FREE CLUB STARTS TO RAISE MONEY

Entertain at Crescent Theatre, October 15

Expect Great Support

Proceeds to go toward Rest Room Structure

Ladies' Coffee Club will entertain the public at the Crescent theatre on Friday evening, October 15, and the net proceeds are to be used as a fund towards building a much needed rest room, and which there has been so much agitation the past eight or ten years. The ladies have already purchased seats for the court yard, they are now up in arms to provide a rest-room where farmers may have a place to remove stains of travel when they come to the city.

Miss Lenora E. Shaw, of Lancaster, Ohio, will promote the affair, and she comes highly recommended. A full synopsis of the play will be found in another column, with a cast of those who locally take part in the entertainment. This is a very worthy proposition and should have the encouragement of the entire city.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

and Mrs. Geo. W. Schulmerich entertained a few of their friends a Thursday evening, Sept. 30, 1909, the occasion being the fifth wedding anniversary. The affair was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and cut flowers, a host and hostess sustained their reputation as splendid entertainers. H. T. Bagley performed marriage services in manner that would qualify him for the registry and Hon. W. N. Barrett delivered the presentation speech in a pleasing and handsome outclassing manner.

Yoell's orchestra was present and played during the evening. Dainty refreshments were served and the evening was made enjoyable by music and vocal and instrumental music. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames W. N. Barrett, H. Greer, Wm. Nelson, E. W. Moore, Ed. Wilkes, J. W. Connell, E. R. Cooper, J. Wilkes, H. T. Bagley, W. W. Boscow, J. H. Wilcox, Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Wood, and Mrs. A. B. Bailey, Mrs. E. A. Willie, J. R. Beagle, Mrs. L. E. Wilkes, Mrs. R. McKinney, Misses: Etta Schulmerich, Alice Wilcox, Elizabeth Milne, Laura Scoville, Rheba Wilkes, Lewa Wilkes, Edie Hendricks, Messrs. T. S. Wilkes, Hills Ireland and W. D. Smith.

HOENEL-GORDON

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gordon, Sunday, October 3, 1909, at High noon, Rev. J. R. Welch, of Orenco, officiating, when their daughter, Elizabeth, was united in marriage to Mr. Fred Hoemel, of Portland, Oregon. The bride wore cream tulle and Swiss silk, and carried a bouquet of Brides roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Anna Gordon, sister of the bride, wore blue silk and carried pink carnations. The groom was attended by Mr. Harry Murphy, of Portland. Mrs. F. Gordon, of Portland, played the wedding march, and Miss Elizabeth Couture caught the bride's bouquet.

The house was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and pink and green festoons. Dinner was served in three courses.

The presents were many and beautiful.

The following were present at the marriage:

Rev. J. R. Welch, of Orenco; Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hoemel, Mr. and Mrs. F. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. A. Couture, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Adams, Mr. T. J. Brown, Mrs. Benj. Rodgers, Misses Gladys, Ina and Inez Couture, and Master Herald and Raymond Wolf, of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gordon, J. C. Beach, Fred Gordon, Misses Nellie and Anna Gordon, of Glenwood; F. W. Schamburg, of Tualatin.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoemel departed on the evening train for a wedding tour to Seattle, British Columbia and other Sound points.

FOWLES-IBACH

William D. Fowles, of Mountaine, and Miss Pauline C. Ibach, of near Banks, were united in marriage at the home of Rev. Father F. J. Daum, Pastor of the Catholic Church at Roy, Ore., Sept. 29, 1909.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Fowles, of above Mountaine and the bride is a daughter of John Ibach and wife, well known in the Banks section.

Argus and Oregonian, $2.25.

