HERRMAN PAYS FOR BOY'S SPORT

Paul Scharfenberg Fined Fifty Dollars by Judge Barnes

HERRMAN TO BE HEARD APRIL 7

S. Herrman Asks Young Man to Fish and Pays Fiddler

S. Herrman, of Portland, who owns a ranch down in the southeastern portion of the county, visited his place, March 20, and asked Paul Scharfenberg, aged 21, and a son of the tenant, to go trout fishing. The young man told him it was in the closed season, and the father of the boy also said it wouldn't do. Herrman is said to have answered, "Come on, I'll pay the fiddler." And he did. The game warden caught them, and Scharfenberg pleaded guilty the last of the week, before Judge Barnes, and was fined 50 bucks. Herrman made good and paid the fine.

Samuel was also arrested on a like charge, and put up a bond in Judge Barnes' court, signed by Sig Sichel, the Portland cigar man and politician. He will have his hearing April 7. Samuel says he is game and will fight the case, even if he did pay the fine of the boy.

FOUND AT BETHANY

Telephone Bethany 1. 47tf

FLUKE WILKINS

Mr. Charles E. Fluke and Miss Lillian Wilkins were united in marriage at the office of the officiating Justice, G. W. Barnes, in this city, March 24, 1910. The groom is employed by C. E. Koontz, and the bride is a daughter of Mrs. H. Wilkins, of East Hillsboro. After a short trip to Portland they returned and will remain here until later in the season, when they expect to spend the Summer in the Tillamook section, where Mr. Fluke will take a position with the P. R. & N.

The band boys serenaded the newly wedded couple Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hewitt. The band, of which the groom is a member, entered the house while Mr. and Mrs. Fluke were at the theatre and were there with the music upon their return. The band presented them with a beautiful chafing dish, Mr. Anderson making the presentation. After refreshments were served the boys departed, wishing the happy couple a blissful wedded life. Those of the band attending were: C. S. Parker, Chas. Lamkin, Cal. Jack, G. A. Patterson, W. E. Pittenger, E. E. Colestock, Breneman, C. Sabin, C. W. Nelson, Riggs, Chas. Koontz, A. C. Shute, Otto Schwartz, Anderson.

Dr. Lowe, April 8.

All kinds of field seeds at Greer's.

A. W. Mills, the Banks horseman, was in town Monday.

M. E. Watson, of beyond Glencoe, was in town Monday, and called on the Argus.

Wm. Muller, the Centerville painter, was over to the city Saturday.

Sam Varley, well known here and at Forest Grove, was out from Portland, Monday.

For sale: Two young, good milk cows, coming fresh in Oct. -R. Oppiger, Cornelius, Oregon, Route 2. 1-3

Dr. E. Everest, of Cornelius, was in town Monday. The Dr. is one of Cornelius' enthusiastic Woodmen.

M. C. Hewitt, the carpenter, is still in the housemoving business, and if you have a building to move, see him for an estimate.

Easter Sunday was an ideal day and services were appropriate in all the Hillsboro churches. Femininity, of course, was well pleased with the weather, for it was a splendid day for the display of new Easter bonnets.

Hon. and Mrs. W. N. Barrett expect to leave for the East in May, and will make stops at Salt Lake City, Denver, Chicago, Canton, Ohio, and New York and Washington, D. C. From Washington they go to Annapolis, to attend the graduation exercises, their son, William, being one of the class. More than likely the graduate of the Naval Department will return to the coast with them. He will ask for a Pacific Coast assignment, and it is more than probable that he will receive a commission with orders for coast service. The Pacific will be the scene of vast activities from now on, as the canal proposition will be completed within five years.

I represent the Spirella corset. Make selections in your home, where accurate measurements can be taken, and you get a corset to meet the requirements of your figure. Send postal card, or phone call for appointment. Mrs. M. E. Caudle, Hillsboro, Oregon, Fifth and Jackson Street. Independent telephone, 584.

