alleges that the Wolfes got rid of the property without releasing the chattel. The suit is before County Judge Goodin as sitting magistrate.

J. C. Miller, of above Glencoe, was in Monday, on probate business, and says the rains will help the potato crop on the hill, just planted, immensely. Potatoes will not again need rain until late in September or the first of October to insure a fine crop of Burbanks. "Up there" is where they raise them.

Mrs. Willis and daughters, Mrs. J. R. Beagle and Mrs. Mae Dobbs, of Alaska, all of whom are well known here, have rented the Crandall home for the summer, and will remain until Fall before returning to Alaska. They have many friends in this city who will be pleased to renew "old acquaintances."

J. E. McNamara and wife, and H. E. Potter and wife, came out Monday and went on out to Meacham's for a fortnight's camping trip. Mr. Potter is in the real estate business. McNamara is now with Glass & Prudhomme.

Joe Galbreath, of Cipole, a new station on the Oregon Electric, was up from below Tualatin, Monday. His father settled down there in 1852, when Joseph was but a few months old, and had just chaperoned the parents across the plains via the ox team route.

For a good wholesome meal home cooking, and courteous treatment, call on the City Restaurant, Second St., Opposite P. R. & N. office Rooms for transient, 25 and 15, cents. Board and lodging, per week, $4.50.—Mrs. H. Luecher.

Harry Cook, an old timer, and who has been one of the fastest of ball players in his day, was in Monday, from Cornelius, and talks of going into the Coeur d'Alene and take up some government land.

A Mr. Klink and wife, of South Dakota, were out Sunday, from Portland, guests of Mrs. Klink's uncle, W. G. Hager. Frank Hager and wife, of Portland, were also guests at the Hager home.

N. A. Barrett, with the Mitchell-Lewis Staver Co., for many years was in town the last of the week, just returning from a trip to Tillamook. N. A. was in business here several years ago.

Thos Murphy, who has been up above Mountaineer for over 22 years, and who had to cut his way on a trail to his place when he went in, was down to the county seat Monday.

Attorneys Malarkey and Dan Malarkey were out from Portland, Monday, in court in the matter of the estate of Jas. McNulty, a Sherwood resident who died some year or so ago.

Frank Pabli, who has been visiting with his daughter, Mrs. Grant Downing, at Summit, beyond Corvallis, on the Corvallis & Yaquina road, has returned to Hillsboro.

CONTRACTOR SWEENEY IN THE CITY SATURDAY

Expects Soon to Have 2,000 Men at Work, on Line

HERE FIGHTING SALOON LICENSES

Did not Want Them too Close to Labor Camps

Contractor Sweeney, who has the construction of the P. R. & N. from the Buxton end clear through to the completed end at Tillamook, was in town Saturday, his mission being to see that no saloons were installed in Galea Creek precinct. Baker and Foster and another party had secured a majority of the voters of the precinct, asking for saloon license, and it was the intention to start them up near the railroad line.

Mr. Sweeney heard of the proposition, and started some remonstrances out with the result that every one who had signed the petitions signed the remonstrances. The outcome was more remonstrances than original signers, and the county court turned down both petitions. The law says that if a man sign the petition and remonstrance the remonstrance signature shall count as one, while the signature of the party will not count on the petition.

Mr. Sweeney says that he will soon have 2,000 men at work. He now has 400 busy on this end of the line, and about 500 on the Tillamook end. Much of the right of way must be logged and then cleared, and it means a big undertaking. The logs will be hauled out by the first trains that operate over the rails, regardless of whether they are material or regular trains.

L. E. WALDRON

Lester E. Waldron, who owned the Grant Holcomb ranch, beyond West Union, died at the Good Samaritan Hospital, the last of the week, and the remains were brought to Hillsboro for interment, the funeral being held Sunday. He was aged 41 years. His mother, Mrs. Carrie Waldron, died in this city, May 10. Waldron was a bachelor, and died from tubercular meningitis. He, with his mother, owned 75 acres, 47 of which is cleared. Rev. A. B. Ory preached the funeral service, and commented on the fact that not a relative was present. His nearest relative is a sister, who lives somewhere near Chicago. The body was laid away by the side of his mother, in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.

