TILLAMOOK ROAD PROGRESSING FINE

Contractor Expects to Get Through Next Summer

TRAIN SERVICE ON BOTH ENDS Tillamook Reaches Expect Big Boom This Season

E. E. Lytle, president of the Pacific Railway & Navigation Co., in a recent interview, states that work is progressing finely on the line between Hillsboro and Tillamook, notwithstanding the bad weather. He says that by the last of April he will have a train running over 25 miles on the Tillamook end, and that Contractor Sweeney is doing veteran work in pushing his contract to completion.

C. E. Lytle, general manager of the road, says that he thinks there will be no doubt but what Sweeney will get his contract finished by July or August, as he is doing splendid work this winter, in the heavy rock work.

Tillamook and N. Halem beach property is now getting on the market and the promoters expect to see unequalled sales of resort lots from this date on.

LORSUNG SURPRISE

There was a pleasant surprise party at the home of Mr and Mrs J. S. Lorsung, at Newton, Saturday evening, the occasion being the 43rd birthday of Mrs. Lorsung. The evening was spent in whist, and refreshments were served at the close. All report an enjoyable evening. The present were:

Mr and Mrs J. S. Lorsung and family; P. P. Lorsung, Louisa Lorsung, Edgar Rehs, Herbert Schuler, Frank Greener, Chas. Vinig, all of Farmington; John Edwards, Josephine Edwards, Marie Edwards, William Edwards, Martha Freutehall, Joe Meier and Carl Meier.

Charles True, of near Middleton, was in town Tuesday, greeting his county seat friends—and he has many of them.

Charles Miller, the Forest Grove druggist, was in the city Tuesday, conferring with his attorney, Burke Tongue.

Dr. M. H. Parker and Jack Woods, of the Greenville section, were in the city Tuesday, on probate business.

The rural mail carriers had the worst of it again this week, and some of them found darkness hovering over them before they made the round trip.

For home portraits or views, call on J. E. Johnson, photographer. Residence, Sixth St., between Base line and Oak. Phone, Independent 287. 49 50

Ed. Schiller, the Portland cigar manufacturer, was out to the city Tuesday. Ed. is one of the ball-tossing wall-met of the Oregon metropolis, and always gets a welcome when he visits Hillsboro.

The attending physician reports a fourteen-pound boy born at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lighty, of West Union. This is the largest valentine of its kind reported for the day, and the Doctor says it has Cupid beaten a mile.

The Sunday Oregonian, in a Sunday story, telling of Oregon's first newspaper, The Spectator, published at Oregon City, gives some of the stockholders who were Washington County pioneers. Among them were Wm. Geiger, father of Mrs. S. B. Huston, Portland, and Lincoln Geiger, Cornelius; Geo. W. Ebberts, who lived east of this city; Jesse Applegate, grandfather of Jesse Applegate, who is with the Washington Co. Abstract and Title Co.; the late J. L. Meek, first U. S. Marshal for Oregon. Among the earliest subscribers for 1846 and 1847 were the following who were well known here to the earliest of the pioneers: Henry Buxton, Forest Grove; John R. Jackson, Glencoe; J. H. McMillan, Reedville; H. M. Knighton and A. Cook, J. L. Meek was in 1844, when the paper first started publication, made collector for the Journal. In the issue of Oct. 29, 1846 A. Cook advertises a valuable claim on "Tuality Plains." This claim adjoined the Wm. Burrows' claim on the plains, and the owner asks interested parties to see him in Portland, or see Mr. Burrows. He tells them in his advertisement that he has 80 acres under cultivation.

We now have a good supply of good hard burned brick, and building blocks for cellars and foundations. Try our building blocks for your house foundations. Cheaper than cement or brick and better protection against frost. We have finished our run of large tile and are again running on smaller sizes, and have a fair supply at the yard. Parties wanting tile delivered should place their orders now so we can haul them before bad weather. There is always a rush of hauling orders in the Fall when roads are almost impassable. We have a good supply of rough and dressed lumber at our mill, and a quantity of common lumber at the Hare spur, below Newton, the latter to sell at a sacrifice—2x12, 2x8, 2x6, 2x4, 1x10, 1x8, 1x6 and 1x4 of various lengths. This is all good dry stock, and it will pay you to investigate should you want any of these dimensions—Groner & Rowell Co., Scholls, Hillsboro, R. 2.