The Argus this week publishes in another column the names of the supervisors and the amounts of moneys that each will expend this season. The amounts published are not the total road tax, but are the estimated funds, after the rebate and delinquencies are figured, and will reach pretty near the total. Find the list in this issue, and you will discover just about what money is expended on the general road work.

Ranch for sale: 32 acres; 22 acres cleared; all but 4 acres seeded to timothy and clover; balance pasture and timber; house and barn; well and spring; team, 4 cows, all farm implements go. ## GLENCOE BOY IN THE PHILIPPINES

Edward Emrick in Manila Hospital With Broken Leg

STILL ONE YEAR OF SERVICE

Shot at Deer From Horse and Received a Severe Fall

Edward Emrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Emrick, of near Glencoe, writes his parents from the Philippines under date of February 17, and congratulates himself that he has but one year more to serve. His letter in part follows: Just think of it - one more year from today and I can call myself a free man, and I hope this year will pass as quickly as the last one. I am living flat on my back in the hospital, with a broken leg. It was broken eleven days ago, and is mending nicely. I was out hunting with my horse and ran a deer. I shot at him from my horse's back, and my mount became frightened and threw me - but I got the deer, anyway. One of the natives caught my horse, helped me on his back, fastened the deer on behind, and led us back to barracks. I had to travel about 15 miles with my leg dangling and you can imagine I suffered some. My first lieutenant said I had some nerve and gave me $5 for getting the deer into camp - the venison weighed 375 pounds, and had a very fine pair of horns.

The Fourteenth cavalry are out on maneuvers now, and will not be back for fourteen days. I tell you it gets awful tiresome to lay here all day. There is no breeze and this hospital is just like a bakeoven. The Japanese are giving a big carnival at Manila now, and they say it will last a month. The Twelfth cavalry had a fight with the Igorrotes about two weeks ago. It lasted eight hours and 200 natives were killed, and no American fatalities, with but one man wounded. They are a wild tribe from the mountains and they imagined they were going to kill everything in sight - but they soon changed their mind. It is very seldom that anything of this kind happens now, as the most of the natives are now well civilized.

Registered Imported Belgian stallion for sale. Four years old this Spring. Splendid conformation for draft sire. Weight, 1900. Tractable, and easy to handle. Perfect health. Parties owning are too old to handle and will sell at a bargain. Imported by A. C. Ruby, Inquire of E. W. Dant, Reedville, Or. 48-3

STALLION FOR SALE

J. W. Donovan, of near Cedar Mill, is exceedingly wroth over the publication in the Portland papers that he had had all kinds of trouble over an alleged shooting at an automobile some time ago. As a matter of fact, the young man was brought to the county seat, but upon telling his story the grand jury took no action on the case. J. A. Thornburgh, foreman of the inquisitorial body, was the driver of the auto in question. It appeared that the auto was in the rear of a cow, which persisted in running abreast of the machine. About this time young Donovan came out of the house with a gun in his hand, and the auto party concluded that it was a cow belonging to the Donovans, and that the young man was after them. It transpired that it was not Donovan's cow, and Donovan says he did not intentionally point the gun towards the party and neither did he shoot at or towards the machine, although the boys in the auto thought that he had.

Dr. Lowe, the well known optician and optometrist, who has been coming to Hillsboro for so many years, will be in his office at Hotel Tualatin, April 8, Forest Grove, April 6 and 7. Don't forget to have him test your eyes. Nineteen years experience.

"Mother" is the very interesting and important subject at the Christian Church Sunday night, April 3. This is one of Mr. Horn's best addresses. Every mother in Hillsboro and vicinity is earnestly invited to be present. An especial invitation is extended to all young people. All have had a mother or a loving remembrance of her. Special song on "Mother." Special music by the choir. Bible School at 10 a. m.; sermon at 11 o'clock; Junior at 5 and Senior Endeavor at 7 p. m.; preaching at 8 o'clock. Sunday is Church Rally Day at the Christian Church, and every member and friend of the Church is earnestly invited. -Marion F. Horn, Minister.

