

EXTON SUBS THE COUNTY FOR DAMAGE

Went Through Watts Bridge Last March, Gales Creek

SHOOTED MULE AND TWO HORSES

Circuit Court to Give him $500 Personal Damages

L. Sexton, who was hauling rock at Spring, his conveyance being a horse and a mule, has sued the county in circuit court, asking damages for a fall of thirty feet, because the Watts Bridge, on Gales Creek, collapsed while he was hauling rock, March 17, and precipitated, so he says, team, wagon and driver, thirty feet down. He wants $100 for damages to one horse; $25 for damage to the other, and $75 damage to injuries to the mule; $50 damage to the wagon; $10 veterinary services; and $500 damage for injuries to himself. The case will come up at the coming term. Cleeton and Hollis are Sexton's attorneys.

ROSELAIR SINGS

John Dirk Rosclair, charged with the murder of his wife, and who admits the slaying, sings and plays like a South American night-bird, notwithstanding he is under the shadow of his trial. Rosclair will be tried within a very few weeks as court sets a week from next Monday. His wife-murder was one of the most brutal killings chronicled in the Northwest. For many weeks after incarceration Rosclair ranted on religion, but of late he has changed his attitude. He sings and whistles at all times of the day and seems firm in the belief that he will not hang as the result of slaying his wife. He says to his cell-fellow: "If I am convicted then the Bible is a lie—but it can't be."

MAMMOTH SHOOTING MATCH

There will be a big shoot match at Oak Park on Sunday, Nov. 21, beginning at 8 o'clock in the morning. One hundred turkeys and 50 geese will be the trophies and there will be both rifle and shotgun shooting. Blue rocks will be shot for the birds, and there will be a special cash prize for the person shooting the most blue rocks out of a possible fifty. There will be two sets of traps—one for the boys and one for adults. Lunch will be served on the grounds. Take Oregon Electric car for Oak Park, a mile west of town. Also raffia. W. H. Taylor & Herbert Miller

BEAVERTON FRUIT MEN

The annual meeting of the Peavert Fruit Growers' Association, will be held at Beaverton Hall on Saturday, November 20, 1909, at 2:00 in the afternoon. Members are earnestly requested to be present. The public is cordially invited to be in attendance. B. R. Patton, Secretary, Beaverton, Oregon, Nov. 9, 1909

HAWLEY COMING

Congressman Willis C. Hawley, of this district, will be in Hillsboro on Monday, November 22, to meet with his constituents, and will spend the day in the city. Congressman Hawley is a Marion County man, but is well known to many Washington County people.

J. H. Ray had a fall from the Evangelical Church, Tuesday, while painting, and sustained a badly sprained ankle. Dr. Linklater attended the injured member, as he was called under the impression that there might have been a fracture.

Very few people know that Hon. E. W. Scott, the present editor and part owner of the Oregonian taught school in Leisyville, north of Hillsboro, in 1861—forty-eight years ago. The veteran editor still recalls the names of many of his pupils.

L. W. House, who has been absent a month at Kansas City, where he visited his mother, aged 78 years, and a sister, whom he had not seen for about 20 years, and a sister at Pittsburg, Kas., returned yesterday, and is again at his work shop on Washington Street. "Oregon is good enough for me," says Mr. House. "I saw some good country, and the cities have developed uncommonly fine, but the country districts did not look prosperous to me—like the ranches in Oregon. They say the farmers are doing nicely, and all that, but somehow, the buildings looked the same as back twenty years. Kansas City, however, is a great town. The drives and boulevards are splendid, and they are now to begin a two million dollar depot at once. I saw the post, or rather, telephone pole, against which the father of Carey Snyder, of Mountaineers, was thrown, when his chaffeur tried to avoid running over a child. (It will be remembered that Carey Snyder was found dead near Bethany several years ago. I attended a Pythian Lodge which had 800 members, at Kansas City, and, of course, I gave Oregon the bouquet it deserved. You can see that I am glad to get back to Oregon, where the fire is green the year around and where we know how to live right. Give me Oregon, every time."

I now represent the Spirella corset. Make selections in your home, where accurate measurements can be taken, and you get a corset to meet the requirements of your figure. P. E. Jackson has leased the Crescent Theatre for a term of two years, and will have the house open every night in the week. Mr. Jackson will have all the good road shows touring the Northwest, in addition to his moving picture theatre. He has procured larger lenses and is now putting up a first-class moving picture exhibit. Richard Charles, a splendid baritone singer, is with the theatre, and sings nightly, and a good pianist is one of the features. The public is cordially invited to give the Crescent a share of their patronage.

How about your suit? Do you need one? Why not call on Connell & Co. and see a nice line of clothes at reasonable prices? Wm. Bagley Jr. was in from the Oak Cove Farm, near Centerville, this afternoon.