NOTICE TO FRUIT DEALERS

Dealers in fruit of all kinds are hereby warned to neither buy nor sell diseased fruit of any nature whatsoever, where such fruit shall be infested with San Jose scale or codling moth, and if such diseased fruit shall be found on the premises of any dealer the same shall be confiscated and destroyed as per authority of law. Growers of fruit are also notified that they shall under no circumstances sell diseased fruit as above set forth.

Notice to the Public

Anyone cutting any timber of any kind on the Alfred Alberts place, above Glencoe, will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Alfred Alberts, Emma Alberts, San Francisco, Cal., July 1, 1909

Two old gentlemen and their families left Saturday morning, bright and early, in a prairie schooner, to spend a few weeks at Netarts, Little Neetucca, and other camping resorts, to recuperate. While gone they will endeavor to find the Fountain of Youth, and when they reach Netarts they expect to take daily ablutions—that means bathing, of course—in the Pacific, which Balboa discovered some time before the old primary law went into effect. Anyway, they are out on a good time, and one of them is Ed. Wann, with Wiley's resort, and the other is the left-hander for the Cardinals—Thos. Williams. Their wives will endeavor to keep them straight, and the Argus will be their Sunday school lesson while absent.

W. H. Stratton, fruit inspector and A. Benson, who represented Cornelius at the Pythian Grand Lodge, Pendleton, recently, were down from the city without debts and money in the treasury, Friday.

Green's for jolly glasses.

David Rice was up from Sebolla, Monday morning.

Born, July 10, 1909, to the wife of Ernest Foord, of Oak Street, a son.

Louie and Frank Pezdolt, of Phillips, were in the county seat Saturday.

Peter Vanderberg, of Centerville, was in the city Saturday, and called on the Argus.

Alf. Guerber, the pioneer of Helvetia, and who is running a fine dairy, was in Saturday.

Louie Rood departed the first of the week for an outing at Newport, and will be absent several days.

Michael Rasmussen, of Beaverton, was in town Saturday. Mr. Rasmussen is owner of a fine ranch in his section.

If E. L. Parr, now of Camas, Wash., will call at Argus he will be given his leather wallet, found on county road, near Hillsboro.

C. Walter, the Glencoe blacksmith, and who always has all he can do in his finely appointed shop—and then some—was in Saturday.

Paul Landauer, of West Union, was in Saturday, and says his Winter wheat will sure go 30 bushels or more to the acre, and that Winter oats in his section are fine.

Frank Holcomb, of West Union, was in Saturday, with a three year old gelding not in the best of flesh, which tips the beams at 1,707 Washington County for big horses, every time.

S. F. Goodwin, recently purchaser of the Hal. Taylor place, was in town Saturday, and says the valley beats old Umatilla County, anyway, and he is pleased with his location.

H. Deutchmann, who has been with the Hillsboro Horse Co., for some months, has departed for an extended visit with relatives in Haarlem, Holland. He expects to be absent three months.

For sale: 12 H. P. Russell engine and 6x18 Hartrampf feed chopper, mounted on trucks, good condition. Will sell at a bargain, or will accept small team and money in exchange.—Geo. McGraw, Banks, Ore. 18 20

Fred Hamel, of West Union, was in Saturday. He and Frank Holcomb have bought Lord Kitchener, the standard bred stallion, with a mark of 2.24, and a public trial of 2:19. The purchase is out of Zombro, 2:11, he by McKinney, 2:14. Frank Holcomb will manage him.

