Hillsboro is to have a street fair, and the business men are offering prizes which will at least pay prize winners for a part of the time lost—not lost, but indulged. The Argus has always been more than willing to tell the world what we can raise in the way of stock or products, and it now asks the farmers to bring in their livestock and farm and fruit products. All stock will be fed and cared for at no expense to the owners. Farmers, come in and help make the street fair a success—show the world what you can do. It's bound, now, to be a red letter fair—and we want you to be represented. Local pride will be stimulated, and a grand fair will do much toward building up the new best county in the state.

The poor old Independent insinuates that the Argus has a "boss." Wouldn't that make you dizzy? For a matter of charity the Independent might tell us who the "boss" is, and where he "puts up at." Our friend is certainly getting "woozy."

FANDOM AND DUMDUM. It was a great game at Forest Grove, Sunday, and the game at Athletic Park, this coming Sunday, should be a crack-a-jack. Druhot's compliment that the boys played as fine amateur ball as he ever witnessed was well deserved. No matter who discovered the North Pole all Washington county baseball fans are satisfied that "Old Hoss" Harry Cook of Cornelia, is the man who discovered third base and put it on the baseball diamond. The Colts are coming down Sunday determined to win the second game of the series. Fitchener, for the Colts, and Druhot, for the Cardinals, pitched great ball at the college city. A five-hit, two-hit game was worth while any diamond in the country. Little Phelps had the wig and the game, Sunday, in fine control. It was a dandy crowd of rosters that went up to Forest Grove last Sunday, and Forest Grove intends returning the compliment. Both teams expect to win Sunday—but they can't.

Umpire Roy Cook will come down to see the game at Athletic park. If Manager Moore isn't satisfied with the way the Cardinals played, Sunday—but that smile betrays it.

FARMERS, ATTENTION!

Editor Argus:—As Secretary of the Livestock and Agricultural Committee of the Washington County Fair, I would ask you to please request the farmers of our County to select the best of their crops in grains, grasses, and vegetables and hold them for display and prizes at the Fair. Those that have already threshed, we would be glad to have them display their grains in quart Mason jars. As Washington County is first in dairying we would be glad to have as many cows as can be spared and the committee will look after the feeding and care of them and also award substantial prizes for the best in the different classes. Every man interested in the welfare of Washington County should have enough personal pride to send some of his products and live stock to show to the outside world that Washington County is all it claims to be. N. H. Alexander, Sec. Livestock and Agricultural Committee. Thomas Connell, Chairman.

"This sun 'll peel you, stranger, if you don't get out of it." "I hope so," crossing his arms complacently over his breast. The native studied Mr. Glibbery for a moment. "If it ain't pryin' into your affairs too much I'd like to know what you are paradin' around in this kilkin' sun dressed like that for?" "To save time," answered Mr. Glibbery, critically examining a red arm. The native regarded Mr. Glibbery profoundly, sadly shook his head, tapped his forehead significantly and clucked to his horse. Uncle Hoffin was being almost worried to death by the persistent attentions of a local life insurance agent, and when the fellow called upon him for about the thousandth time he suddenly wheeled around in his chair and demanded: "Is your life insured?" "Of course, sir." "In case of your death who benefits?" "My wife, sir." "If I send your wife to me?" "Rather puzzled, the agent withdrew, but being a man who did not stick at trifles, he persuaded his wife to call on uncle.

"Mrs. Jones," remarked the old swell when the lady called, "I understand your husband's life is insured?" "That is so, Mr. Hoffin." "And that you would be entitled to claim in the event of his death?" "Certainly, Mr. Hoffin." "Then, madam, if you can prevail upon your husband to visit me once more—only once, mind—I'll see you don't have long to wait for your money. That's all. Good morning." The insurance agent didn't call again.—Half Holiday.
