

President Taft to Visit the A.-Y.-P. Exposition Sept. 29 to Oct. 1.

THE PRESIDENT WILL ADDRESS A MONSTER CROWD IN THE NATURAL AMPHITHEATRE DURING HIS VISIT TO THE EXPOSITION.

PRESIDENT WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT is to be the principal actor in a varied interesting program, which awaits him upon his arrival at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition in Seattle from September 29 to October 1. From the moment Bill Taft sets foot on the paved walks of the exposition he will have to hurry to keep pace with the various events in which he is scheduled to take part. His activities will have a wide range, too. And, then, the president's good nature is proverbial and his lieutenants have sent on word that the president will do his part to make the day a big success. His most formal appearance on the exposition grounds will be at a reception in the Washington state building at the official banquet. Following in line will be his initiation into the Arctic Brotherhood, the Alaska fraternal association. The president will also find time to address a monster crowd in the Natural Amphitheatre, mush down the Pay Streak, attend an elaborate luncheon, visit the United States government buildings and the Igorrote village.

September 30 at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition will be one of the president's busiest days in the west and the people will be given every opportunity to see and hear him during his visit to the fair.

CONDENSER CLOSES AT HILLSBORO PLANT

Will not Open for Thirty Days—Possibly not Then

WILL OVERHAUL PLANT AND REPAIR

Understood That There Must be More Patronage

Manager Paterson closed down the Hillsboro Condensed Milk Plant Monday morning, throwing out of employment a large number of people. The plant will not be in operation for the next thirty days or such a matter, and, it is understood, will not reopen unless there is a larger patronage upon the part of dairymen and farmers.

As the matter now stands it is alleged by those who speak to know—although Mr. Paterson was non committal on the subject—that the intake of milk is not sufficient to operate the plant on a basis of profit, and the company takes this time to put in extensive repairs, and will open again only when the milk supply is greater than it has been the past few months.

A large part of the shortage of the milk supply is due to the fact that there is a big war on unsanitary milk in Multnomah county, and many of the dairies on the Columbia River have been declared unsanitary. The Portland cream users have been scouring Washington County for cream and many dairymen have left the condenser for one cause or another, and allege that the Portland prices give them a better profit for their product.

If this section ships exclusively to Portland and there should be a drop in prices there is no question but what many will return to shipping to the local plant. On the other hand if the price holds up, owing to the war on the tuberculous cows of Multnomah shipment to Portland will continue. As the matter now stands it will doubtless mean no condenser in this city. But, if the Portland buyers begin to think they have a cinch, and shortweight their trade, or drop the price, or do not deal fairly, something will be doing.

GREATNESS AT HOME.

Old Joe Struthers said down to the store the other day: "It's curious what a fuss folks makes 'bout boys that went away from Corncrib Corners years ago. There's young Jack Swellington that used to 'keep recitin'. Do you know what Jack has done? He's gone to actin'! There is some that actually pay To go an' hear Jack talkin' out in public in a play! Why, he couldn't chop a cord o' hickory wood in half a year! He may fool the folks out yonder, but he ain't no hero here!"

"An' there's Erasmus Wrangle. He is mentioned as the great An' rials' legal wonder of a thrivin' west-ern state. Why, I remember well when he was that uncommon dumb He'd sit up in the cold an' read until his feet grew numb! He looked uncommon comical one mornin' in' when the male Got balky while Erasmus was a-ridin' him to school. He was a right good natured boy, though jes' a little queer. He may come it over strangers, but he ain't no hero here."

"An' there is Dustin Stax. That feller took a lucky chance An' landed in a jiffy as a leader of finance An' Tommy Scraggins, him as had sech freckles on his face. Is a military feller with brass buttons an' gold lace! It's a pity that the public, which to facts is of fine mind. Couldn't come to Corncrib Corners before makin' up its mind About the parties it selects to honor an' to cheer. They kin fool them city people, but they ain't no heroes here!"

Had the Effect.

"Yes," she said in answer to something he had said, "the old songs are very beautiful."

"Beautiful!" he exclaimed enthusiastically. "Beautiful hardly describes them. They are—they are—well, compared with them the songs of today are trash, the veriest trash."

"I agree with you, yet the old songs sometimes contain sentiments that one cannot wholly approve."

"I think you are mistaken."

"I will give you an illustration. There is John Howard Payne's 'Home, Sweet Home,' for instance. You surely do not agree with all the sentiments it contains?"

"Why not?" he asked warmly. "Why not?"

"Because," she said, glancing at the clock, which was marking the hour of 11—"because there is a line in that song which says 'There's no place like home.' You do not believe that, do you?"

Then he coughed a hollow cough and arose and went silently out into the night.

She is So Sensitive.

"I wish some persons weren't so all-fired sensitive and ready to see an insult when none is intended," remarked the man with the troubled look, looking for sympathy. "Now, last night I got myself into an awkward fix just trying to be agreeable and to please everybody. I went to see a young lady I think a great deal of—yes, I do think a great deal of her, but I wish she would be more sensible. Girl friend of hers was there, and it was her first visit since she'd sent a crazy looking, good for nothing decorated cup and saucer with scalloped edges as a birthday gift.

"When I was out shopping," the girl friend explained, "and saw that cup and saucer I just thought of you, Marguerite."

"How? Hand painted, isn't it?"

"Now, the recipient's complexion is natural, as any one can see, and there was no reason for her to be so chilly toward me the rest of the evening. Hang such sensitiveness!"—New York Telegram.

A WONDERFUL INVENTION

Invented by A. W. Arnold

An Automatic Damper which controls the fire in a stove or furnace. Economizes from 25 to 50 per cent of fuel and is a wonderful convenience.

So very simple and so very effective. Will never get out of order and will never fail to work.

The Safety and Economy Damper Company is now fully organized under the laws of Oregon with a capital stock of $100,000.00, divided into 100,000 shares at $1.00 each. This company owns all of the United States rights under these valuable patents and the stock of the company will be worth many times its par value in a short time for it will pay enormous dividends in this low capitalization.

We are co-operating with J. M. Kerr, of Portland, Oregon, in demonstrating this damper and taking subscriptions for the stock as we consider it the greatest thing we have ever seen. We have invested money in the stock and are glad to ask our friends to invest in it. We are also taking orders for the dampers for future delivery as we want to receive one of the first shipments of the dampers and we hope to see Hillsboro raise a good portion of the money to finance the enterprise.

Come and see a demonstration, do not fail for it is a little wonder.

Do not fail to buy some of this Stock while you have a chance to get in on the ground floor.

NELSON HARDWARE CO., HILLSBORO, ORE.

Scott Allen, son of Isaac Allen, of Reedville, has petitioned the county court to have himself and Carl Larsen appointed joint guardians for the old gentleman. The petition sets forth that Allen Sr. owns about $25,000 worth of property, $9,000 of which is personality. It is alleged that he is incompetent, and should have some one to attend to his business. The Allen farm rents for about $500 or $600 per annum, and is one of the best in the Reedville section. Allen is a pioneer of 1852, and is well known all over the county as the 'ole Ike.'