Paul Beck, of Dilley, and who has been the local justice of the peace there since last election, was in the city Monday morning. Mr and Mrs Beck returned a few weeks ago from an enjoyable trip back to relatives and friends in Wisconsin, and while East visited Chicago. Paul thinks Oregon is all right, even if we do have a little untoward weather occasionally.

J. C. Smook, of Sherwood, and who was on the Hermann jury had 46 hours and 30 minutes of deliberation before the twelve men were discharged from the case. Eleven of the jurors were for conviction while one only, Geo. Selkirk, of Portland, stood out for acquittal. The court was going to send the jury back Monday morning, but Selkirk sent a note to the court, saying he would not vote conviction under any circumstances, so the Judge ordered the panel discharged. The eleven jurors assert that Hermann injured his case beyond repair when he took the witness stand and was cornered by Mr. Heney.

I have a buzz saw and will saw cord wood or poles into stove wood, for any one living in the neighborhood of Farmington or Reedville. Also work done on gasoline engines. Will guarantee to make them run right.—Carl Skow, Beaverton, Ore., R. 4 Bx 44 461f

Sheriff Martin White, of St. Helens, and Detective Lou Hartman, of Portland, were out Tuesday, conferring with District Attorney E. B. Tongue. Lou Hartman is the detective who years ago caught Bert Oakman at a station on the Columbia River, near Cascade Locks, after Oakman had been in hiding several days, after killing Frank Bennett, in this city.

A. J. Hutchinson, formerly of Vinelands, and who still owns 40 acres on the ridge, was down from Yamhill, Monday, paying taxes. He is now in the hop business, and expects to make a clean-up next season.

J. B. Wilkes and family returned last week from a trip into the Nez Perce section, Idaho. He says that everything is booming up there, but that he wouldn't trade the Willamette Valley for a dozen states like Idaho.

Notice to the Public—J. E. Johnson, photographer, will open a Photo Studio in the new Heide Building, on Main street, in a short time, where all outstanding tickets will be honored, and work of the highest excellence guaranteed. 50

F. W. Schultzeiz, of near Bethany, and who has seen many years in that section, was in the city Tuesday.

BUXTON BAND DANCE

The Buxton Band will give a Benefit Ball at Hannan's Hall, at Buxton, Saturday evening, Feb. 19, and the net proceeds will go into a fund for the band boys. There will be splendid music and the best of order, and the floor is the finest. Good time guaranteed. Largest hall in the county. Tickets, 75 cents.

MRS. NELLIE MILLER

Mrs. Nellie M. Miller, wife of Emil Miller, of above Glencoe, died at one of the Portland hospitals, Saturday, February 12, 1910. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Westcott, and was married to Mr. Miller, Nov. 16, 1909. Her husband is a son of J. M. Miller, of above the B. P. Cornelius farm, beyond Glencoe. Deceased was aged but 22 years, and was a general favorite in the community.

Mrs. Miller was born in Atchinson county, Mo., Dec. 8, 1887. She leaves the home circle of parents, five brothers and one sister, at home; a brother, C. F. Westcott, of Fairfield, Neb.; A. E. Westcott, another brother, at Banks, and a sister, Mrs. Miller, of Glencoe. She was a loving child, a dutiful wife and a devoted sister.

(Contributed.)
Our sister dear has gone to rest,
Her suffering now is o'er,

Terms of Sale—All sums under $10, cash; $10 and over, time to October 1, at 7 per cent interest.
H. L. Halvorsen,
B. P. Cornelius, Auctioneer.