We now have a good supply of good hard burned brick, and building blocks for cellars and foundations. Try our building blocks for your house foundations. Cheaper than cement or brick and better protection against frost. We have finished our run of large tile and are again running on smaller sizes, and have a fair supply at the yard. Parties wanting tile delivered should place their orders now so we can haul them before bad weather. There is always a rush of hauling orders in the Fall when roads are almost impassable. We have a good supply of rough and dressed lumber at our mill, and a quantity of common lumber at the Hare spur, below Newton, the latter to sell at a sacrifice—2x12, 2x8, 2x6, 2x4, 1x10, 1x8, 1x6 and 1x4, of various lengths. This is all good dry stock, and it will pay you to investigate should you want any of these dimensions—Groner & Rowell Co., Scholls, Hillsboro, R. 2.

Thos. W. Wyatt, of Eastern Oregon, has purchased the grocery and boot and shoe stock of John Dennis, corner Second and Main, and will add to these lines a general line of merchandise and gentlemen's furnishing goods. Mr. Wyatt has successfully conducted several stores over the Northwest and having sold to profit himself, in seeking for a location, concluded Hillsboro was a promising point. He and his wife will at once take up their residence in this city. The business will be known as the T. W. Wyatt Co. Mr. Dennis, who has been in business here for a number of years, will devote his time to his ranch near Newton and take a general rest—all who know Dennis know that he will "rest," in the little end of the cornucopia, of course.

Reuben Foster, well known here several years ago as bookkeeper and timekeeper with the P. R. & N., in its inception days, was in town the first of the week, the guest of H. T. Bagley. Mr. Foster's father, who resided in and was interested in property at Goble, Ore., on the Columbia, died the last of the week and the funeral took place Sunday. The father visited Hillsboro when the son worked here. Deceased leaves two sons and two daughters, all adults.

Miss Minnie Abbott returned Sunday evening from a short visit with her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Gillett, of North Bend. Miss Abbott came up on the steamer Breakwater, and only missed the Alliance a few hours. Had she sailed on the Alliance she would have experienced a rough trip as that vessel lost her rudder after leaving port and was towed the entire coast line into Astoria.

Wardell Davis, of Shady Brook, was in town Friday. Mr. Davis will have a public sale October 11 and he has some fine cows, and guarantees them to be good milkers and fine for family service. He says they can be milked by man or woman as they are very gentle. Any one wanting a good family cow would do well to visit his sale.

L. M. Miller, of Rowell Bros. & Co., and Ernest Hansen, of Scholls, passed through Saturday, from a week's hunting up at Buck Mountain, above Mountaine. They had with them a fine four year old buck, which looked as if it might dress 150 pounds. The venison was as fat as a stall fed beef and "looked good enough to eat."

Hon. Ira E. Purdin, who for years resided at Forest Grove, and who still owns a fine farm and fruit orchard north of that city, was in the city from Portland, Friday, greeting his oldtime friends. Mr. Purdin was at the Seattle Fair for a few weeks in the employ of the Oregon commission.

Contractor Moore expects to have the Pythian building completed and ready for occupancy by Nov. 15, and perhaps before. The front of the building is to have a "castle" effect, and will be an innovation in Hillsboro architecture.

For sale: Shropshire and Rambouillet rams, yearlings and lambs, all eligible to registry. Shropshires are from Canadian sires, out of English imported stock.—Ferd Groner, Scholls, Hillsboro, Rt. 2. 21 33

Married: October 1, 1909, Judge G. W. Barnes, Hillsboro, officiating. Bryon C. Baltus and Miss Ethel Weckert, both of near Middleton. Miss Ella Weckert and Ira Smock attended the wedding.

The Schiller—a 10 cent cigar, and the Grand Maros, a two for a quarter cigar, are what you want when you buy a cigar. Kept at every bar in Hillsboro. Ask for them.

A. L. Thomas, of Cornelius, and who has been connected with the Cornelius State Bank all Summer, was in town the last of the week, and called on the Argus.

Adolph Slegel, travelling for a wholesale house, spent Sunday in the city.