Ferd Hartrampf has the agency for the famous McCormick binders, mowers, hay rakes, tedders and all kinds of farm machinery. Do not fail to see him, if you need farm implements of this kind. Also sells the International gasoline engine pumps. Come and see him. 13 tf

A. C. Harrison, whose father settled on Dairy Creek, above Mountaineer, near Roy, in 1846, was here from Astoria, where he runs a machine shop, Sunday. He is a brother of John Harrison, whom all the old timers know. Mr. Harrison left here for the city by the sea in 1879.

State Land Agent Applegate, father of Jesse Applegate, with Wilkes Bros.' Abstract Co., was here, Sunday, the guest of his son. He succeeds Chas. Galloway, who is on the tax commission. Mr. Applegate is a Southern Oregon man, and of a pioneer family, and is an appointee of Gov. Benson.

The Knights of Pythias have sent to the printer the bonds for their new two story buildings, which is soon to be built on Second Street. The bonds will be in denominations of $100, and there will be sixty bonds. The money is already on hand, but many of the members of the order will take a block of the issue.

A trip to South Tualatin the first of the week revealed a splendid grain condition, and the rains of early in the month have done wonders in making promise of a great yield. On all of the ranches where Winter wheat and oats are sown there will be a big yield—probably the largest for ten or twelve years. The grain, just filling, and some just turning, is a beautiful sight, and nowhere in the Willamette Valley is found a comparison to Washington County outlook.

Sister Pancretius, Spokane, Sister Mary Mt. Carmel, Walls, Walla, Walla, and Sister Margaret Moore, Everett, Wash., came last Friday and visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Moore. All are sisters of the Catholic faith, and they were at Vancouver, Wash., Thursday, on church affairs, and received permission to take a day's vacation at home. There are few families who have three children whose lives are consecrated to the welfare of a religion. They remained until Saturday evening.

Emil Kuratli writes that he is now at Canton Berne, Switzerland, at the home of his wife's aunt.

If you want a house moved, or carpenter repairing, call on M. C. Hewitt. First class work. Country work solicited.—M. C. Hewitt, Hillsboro.

H. H. Hall, of Shady Brook, returned Monday from a trip down in the Kelo country, where he visited his son, Al., at Carrollton. He says this county looks the best to him.

Wanted: Man to cut about sixteen cords of fir and ash wood, four foot lengths. Inquire of Wm. Hildebrand, on Thos. Connell place, West of Hillsboro. 16 8

Eli Pos, of Cornelius, moved down Monday. "You bet I can just see old Hillsboro grow, both in population and improvement, every time I come down. You've got a good town," he said.

Four foot fir wood delivered in any quantity in city. Per cord, $3.25 and 3.50, as per quality. Also have ash wood. Give your orders now. Leave at Heidelberg's real estate office. F. G. Heidel, Hillsboro. 14 tf

Perry Ellis and wife, of Hillsdale, passed through the city Friday, enroute to Crystal Springs, a resort owned by Mr. Ellis, above Galea Creek. He has a spring that has curative waters, and an ideal place it is for camping purposes. Next week he will take in a party from San Francisco, who will try camping for a time. Ellis has his own team and meets parties wishing to camp at Forest Grove. The Argus will follow Mr. Ellis to Galea Creek during his sojourn.

FRUIT INSPECTOR WARNS THE DEALERS

Must not Offer Diseased Fruit for Sale, at any Time

GROWERS ARE ALSO NOTIFIED

Will Confiscate and Sell Sealy Fruit as per Law

W. H. Stratton, of Cornelius, and who is county fruit inspector, was in town Friday, and is commencing his campaign early against fruit which is infested with San Jose scale or codling moth. He will be active from this time on—as early apples are now coming into the market—and if he shall find any diseased pippins he will confiscate and destroy, according to the statute. In his notice to dealers and growers, which is in another place in this issue, he warns the grower as well as the seller.

Mr. Stratton says the county is more free from pests than usual, but that the only way to get improved fruit is to follow the letter of law. He thinks it is poor business policy for anyone to neglect his fruit trees, when good fruit sells well, and diseased fruit is barred from the market.