JOHN VANDENBERG

John Vandenberg, for many years a resident of Verboort, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Vandervan, Cornelius, February 11, 1910. Deceased was born in Holland, in 1836, and came to the Verboort section 21 years ago last fall. His wife died two years ago last September. Two children survive: Peter Vandenberg, of Centerville, and Mrs. Nellie Vandervan, of Cornelius. The funeral took place Saturday at the Verboort Catholic church, of which Mr. Vandenberg was a member.

Garden seeds at Greer's—in bulk

White House coffee—no guaranty every can.—Emmott Bros.

Emil Fischer, of north of Corneilus, was an Argus caller Monday.

N. H. Jones, of Virelands, was in town Monday morning.

For sale: Purebred Holstein bull calf—J. F. Peerenboom, Roy, Oregon. 48 9

A. F. Dethlefs, of Seghers, was in the city Monday morning.

Blue Ribbon tomatoes, corn and beans, 3 cans for 25 cents.—Emmott Bros.

Theodore Bernards, of Verboort, was in town Monday, on probate business.

W. E. Boucsein, of above Moun taindale, was in the city Monday, paying taxes.

J. A. Kirkwood, of Reedville, and a former resident of this city and Forest Grove, was a county seat caller Monday.

Commencing with Feb. 1, we will give away silverware on cash purchases. Produce same as cash.—Stevens Bros., Farmington.

Otto Weichbrodt, of Cornelius, and who has been in Washington for some time, was in the city Monday afternoon.

Henry David, who lives on the hill to the north of Forest Grove, was in town the first of the week, paying taxes and greeting friends.

A. Kaufman, of Cooper Mountain, and August Kuhn, his neighbor, were in the city Monday, paying taxes.

Leon Girod, of below Orenco, was in town Monday. He has rented his place, after highly improving it, and is building a home in Orenco.

Frank T. Rice, who lived north of town for many years, was out from Portland the first of the week, the guest of his son, of North Hillsboro.

A. L. Grebe and E. C. Mulloy, of Laurel, were in town Monday. Mr Grebe has let a contract to clean up 30 acres of land for the plow.

Peter Jacobsen, of West Union, was in the city Monday. He says this has been one of the hardest and longest drawn out winters he has experienced in the state.

For Sale—Fine residence property, only three blocks from business center; also a business chance. Inquire of G. M. Hunter, plating mill on Third St., between Main and Lincoln. Both phones. 49 1f

J. C. Miller, John Loftis, George Cypher and N. H. Jones and wife were all in town beyond Glencoe, Monday, attending the funeral of the late Mrs. Emil Miller, daughter of O. Westcott and wife.

There will be a mask ball at Laurel Hall, on the evening of Feb. 22. The management will provide a good orchestra, and give prizes for mask characters. Tickets, $1. Wm. Getter, Manager.

Theodore Vandehy, of Verboort, was in the city Monday, and says that the fall oats are badly injured and out his way—and that it was the last freeze, strange to say, that did the damage.

Farmers look here—we will pay you more in trade for your produce than you can get anywhere in the county. Bring it to us. We will convince you that we can and do pay more than others. We take veal and pork on Tuesdays.—Stevens Bros., Farmington. 50

Joe Pongratz, the Buxton retail and wholesale butcher, was down to the county seat Monday, and called on the Argus. Pongratz has supplied a great deal of meat for the work crews on the Tillamook line, for many months.

When the kitchen is properly equipped there is sunshine in the house. Come in and see our Champion and Charter Oak ranges. They are the best.—Emrick & Cowin.

P. M. Jackson, one of the pioneers of this section, killed a groundhog the other day, and said that he then anticipated no untoward weather—but with Sunday came a flurry of snow. P. M. now thinks it wasn't the original Mr Groundhog that he captured.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Pribnow, of above Mountaindale, were in the city Monday. Mr. Pribnow recently lost the sight of an eye, the accident being caused by a piece of steel wedge puncturing the pupil of the eye and letting out the waters. He has the sympathy of his many friends.

Peter Vandenberg, of Centerville, was in the city Monday. He states that Henry Meier, of his section, received a check for $98.15 from the product of five cows, for the month of January, besides having milk and butter for a family of seven. Even with the high price of feed there seems to be some income from the dairy business.

