

FORTY THREE YEARS AT PACIFIC UNIVERSITY

Prof. J. W. Marsh, of Forest Grove, Has Unique Record

GIVEN ROARING OVATION TUESDAY

THREE INSTRUCTORS TALKS OF EARLY PACIFIC DAYS TO STUDENTS

Professor J. W. Marsh, for 43 years an instructor at Pacific University, and who handled classes when prominent Northwest men were students at Forest Grove, delivered a lecture at Marsh Hall, Tuesday, and the veteran educator was given a roaring reception by the student body and visiting friends of the college founded so many years ago, and which has in its alumni many of the representative men of public life in Oregon, Washington and Idaho—the late Congressman T. H.

Tongue having been under the influence of Mr. Marsh. In 1867, Mr. Marsh was appointed principal of the Academy; later taking the chair of mathematics, and for the past three years being professor emeritus of Greek and Latin, and retired on a Carnegie pension. For 35 years he has been librarian at the college.

Professor Marsh's talk was reminiscent of the early history of the institution. He gave short sketches of several of the early teachers and recalled interesting events of the early days. Professor Abdallah Ben Kori, head of the department of languages, sang a Greek song composed by him in honor of Professor Marsh. During the day Professor Marsh was the recipient of a postal shower and a public reception was held in the First Congregational church in his honor at night.

Land for Sale

Will sell 15 to 30 acres of cultivated land, three fourths of a mile from Wim Hazel station. No house. Will sell at $225 per acre part down, balance on time—Eric Sunberg, Beaverton, Ore., R. 4

ALTON NIMAN

Alton Niman, a well known Hillsboro citizen, and who for the past few years has resided at 1101 Clinton Street, Portland, died at the family home the first of the week. He was a native of Ohio, and a son of a prominent physician of Elkhart, that state. He leaves a wife and four children, to mourn his loss; two daughters, Alie and Marie, and two sons, Charles and Chester. Two brothers, George, of Portland, and John, of Turlock, California, survive of his immediate family. The funeral took place today, and interment was in the Rose Cemetery, Portland.

Mr. Niman came to Hillsboro a number of years ago, and by close attention to business acquired considerable property, owning two or three cottages here at the time of his death. He was identified with the Adventists in religion, and was a law abiding citizen, and highly respected.

CARSHOPS FOR HILLSBORO

General Manager C. E. Lytle favors the locating of car shops, engine houses and car sheds here, as this is the terminal of the Tillamook road. If these are located in this city, it will mean the expenditure of perhaps $75,000 or $100,000 in the city, besides a monthly payroll for the men required to take care of the plants. The division will be a lengthy one and will connect with S. P. trains running up and down the West Side, and this is the logical place for installation of division buildings, rather than to run on into the city.

Ex-Sheriff Connell is perhaps more conversant with the needs of travel over Washington County roads than the average man, because for years he had occasion to many hurried trips over bad roads. Realizing the necessity for a strong vehicle he made arrangements with a Michigan firm for a special manufacture of buggies, designed for Oregon use. The best of hickory, the best of steel, and the best of workmanship—all reinforced above the average make, was the order given, and the carload of special manufacture arrived this week. Call in and see this Michigan buggy at Connell & Co.'s big store.

Jesse Mays was over from Gengoe yesterday.

Editor DuBrille, for some time one of the publishers of the Cottage Grove Leader, was in town Saturday afternoon, and was very enthusiastic over the present and future of Washington County. While he could not be induced to say a word naughty about the Cottage Grove section he did remark "This is about the prettiest part of Oregon that it has been my lot to traverse. It is not improbable that I may locate here." As Mr. Du Brille has "rocks" he can locate almost any place he wishes. Mrs. DuBrille accompanied him to the theater.

Are you ready to blast stumps? Do you want a powder that needs no thawing; gives no headache and is the most powerful and effective stump powder in the world? If you do—just call on Emmett Bros., who handle the Trojan. They have a man who will demonstrate for you. 35¢

General Manager C. E. Lytle has a fine cabinet of photos of views on the Pacific Railway & Navigation termini, and they are proof enough that the line will be scenic in every respect. The cabinet is framed, and in the show window at the Connell & Co. store. Many of the beach scenes are characteristically beautiful and the mountains furnish their share of pretty vistas from the Hillsboro end of the line.

Ligan berry plants—400 fine thrifty young plants, just right for transplanting. For sale by J. S. Lorsung, Newton station, east of Hillsboro, Oregon, on Sutton Pacific. 13

Porter J. Loomis and wife, of Portland, were guests of the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Collins, of South Hillsboro, returning home today. Mr. Loomis is Engineer on engine No. 9, Portland Fire Department, and he has been enjoying a vacation. Mrs. Loomis is a grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Collins.

A carload of genuine newly manufactured Hercules stumping powder, made by the E. J. Dupont de Nemours Co., of San Francisco just received. Both telephones—J. E. Borwick, Reedville, Ore.

In the real estate transfers will be noticed 20 year privileges granted by Gales Creek parties to the United Railways for the taking of sand and gravel along the creek. The options are granted to Thos. Lawson, but Mr. Lawson is Hill's representative in this section. Gales Creek is full of gravel and sand and it is supposed that it is wanted for railroad ballasting.

Tinsmith removed.—I have moved my tinsmith to Main & Fourth Streets, next door to Chassé's plumb-ing shop, where I will be pleased to meet old and new patrons. W. B. Dolan. 523

F. S. Olson, rural carrier on Route 4, says that there has been no clover damaged to speak of by reason of the hard freeze of last winter, and he says that the winter sown wheat is coming along nicely. The main trouble is, however, that the acreage of winter wheat is very small, owing to the early rains, last Fall.

