LONG & MCKINNEY

The year 1910 has great promise for Hillsboro. Before its close it is confidently asserted that we shall have one or more big sawmills installed; the Tillamook railway will be completed; and more than likely, the United will build to the city. Hillsboro is on the map for bigger and better things and with a united effort we shall have a town of five thousand before many moons.

SIRENS AND SONS.

Judge Gaynor did not contribute a dollar toward his election as mayor of New York.

Armand Fallieres, president of France, is sixty-eight. He was nine times president of the French senate.

Sven Hedin, the Swedish geographer and explorer, who recently led an expedition through Tibet, has been made knight commander of the Indian empire.

Even the honeymoon in the air is not a new idea. M. Flammarion, the distinguished French astronomer and aeronaut, took his bride for a honeymoon trip in a balloon on Aug. 28, 1874.

Frederico Carasa, the young Spanish tenor, who hopes to rival Caruso as closely in fame as he does in name, has been decorated by the French government and appointed to an official post in the department of public education.

Emile O'Reith, for years Barnum's India rubber man, has been sent up for eight years in France. Emile was a clever clown, bareback rider and acrobat, but lately has turned his talents to climbing walls and picking complicated locks.

Colonel John H. Whallen, the leading politician of Louisville, Ky., was the youngest soldier of the Confederacy. Colonel Whallen entered the Confederate service when he was eleven years old, in 1862, and served until the close of the war.

For thirty-five years William De La Motte has been in charge of the watchtower at Sandy Hook. During that time he has seen practically every vessel that has come in or out of New York harbor. He knows all the big liners by sight, and he has the code flags by heart.

Sporting Notes.

Umpire Tim Hurst will have a job in the Eastern league next season.

It is claimed that Ed Geary will train next season Ormonde, a half brother to Country Jay, 2:07 1/4, and Kentucky Todd, 2:08 1/4. He was sired by Wilkes Boy, 2:24 1/4, out of Paronella, by Parkville.

Babe Adams of the Pittsburgs, the most talked of pitcher in the business, made the best record of any National league twirler in the matter of runs per game; the average off him in fifteen times out being 1.53 per game.

V. Powers heads the list of winning jockeys in the country, with 147 victories to his credit. Taplin, the California boy, is second, with 139. While Stilling is tenth on the list, he has the best percentage of any of the riders.

Luther H. Taylor, former pitcher of the New York Nationals, who last year twirled for the Buffalo Eastern league team, turned out a winning football team this season at the State School for the Deaf and Dumb, located at Olathe, Kan.

Tales of Cities.

The New York tenements average fifty-seven inhabitants to the building. Duluth, at the head of Lake Superior, has the greatest mineral tonnage of any port in the world.

Marseilles is the leading vegetable oil center of the world, its forty-five mills crushing about 465,000 tons of seed annually. Hundreds of thousands of barrels of imported oils are also handled there each year.

The German city of Chemnitz enjoys during the months of December and January but 156 hours of sunshine out of 508 that are theoretically possible, or only 30 per cent. During the entire year the sun shines there during only 44 per cent of the number of hours when it is above the horizon.

Modern Traveler.

"When you are down my way in your automobile drop in some time."
"I travel in an aeroplane these days."
"That so? Well, drop out some time."—Chicago Journal.

HOUSE WARMING

Fred Schmidt, of near Laurel moved into his handsome new house, on New Year's day, and a general jubilation was enjoyed. There was a big dinner at noon and a Swiss lunch in the evening. Those present at the festivities were:

Messrs. and Mesdames John Schmidt Sr., John Schmidt Jr., Sam Schmidt, Jacob Schmidt, Adolph Smith, Louis Carow, Henry Cline, P. L. Lillegard, Albert Schmidt, Ed Graner, Charlie, Cecil and George Schmidt, Lily Schmidt, Helen and Emie Carow, Alice Cline, Emma, Mathilda, Adia, Louise, Emma and Emilie Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmidt.

A Portland evening paper tells of a young man by the name of James, supposedly from this county, being arrested for leaving a term standing all night, Tuesday in that city. The article says he hired the team at the Hawthorne barn, came to Hillsboro, drove back within a block of the barn and tied the team, where they remained all night in the bitter cold. Inquiry of the local officers failed to get any information.

Call at the South Hillsboro greenhouse and see my plant-bleeding hearts, ponies, lilies and bulbs of all kinds. Rose bushes and shrubbery, cheap. Two year old roses at 25 cents each. Every thing else cheap for cash. Cut flowers for funerals or decorative purposes.—Mrs. Agnes Campbell, Corner 7th & Fir. Tel. Telephone 1154 33 f

Albert Lynn, of above Green, broke a finger while coasting, last evening, and came in to town and had the member dressed by Dr. Tamisic. He had his hand on the side of the sled when he struck a root that protruded in his path. John Lotis, a neighbor, brought him in.

The Fire Department held its regular monthly meeting last evening and obligated ten new members. It was voted to hold the annual dance on St. Valentine's Day. The boys now have a splendid working department, but the city has been very fortunate from lack of fires.

John Masters has bought out the Schmeltzer wood business, and is now possessed of the only wood yard in the city, aside from the mill. He has not raised on the price, although this has been a hard winter. He says he is still selling 15 inch fir at $4.50 per cord. In Portland the price is soaring.

Theodore Peterson and wife, of Durango, Col., were week guests of their niece, Mrs. Emmett Quick. Mr. Peterson is a brother of Mrs. L. Shogren, of Forest Grove, whom they are visiting. Having bumped into Oregon's worst cold wave for years they will return with no exalted idea of our climate.

A workman on the United Railway, near the Weibel place, fell 32 ft. the other day and sustained two broken ribs. Dr. Temie went out and attended the unfortunate laborer. He was working on a trestle with a dump car, when the vehicle went over the grade.

Born to Richard Marris and wife of Laurel, Jan. 6 a son