ATTORNEYS FILE ESTOPPEL OF FINE

Jury Finds for Sate in Westcott Case, Monday

CASE WILL BE REVIEWED SOON

Vineyards Case Takes Center of the Stage

Justice G. W. Barnes Monday heard the case of State vs. Raymond Westcott, of Vineyards, charged with cruelty to a cow belonging to Harlan Kelley. Kelley swore that the cow's trail was broken and the young man admitted striking the animal, which, he alleged, had broken into the Westcott fields three times in one day. He said he struck the animal with a fist stick, possibly an inch in diameter. Henry Jones, Kelley, Joe Chakotaki, and Peter White were witnesses for the state and O. Westcott, Reynolds, Geo. Marion and Raymond Westcott were sworn for the defense. The jury, comprising John Dennis, R. C. Hartramp, Chas. Kozant, Andrew Jack, Geo. Stevens and R. K. Simpson, brought in a verdict of guilty.

Bagley & Hare counsel for the defense, have filed a motion to arrest the imposing of a fine until the matter can be argued. The motion filed says:— 1. That the facts stated in the complaint upon which such conviction was obtained do not constitute a crime. 2. That the said complaint contains matter, which, if true, would constitute a legal justification or excuse for the crime alleged.

AN EXTENDED TRIP

John Milne and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, will leave in a few days for a trip to Australia and Europe. Mr. Milne established the first big flouring mills in this city, and for years manufactured a breakfast oatmeal that was sold all over the coast. For years he has not operated his mill, but has given the most of his time to directing the operation of his ranches on the plains North of this city. They will absent several months. Before returning they will visit Scotland and England and other United Kingdom points.

Riley Cave has a few genuine Cole's airtight heaters on hand. These stoves are made of exceptionally good material and are very durable. Having bought direct from the factory he can sell very cheap. They can't be beaten for the money. Call in and see them

Trustee in bankruptcy E. C. Luce, is advertising for sale the J. P. and Sam Aplin interest in 20 1/2 acres near Dilley. The two brothers owned a two-thirds interest in the estate and under the federal bankruptcy law it goes into their assets. It is a fine piece of land and will sell well.

G. M. Hunter has rented shop room in the Trullinger building, Third Street, and opened a wagon shop general wood work repair business, and all that goes with workmanship in wood. Give him a call if you want your wagon or buggy repaired—or any kind of woodwork done in a good workmanlike manner.

Bert Snow, with Arnold, said today: "In all our travels this Fall we found the best Agricultural and livestock exhibit in Hillsboro, on sidering the size of the place. Your vegetable and fruit display was the finest seen, although it might have been better arranged. Your horse show was absolutely the best of all in our travels." This, from a man who has seen them all, is worth something.

The Evangelical Church will celebrate its building improvements on Sunday, Nov. 14. Rev. C. C. Poling, well known to Hillsboro audiences, will be here Saturday evening, Nov. 20 and deliver an address-sermon and on Sunday the exercises will be held in the forenoon, afternoon and evening. Rev. Guy Stover has awakened a great interest in this church organization, and is rapidly putting it in the forefront. The "little church" is no longer known by that sobriquet, but has attained an importance that marks it as one of the best religious institutions in the city.

SHOOTS HIMSELF THROUGH HAND

E. D. Baker, of Above Banks, Has Accident in Portland

WAS SHOWING GUN TO RELATIVE

Revolver Discharged and Bullet Plunged Through

E. D. Baker, of above Banks, near Crawford Station, was visiting a brother-in-law, in Portland, Saturday evening, and while displaying a revolver, accidentally shot himself through the left hand, the bullet plowing clear through the member. Baker had driven to Portland, and as he had a sum of money with him, carried the revolver. It was a gun of an old pattern and when he arrived at the brother-in-law's house he took the weapon out to unload it. While showing the relative how it worked—it did work—with the result that Mr. Baker will carry his hand in a sling for a few weeks.

About 40 young men and boys were initiated into the Knights of King Arthur at the M. E. Church, Friday evening, taking the vows of Page, which were administered by Rev. Dr. W. O. Wark, of Portland. The two Castles, Washington and Tualatin, installed officers. The addresses by Dr. Wark and Mr. J. C. Clark, were greatly enjoyed. A dinner followed the ceremonies and the newly made pages were served by their mothers, the banquet being especially fine. The boys are this week remodeling the Sholes warehouse, on Third and Railroad, for a gymnasium, the place being generously donated by Mr. Sholes, and when completed the boys will have fine quarters. They will appreciate the gift of chairs, rugs, tables, books, and other articles that will go toward furnishing the place.