TIME TO SPRAY FOR SAN JOSE

What the Satanic Scale Looks Like to Observer

B. LEIS ANALYZES THE PARASITE

History of the Insect That Plays Havoc With Trees

B. Leis, of Beaverton, and who has a great deal of experience, both in the orchard business and also as a manufacturer of a spray that is death to fruit tree parasites, writes the following for those who grow fruit:

(Editor Argus)—There are many of your readers who are interested in fruit growing, and who have heard much about the San Jose scale, but who are not conversant with the insect. I will try, for their benefit, to give an accurate account of scaleship. The San Jose scale feeds entirely by sucking the juices from the bark tissues.

It is but a small plant louse, with the habit of covering itself, after becoming affixed to the surface of the tree, with a protected, hard, scale covering. The insects pass the winter in an immature stage, attached to the bark or branches, hidden beneath this scale, which is of black, sooty color. The female scale is usually more or less convex, the center being a slightly elevated point, fitting close to the bark. When grown the female gives birth to living young. The young crawl from the covering, and after a few hours insert their beaks into the bark and tissues, and begin to feed, and they are immovable the remainder of their existence.

A number of generations are developed during the summer, running high into the millions. A single scale when highly developed, is but a small speck on the surface of the tree or fruit—scarcely larger than the head of a pin. On young apple trees, or small branches of older trees, a red spot can usually be found under the bark, in badly infested trees, and sometimes the bark will be completely encrusted. If rubbed off with a knife and the scale separated from the bark, the surface will be left with a yellowish, greasy appearance, and the bark looks grayish and rough. The effect on the tree is death, if no spraying is done. It is not uncommon to see young trees killed the first year of infection. Here is the remedy, as practiced by me for many years. First prune your trees and burn your branches, as should there be scale the birds will carry the parasite on their feet, to other trees. Then spray your trees (they must be in a dormant state) with lime and sulphur spray and use ten parts of water to one of the solution. Be sure that your spray is pure lime and sulphur, and contains no salt. Salt is many times used by manufacturers as it throws up the test, but spray with salt is weak, and your spraying will do no good. See that your spray is of standard test. It would be well to add about two or three handfuls of airslacked lime to 50 gallons of spray, and your trees will look more whitish. Now is the time to spray for San Jose scale, but do not spray unless your trees are dry.

BAD ACCIDENT

Little Charles Emil Strohmayer, aged 2 years, 2 months and 26 days, and a son of Charles Strohmayer and wife, of Greenville, climbed on a table Thursday, and from there reached to a shelf and got hold of a bottle of carbolic acid. The child drank at least a teaspoonful before the mother could stop him, and tried every known antidote until the physicians—Parker and Mumford arrived, but to no avail. The little fellow was buried at the Banks' cemetery, Sunday, Rev. Harness preaching the sermon. The boy was a nephew of Mrs. John Breker, of Hillsboro.

Card of Thanks

The undersigned desire to thank those who so kindly tendered aid and sympathy in their recent bereavement, the death and burial of their little son.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Strohmayer
Greenville, Oie., Feb. 15, 1910.

MRS. FRANK POMEROY

Mrs. Rebecca Jobs Pomeroy, wife of Frank Pomeroy, died at the family home in Kamiah, Idaho, Saturday, February 12, 1910, after an illness covering several months. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Jobs, Hillsboro pioneers, and was born a mile west of Hillsboro, March 15, 1852. December 1, 1870, she was wedded to Mr. Pomeroy and for many years they lived near Cornelius, later moving to Idaho. The husband, three daughters and three sons survive.

Of her immediate family the following brothers and sisters survive: Warren Jobs, British Columbia; Lilburn Jobs, Centerville; Edward Jobs, Nez Perce, Idaho; Fred Jobs, Yale, Wash., and Mrs. W. H. Taylor, of Hillsboro.

The remains were brought to Cornelius for burial.

Ed. Schoeler, of South Tualatin, was in the city Saturday, and called on the Argus.
