The whimpering whimsicality the Independent, fatigued from trying to stampee support to itself by long winded editorials on politics, advising non-support of other papers, is now trying another tack to the windward by attempting to make it appear that the Argus is "throwing it into" recent arrivals. This palpable falsehood is amusing. The only "recent one" that has tried to claim all ideas for which the good people of Hillsboro have been working for years is the curiosity on the paper that cries so much and tries so hard to be an "organ." All other "recent ones" are graced with better sense. Whimper again--and do not worry about the Argus.

J. C. Miller who has seven acres of prunes up at the Arcade school house, was in town yesterday, accompanied by his wife.

Abs Sipp, of Mountaineer, has brought suit in circuit court against Paul Barkley, on a promissory note in the sum of $350, and attachment proceedings have been invoked.

Miss Bernice Schooning of Portland was given a farewell party at the Hale Springs last evening, the hostess being Mrs. H. T. Bagley. Miss Schooning departed for Waitsburg this evening.

Mrs. Susan Brown, Miss Mary Brown, Mrs. W. D. Wood and Master James Wood went to Buxton yesterday for a short visit with the Folletts, who are camping at that point.

Grant Landess has purchased the Lane confectionery, and will hold a big opening, Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Landess are well and favorably known here, and their many friends wish them success.

Elder J. A. Campbell, a Hillsboro favorite for years, in the pulpit, and on the roster, was in the city today, from Portland. Mr. Campbell is slowly recovering from a paralytic stroke, suffered some months ago.

Emma Knox sues Robert A. Knox for divorce, alleging non support and intoxication. They were married at Wellington, Canada, a town at one end of the famous Wellington canal, in 1883, and lived together until 1901. There are no property rights to determine and no minor children.

Cleophas Gerber, who lived 19 years at Phillips, and who has been at Page, Wash., the past year, was in town today. He leaves Sept 14 for Switzerland, to join his wife and four children, and his mother whom he has not seen for 22 years. He expects to remain permanently in the old country.

THE DEACON'S DAY.

By M. QUAD.

(Copyrighted, 1909, by Associated Literary Press.)

Deacon Hardstone of Riverton was a good man. He was a man of years and dignity. He was a man always to be found on the side of law and order and charity. The only thing in this world that troubled him and his good wife was the fact that they had a nephew over at Saltville who was a loud young man. Money had been left him by an aunt, and he spent. He not only sported at home, and devoted the protests of his widowed mother, but he came over to Riverton and sported there. The deacon struggled and struggled with him, but it did no good. He would drink cocktails, and he would spend his auto around the town and on the highways, and finally he was ordered out of the deacon's house and told never to return. Then the sporty youth began to study how to get even.

Now, the deacon had a weakness for sweet cider, though he didn't go telling it around. When cider making time came he carted apples to the mill and had one barrel of cider made--never more. The cider would retain its sweetness for about a month. When it began to get an edge on it, it was provided with "mother" and rolled aside to become vinegar.

Of course this little one barreled affair was known to the nephew, and after a little thought he saw his way clear. When the apples and the barrel had been taken to the mill he had the aid of the owner of the mill, but that has never been satisfactorily settled. There are thirty-two gallons of cider in the average barrel. How many gallons of something else went into the barrel has not yet been solved by Sherlock Holmes. It was sufficient, no matter what the number.

When the deacon went after his barrel it was ready for him, and never did a cider barrel look more innocent. It was rolled down cellar to cool and was not tapped until the afternoon of the next day. Then the deacon's wife went out to visit a neighbor, and he put a spigot in the barrel and drew a glass to drink. He had been drinking cider for twenty-three years, but never

GRANT WINS FROM ROARK

L. A. Grant, of the Commercial hotel, Hillsboro, won the wrestling match in two straight falls from O. A. Roark, of Bay City, Mich., at the Crescent theatre, last night. The Michigan man was at his best but he was simply outclassed from a scientific standpoint. After nineteen minutes of muscle straining Grant put Roark to the mat for the first fall by a clever Half Nelson and crotch hold. The second fall was not won so easily, however, for it took Grant 12 minutes to put his opponent to the floor. Dr. Pittenger acted as referee.

TEN ROUND CONTEST.

There will be a ten round boxing exhibition Saturday evening, September 4, when Kid Scaler, of Spokane, will box, for points, an unknown, from California, who is under the tutelage of Thos. Tracy, well known to all Washington county sport lovers. If this contest receives sufficient patronage there will be other matches following.