FINED TWENTY FIVE DOLLARS AND COSTS

Nothing Said, However, as to Neck Shave

J. H. Stream Will Appeal Case

Jury in Justice Barnes' Court Finds Law Violation

J. H. Stream, of Forest Grove, was last Friday found guilty of violating the barber law by a jury in Judge G. W. Barnes' court, and the court fined him $25 and costs. The defendant was charged with practicing tonorial work without a license or without working under the direction of a registered barber. Stream contended that he had a certificate but that he had left it somewhere in his travels. He averred, however, that he was working under a registered barber, and that this would clear him. Upon examination, however, it was said to have been ascertained that the certificate of the barber under whom he was supposed to be working expired last Spring. Stream says he will appeal to the circuit court.

Deputy Attorney T. H. Touge prosecuted and M. B. Bump defended in the absence of Judge Hollis and C. W. Idelman, defendant's attorneys. The jury: W. W. Boscow, foreman, P. M. Jackson, F. J. Sewell, C. W. Richmond, R. P. Stinson.

PRETTY SMALL BUSINESS

It's not worth while to bandy words editorially, with the News man, of Forest Grove, who kicks so strenuously about the county court giving that paltry $50 for premiums at the late street carnival—the money having been open to any stockman in the county, Forest Grove and vicinity not being excepted. It is a well established fact that the county court has been spending hundreds upon hundreds of dollars for rock on roads approaching Forest Grove, while this section has had only what it absolutely had to have. Still, the Hillsboro press has said nothing about this because it counted the expense a worthy one—and, at the same time, the road work in question was being paid for out of taxes generally—and a proper public improvement. This work was paid for out of the general tax, and not solely from contributions from the Forest Grove community. Forest Grove has a lot of broad gauge business men, but the thriving little city is always unfortunate in getting a cheap chap who always chips in with chin-chin at the wrong time. But what is to be expected from a man who wants a "neck shave" and kicks at the five pennies necessary for the polish of behind the ears.

N. P. Oakerman, of below Beaverton, was in town Monday, and is agitating by a referendum vote, the cutting off of all the land east of the township line just west of Beaverton—the eastern tier of townships, to be explicit—comprising 92 sections, into Multnomah County. The complaint is that the east end furnishes the wagon roads for all the travel into Portland and that not sufficient money is being spent on road improvement. Mr. Oakerman states that in all probability there would be no move for this project if the roads leading into Portland were placed in as good a condition as the Multnomah roads, and says that unless there is something done toward permanent road making the next election will see it put up to a vote of the people.

P. E. Gardner, of Mountaine, writes the Argus that O. A. C. has the largest Freshman class this term that he has ever witnessed there.

N. R. West, who has lived above Banks for a number of years, was down to the county seat, Tuesday, on important business at the county clerk's office.

L. Jean, of North Hillsboro, lost a pair of gold bow bifocal glasses, between Electric depot and Second and Main. Finder please leave at Argus office.

Bert Mead came down from Buxton the last of the week, and was a guest at the home of his brother, M. M. Mead, who now lives in the Hickenbottom house, Second and Oak.

S. E. Todd, son of A. B. Todd, near Dilley, and Miss Alys Cronin, daughter of P. A. Cronin, one-time city marshal of Forest Grove, were granted license to wed in Portland, Monday.

Murderer Roselair a short time ago told a visitor at the county jail that there were no 12 men in Washington County who would convict him. But Roselair's judgment was always a trifle rim-fire.

For sale: Sorrel team geldings, sound and true; 7 years old, weigh 750, new harness and new wagon—will sell altogether or separate so far as team and equipment are concerned. Also 2 year old colt, 800 pounds.—F. G. Heidel. 30 1

W. H. Galvani, consulting engineer for the Oregon Electric, and who is a frequent contributor to some of Oregon's best literature, both from academic and editorial standpoint, was in town Tuesday, on business at the Temple of Justice.

