The tariff bill, as sent back to the house by the senate will not meet the approval of progressive men of any party, and it has the opposition of the real intelligence of both parties. It is not likely that Taft will veto the measure—but that is what is wanted by the majority of Americans.

Mr. Withycombe says Washington County leads all others in the state in point of crop outlook. He knows, for he is a close observer, and has travelled extensively over the Valley. Washington County is the best—always.

The Deacon Rather Likes July June's all right for brides, But give me of July. With wavin' fields of grain so tall That bend with wheat an' rye. An' bring your men 'ry back to days When you was young an' spry.

June's the month for kids An' those who yet are young— But give me the days with promise full, Jes' like some song that's sung. An' takes you back full fifty years, An' softens heart an' tongue.

June's all right, in course, But give me of July. With yell'er streaks among the green In grain that stands so high— Ah! smell o' hay, the whole dern day— Whoop! Give me o' July!

We now have a good supply of good hard burned brick, and building blocks for cellars and foundations. Try our building blocks for your house foundations. Cheaper than cement or brick and better protection against frost. We have finished our run of large tile and are again running on smaller sizes, and have a fair supply at the yard. Parties wanting tile delivered should place their orders now so we can haul them before bad weather. There is always a rush of hauling orders in the Fall when roads are almost impassable. We have a good supply of rough and dressed lumber at our mill, and a quantity of common lumber at the Hase spur, below Newton, the latter to sell at a sacrifice—2x12, 2x8, 2x6, 2x4, 1x10, 1x8, 1x6 and 1x4 of various lengths. This is all good dry stock, and it will pay you to investigate should you want any of these dimensions—Groner & Rowell Co., Scholle, Hillsboro, R. 2.

Revel: Evangelist McConnell during the five years he was in the work made a record of bringing more people in to the church than any other one man in the Northwest. All should make use of this chance to hear such a man. He uses no abuse, but wins people in a Christ-like way.—G. A. Webb, song leader.

Henry Reynolds, of Wasco, Minn., was the guest of S. D. Powell and wife, today. He leaves at once for Wilson Creek, Wash., to visit his sons, one of whom is in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Powell.

Slow Chap. Pearl-Jack is the biggest goose I ever saw in my life. Ruby—What now, dear? Pearl—Why, my chaperon lost her glasses last night when we were making love and he actually helped to find them for her.—St. Louis Republic.

Delicately Put. "The first day out was perfectly lovely," said the young lady just back from abroad. "The water was as smooth as glass, and it was simply gorgeous. But the second day was rough and—decidedly disagreeous!"—Everybody's Magazine.

All Rare. "I had a rare coin stolen last night." "Didn't know you were a collector. What was the coin?" "A dollar." "Worth much?" "Worth 100 cents anywhere."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Real Thing. "I see that one of our statesmen has said that the ultimate consumer is a myth." "Mebbe so, but I guess the bills he gets every month are the real thing."—Detroit Free Press.

The Explanation. "I got a lickin' for borrowin' a quarter from Skinny yesterday." "How's that?" "Well, I had it t' knock him down afore he'd lend it me."—Princeton Tiger.

Mind Reading. Charlie Loveday—Um—ah—er—er—er He—he— Jowler (to his assistant)—Bring that tray of engagement rings here, Henry.—Tit-Bits.

Real Joy. The auto collided and turned over flat. While the motors kept buzzing and hissing. His ankle was wrenched, but he didn't mind that. Nor the several front teeth that were missing. He smiled when they wrapped him in plaster and splints. And said in a manner confiding: "It's what we expect in these fifty mile sprinta. Oh, there's nothing so gay as 'joy riding'!"

HER CHOICE.

The Man She Did Not Pick and What He Discovered.

By CLARISSA MACKIE.

(Copyright, 1908, by the Mail and Express Company.)

Beth Lewis was lost. On every side were sand and crisp brown vegetation and the hopelessness of the Arizona desert. Overhead were a cloudless blue sky and a burning sun.

Beth's red lips closed resolutely as she urged her tired horse along the faintly defined trail which had led her astray.

"We will make for that little canyon, Lightfoot—that little break in the rise beyond," said Beth, stroking the shiny black mane. "Perhaps—perhaps—there will be shade and water for us there."

When miles of burning sand had been traversed she rode down the dry bed of a water course and into the small canyon. Her heart sank, for there was nothing save an expanse of shimmering sand and some tall, spiny cactus on the steep, rocky sides.

But the large leaved cactuses might afford some shelter from the sun, and she urged Lightfoot to the edge of the shimmering sand. There he paused and snorted shrilly. Another step and his feet sank in the yielding sand.

With a scream of terror the beast settled back on his haunches and then made an ineffectual leap forward.

Beth shot over his head and fell a crumpled heap on the ground beyond the outer circle of shimmering sand.

When she recovered consciousness Lightfoot was struggling shuddering deep in the quicksand, his strained eyes turned in agony upon her face.

She turned away and sobbed her helplessness into her hands. When she looked again there was nothing save the yellow sand undulating in the sunlight.

How horrible it was! If Lightfoot had not tossed her over his head into an eyes at the crawling, beckoning shifting particles of sand at his feet. Death by that slow torture would be—"Will your mare make it?" repeated Buck impatiently.

"Sure to," responded Bailey, tightening his rein with a jerk. "Ready, then," said Hayden. "I'll stand by, Jud—remember that!"

With a muttered ejaculation of terror, Judson Bailey wheeled his horse and spurred toward the canyon's mouth. In a minute he had disappeared from view.

"I'll have to come after you anyway, Beth," said Buck quietly. She watched with bated breath as the sorrel sprang forward and then sank on the opposite side with scrambling feet.

Again the sorrel hovered over the quicksand and once more clattered to a footing, and then slowly, with Beth before him in the saddle, Buck Hayden rode out of the canyon with miserable eyes fixed straight ahead, unseeing, unhearing.

The heavens were thick with stars when they neared the ranch house, and then for the first time Buck addressed the girl sitting rigidly silent before him, her bright hair so near to his beating heart.

"I'm sorry about what happened, Beth," he said in a low voice. "If ever I catch up with that coyote I'll—"

A soft hand covered his lips. "Let him alone, Buck," whispered Beth. "I am ashamed to tell you how selfish I am, but I chose Judson because—"

She paused, and the rest of the sentence was whispered within Buck Hayden's encircling arms.