First Showing of Early Spring Millinery now ready. All the newest rough and fancy braid turbans for early wear. Prices reasonable of course.—Mrs. H. Rhea, Main street.

Holy Week services will be held at St. Matthews Catholic Church as follows: Holy Thursday, morning Mass will be offered up at 10: Good Friday morning, the veneration of the Cross and Mass of the Pre-sanctified, 9 o'clock; Saturday morning, the service begins at 7 o'clock; Easter Sunday morning first Mass at 8:30, with Second or High Mass and sermon at 10:30 o'clock.

Get one or more cockerels from my $100 pen of White Orpingtons. We have them from $2 up. We also supply you with eggs for hatching. Addie S. T. P. Goodin, Hillsboro, Ore. 523

The Rip Van Winkle Company arrived and departed after two nights in the city. The man who represented "Rip" evidently was an apt representative of the old fellow who drank too much spirit and went to sleep in the Cascades Mountains, for he reached town too mellow for filling his cast and remained that way until he left town.

The Schillers—a 10 cent cigar, and the G and Marca, two for a quarter cigar, are what you want when you buy a cigar. Kept at every bar in Hillsboro. Ask for them.

G. A. Lechner, of near Bethany, was in the city today, and says that his son Harman, whose leg was injured by a stump puller a few days ago, is getting along nicely.

Five acres just south of town partly cleared; small house, near school; team of horses and cow and implements; price $1200.00—Imbrie Land Co.

Married: At the residence of Rev. Stivers, the officiating minister, at Forest Grove, Ore., March 21, 1910, Paul E. Sexton and Ola May Parr.

Dr. Schmelzel, osteopathic physician, of Portland, will be at the Commercial Hotel, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays; hours, 1 to 4 p.m. Consultation free.

E. C. Mulloy, of Laurel, was in town yesterday. He says that ice froze at Laurel Tuesday night.

Girls wanted at the Hillsboro Laundry. Inquire of E. L. Moore, Manager.

A. L. and Chas. Holcomb, of West Union, were in the city last evening.

Anton Paulmeier and wife, of near Farmington, were in town this morning.

Miss Vivian Brown, of Forest Grove, visited with relatives and friends in the city, the first of the week.

E. W. Barnes, of near Glencoe, was in the last of the week and says the farmers have plenty of work these days.

J. B. McNew, of below Reedville, was up yesterday, and reports lots of improvement down in his section.

Miss Meta Wallace returned Monday after an extended stay in St. Vincent's Hospital, Portland, under the care of a surgeon.

H. T. Buxton, whose father was one of the early pioneers of the North Forest Grove section, was a caller at the Argus office Tuesday.

Miss Hazel Purington, for some months stenographer in the Tongue law offices, departed today for her home in Angola, Indiana.

Elbert Fonda and Wm. Wohlschlegel, of Scholls, were in the city yesterday, and made a business trip up to Forest Grove.

Will H. Joos, of Glencoe, has gone to Montana to take up a piece of land. He goes into the same section visited by C. P. Berry and the Lincoln boys.

Frank Weissenbeck and wife, of Witch Hazel, were in town yesterday, and remembered the Rest Room with a piece of money.

At United Evangelical Church—Sermon, Easter morning by pastor, followed by an Easter surprise. At 7:30 p.m., an Easter program by Sabbath School.

The five boys are thoroughly enjoying their gymnasium these days, and they hope to add more to their equipment in the immediate future.

Ferd Groner and wife came up from Scholls in Mr. Groner's new automobile, yesterday, and although the roads were a trifle muddy, Ferd says it rolled right along.

E. Goff, of south of town, has bought the Trullinger mill and planer, in this city, subject to the lease of G. M. Hunter.

August Wedekind, of Scholls, and who knows more people in Washington County than any other Deutscher in the district, was an Argus caller today.

Henry Parsons, of above Dilley, and who is getting out some cedar in his section, was down yesterday, and bought a fine gray team of draft horses from the Tompkins boys.

Mrs. H. V. Howard and Mrs. Della Fletcher, aunts of Mrs. J. W. Sewell, who have been making an extended visit in this vicinity, return to their homes at Wilbur, Wash., Saturday.

Al. Griffith, of near Laurel, was in today, nursing one of the worst cases of blood poisoning seen this season. The thing started from a slight scratch and soon was keeping him awake nights. He had a surgeon lance it this morning.

Alfred Heywood, of beyond Jobe's Crossing, returned this week from a trip to England, having been absent about three months. Mr. Heywood had an uneventful trip but says that he was "some sick" in crossing the pond.

First in the city on fresh vegetables is Connell & Co., and buyers are realizing it more and more. Everything the market affords in green groceries. Everybody who watches the markets closely is a patron of Connell & Co. Try their new 25 cent coffee—a world beater for the money.

At the social session of the K. of P. Monday evening, Frank S. Grant, of Portland, one of the prominent attorneys of the Multnomah bar, gave an interesting address and paper on the Pythagorean fraternity, relating the historical agencies underlying the order, and taking up the Pythagorean cult that at one time permeated the social fabric of Ancient Greece. Mr. Grant has perhaps made a greater study of the Grecian and Sicilian history than any other Pythagorean in the Northwest, and his paper was replete with information.

Wanted.—Some stock sheep and lambs. Need not be fat. Could also use a few registered Cotswold or Shropshire ewes and lambs.—Edward L. Naylor, Forest Grove, Ore.

Readers of the Argus should not forget that there is local news on every one of the six pages of the Argus. Attention is called to the new display advertisements in this issue, and farmers are requested to read the horse advertisements.