Chris. Yungen, who has been with the Amity condenser ever since its construction, is here for a vacation, visiting homefolks at Helvetia. He went over to Seattle, yesterday, to see the Fair. He was accompanied down from Helvetia, Tuesday, by his father.

John R. Bailey, of above Buxton, last week sent down two boxes of Bartlett pears to W. W. Boscow and one to the Argus reporter. They were fine samples of what can be grown in the mountain districts, when cared for as John R. cares for his trees. Mr. Bailey has one of the largest apple, prune and pear orchards in that section, and he is turning out fruit without a blemish.

When a Washington County farmer within a few miles of Hillsboro can take a little four horse "jag" of oats into Portland and return the same day and get $80.25 for his load—that's going some, and shows the value of proximity to the Northwest metropolis. That's what Fred Hamel did, Monday, and even at that Fred doesn't think a man can get rich at that of business—but he can.

G. A. Sanford and wife, of Missouri, arrived here the first of the week, and were guests at the F. M. Heidel home. Years ago Sanford published the Democrat in this city, and later published the Searchlight, at Cornelius. From here he went to St. Helens, where he conducted a hotel. Going East he remained a while in North Carolina, and later settled in Missouri, where he is conducting a hotel business at a medical springs resort. He and his wife came out to visit the Fair and incidentally visit with friends in this section of Oregon.

POSSIBLE CHANGE OF MOTIVE POWER ON S. P.

Superintendent O'Brien may Try Gasoline Engines

FREIGHTSWITCHED AT BEAVERTON

In the end the Line may be Electrified to Portland

Superintendent O'Brien will try an experiment in running trains with gasoline motors on the West Side branch as far west as Forest Grove, just as soon as the Beaverton-Willsburg cut-off is finished. The freight trains will then be run into Portland via Beaverton and Willsburg, crossing on the new steel bridge at the latter place. Portland is raising a great roar because of so many engines passing up and down Fourth Street, and the company wishes to evade the grades, anyway. If the gasoline engines, which are now enroute from the Omaha Union Pacific shops, prove a failure, the line from McMinnville to Portland will no doubt be electrified and the juice turned on. This will give a much better service than the steam trains, and a more frequent service can be installed.

SOON TIME TO SHOOT

The hunting season opens October 15 and there will be a great scramble after the China bird, the greatest game bird in the world from the point of the sportsman; from the point of beauty, and from the standpoint of the epicure. If there is any wild bird that is quite as toothsome as a Chinese pheasant it is another one. And if there is another bird of his variety that is as fleet of wing, and as fertile of curves send him out to the Washington County shootists and they will bag him. This has been a splendid year for China pheasants, and the fields should be full of them. There has been quite a bit of illegal shooting, however, and this had depleted the stock. A few years ago the Argus, in one of its sympathetic moods, advised a farmer to kill a China out of season in order to have a nice broth for a sick wife—and during September there were hundreds of the birds killed and every man John laid it to the advice of the Argus.

A Word to the Wise is Sufficient

It has come to our notice that some of our housekeepers have been induced to purchase an inferior baking powder retailing at 25 cents per pound, which is made of Alum, Phosphate and Albumen (called egg).

Alum is regarded as highly injurious. Phosphate is made from burned bones mixed with oil of vitriol. Albumen is usually made from blood, a slaughter-house product. This Albumen is worthless as an ingredient in baking powder, and is only used to make a misleading demonstration when stirred in water.

All of the above ingredients are highly objectionable when used in any article of food.

The only safe and really economical baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar (obtained only from grapes), Soda, and just enough starch to give strength-keeping qualities. See that the label reads: "Cream of Tartar, Bi-Carbonate of Soda and Starch."

J. A. Thornburgh, President of the Forest Grove National Bank, was in town Saturday, looking the part of prosperity and good nature. When asked why he was not down to see "Bill," the President, J. A. assured the Argus man that one fleshy man in Portland at a time was enough.
