How to Collect Taxes Fild Next Week by Sheriff

Sheriff Hancock will begin the collection of 1909 taxes on Thursday, February 10, and will file his bond to indemnify the county next week. The office force has been organized, and all is in readiness for raking in tax money just as soon as the rolls are out of the hands of the clerk. The law allowed a rebate of 3 1/2 per cent provided a total tax is paid by March 15. Anyone desiring to pay half the tax can do so by the first Monday in April, and then have until the first Monday in October to pay the other half.

Where no payment is made by the first Monday in April, a penalty of 10 per cent per month will be added, under the law's provision, and the charge will carry until the tax is paid.

WILL INAUGURATE BEACH SERVICE

General Manager Lytle Expects to Put on Train

CONTINGENT ON GOOD ROADS

Contractor Sweeney Making Rapid Construction Progress

General Manager C. E. Lytle, who returned the last of the week from a tour of inspection over at Tillamook, says that construction is progressing rapidly on both ends of the Sweeney contract, and that by July 1, there will be but little work to get both ends of the track together—and then for operation. It may be 30 days later, but not over that, and Sweeney is in shape to do fine winter work. Mr. Lytle says that in a few weeks, there will be 25 miles of rails laid on the Tillamook end.

He expects to inaugurate a train service from Tillamook out to all the beach points provided the commissioners of Tillamook county will get in and fix up the Sheridan road so autos may get in from Portland, and put in some work on the Wilson River highway. The service can be installed by May 1, and it is but a question of what Tillamook county will do in the matter of roads. Mr. Lytle says that Portland will send many travellers to the Tillamook beach resorts this season, and to get the late summer traffic every effort will be made to get trains running by July or August.

JEFFREY ASKS FOR NEW TRIAL

Alleges Court Should Have Instructed Differently

OBJECTS TO MEDICAL EXPERTS

Says That Testimony did not Show Deliberation.

Attorney J. A. Jeffrey came out this morning and filed a motion to open the John D. Roselair case, alleging that the man convicted for murder did not have his rights properly guarded by the circuit judge. He objects to the evidence of Dr. F. A. Bailey, Dr. A. B. Bailey and Dr. W. T. Williamson, and particularly holds that the question asked them as to Roselair's responsibility should have been stricken out. He also holds that the court erred in not instructing the jury that the testimony was not sufficient to warrant a verdict of murder in the first degree.

He also contends that neither deliberation nor premeditation was shown.

Judge Campbell was not here this morning, and the attorney went to Oregon City to argue in chambers.

JURORS DISMISSED UNTIL FEB. 23RD

Laborers Win Union Logging Co. Case

FRED ADAMS TRIED LAST FRIDAY

Justice Court Case on the Right of Way Two Days

Circuit court jurors have been excused until February 23, and several cases are set for that date and after. The case of the laborers against the Union Logging Co. and W. E. Potter, the Portland timber buyer, who bought lumber from the mill, the latter being garnished by the men, was heard the last of the week, and the boys, who made the lumber, came out with a verdict in their favor.

Fred Adams was up before Judge Campbell on a charge of failing to pay alimony to his wife, and a sentence of six months in the county jail was imposed. Sentence was suspended, however, if Adams would pay $6 per week to T. H. Tongue, trustee, for a period of one year, and the court fixed bail and bond at $500. After the hearing, Adams presented himself to the sheriff's office and asked to be committed. He is still in the bastille, and so far has made no effort to get a bond.

Mr. Adams said to an Argus reporter, this morning, that he would remain in the jail all summer, and supplemented the remark with the expression, "I'm game."

The appeal case of John Heisler against Clark, a justice court case, wherein about $11 was involved, and in which Heisler appealed, took up two days of the court this week. Heisler was beaten in the lower court through the attorney not getting him properly into court. The appellant enlisted E. B. Tongue in the case and won a jury decision. The case will doubtless have cost Heisler a $100 or more, but he was after the finals. The cost to the county will also run pretty well up to $100.

The Japanese who put up bail to appear for gambling in the Kinton section did not show up and their bail was declared forfeited.

H. H. CLARK

Henry Hiram Clark died at his home in Forest Grove at 12:30, Tuesday, January 25, 1910, after an illness of several months, his affliction being Bright's disease. Mr. Clark was born in Iowa, Nov. 10, 1850, and came to Oregon with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Clark, in 1865, settling at Forest Grove. He was married August 31, 1875, to Miss Mary J. Taylor, daughter of I. C. Taylor. Two children survive: Mrs. Nettie Renshaw, of Portland; Mrs. May Lambert, Tacoma, Kenneth, an only son, died at the age of 5 years.

Mrs. Clark, who is a sister of W. H. Taylor, of this city, survives. He was a member of the Woodmen of the World, the Masons and the Odd Fellows. The funeral took place at ten this morning, from the residence, and interment was in the Naylor cemetery, the Odd Fellows in charge.

Mr. Clark was well known all over Washington County, and followed contracting for many years. He was a fine specimen of manhood, and had a host of friends. He was genially goodnatured, and was possessed of a fund of hard, practical sense, and leaves a posterity of friendship that is his best monument.