For sale: Forty acres, Shady Brook section; 4 acres cleared; 1-4 mile from school house; on mail route; 1-2 mile from church; old house. Nice spring; can be piped to house. Three miles from United survey; $1700 - terms. -Jas. Gray, Glencoe, Hillsboro, Ore., Route 3. 3-6

Argus and Oregonian, $2.25.

Albert Meinel, of Cooper Mountain, was an Argus caller Friday.

Jack Robinson, of below Farmington, was in town Saturday.

J. B. Stewart and wife, of South Tualatin, were over Saturday.

Ira Bradley, of Forest Grove, was down to the hub, Saturday, greeting friends.

T. P. Goodin, contractor and chicken fancier, of West Union, was in town Saturday.

Jacob Dahinden, of this side of Buxton, was in town Friday, on legal business.

Wanted: High Grade young Holstein bull, old enough for service this Fall. -Jack Robinson, Hillsboro, R. 5.

"Who is Dr. Lowe?" You must be a stranger in Oregon. He will be at Hotel Tualatin April 8. Call and have him test your eyes.

Dr. C. B. Brown, who just returned from New York and Washington, D. C., was out to his old birth-town, Saturday, seeing home folks.

W. A. Tupper, with the Portland Business College as one of the instructors, was out Sunday, the guest of his parents, Wm. Tupper and wife.

Have Dr. Lowe demonstrate the great superiority of the new Kriptonok bifocal glasses over all others. You will incur no obligation by so doing. See him at Hotel Tualatin, April 8.

Jas. Gray, the Glencoe boot-maker, was in town Thursday last, and called on the Argus. Mr. Gray has clientele all over the county, and they say that his product never wears out.

Scarlet fever is again prevalent in the Phillips section, and quarantine is again in effect. The school was closed some time ago and a rigid quarantine observed, but to no avail.

Mrs. I. H. Smith was down from Forest Grove the past week, attending the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Emma McKinney, who is suffering from a very severe attack of rheumatism.

Hugh Rogers, the big fellow from the P. R. & N., of Buxton, was down to the city Saturday, greeting friends. Hugh said he was just a trifle overworked and contributed two bucks to the Rest Room.

T. C. Johnson, who with two brothers, is interested in the old Johnson sawmill over in South Tualatin, was in Saturday, and says that he has a fine outlook for the season's run.

T. G. Meacham, who is farming the Sam Sipp place, near Mountaineer, the owner now living at Baker City, was in town Monday. Mr. Meacham says he has his crop nearly all in and that his Spring grain is above the ground.

I. C. Nealigh and wife, of Scholls, were in town Saturday. Mr. Nealigh is an old Hood River man, and says that Washington County's apple soil can beat Hood River every mark in the road, expense of land and care taken into consideration. He says that Andy Westberg this season sold over $1600 worth off of his three acre orchard - and that's going some!

Cecil Ballard, the three year old grandson of Ballard, the shoemaker, while visiting at the grand parents' home, on First Street, between Oak and Baseline, fell into a toilet vault, Friday, and was nearly suffocated before he was rescued. The child screamed, and a rope was let down. He was brought to the top, but let go his hold on the rope and fell back the second time. He was finally taken out, but was so badly suffocated from the noxious gases that it was necessary to call Dr. F. A. Bailey to attend him. Andrew Tate made the rescue.

Wm. McQuillan, who has been at Gilroy and Redwood City, Cal., for several weeks, on legal business, connected with the removal of a guardian of his niece and nephew, returned to Hillsboro Saturday evening. Mr. McQuillan succeeded in restoring over $10,000 worth of property to the estate which had never been placed on the inventory, and although the guardian fought hard to retain his grip the court had no hesitancy in making the removal. "Mc." feels that his trip was well repaid even if it did cost a pretty penny. The two children's mother, sister of Mr. McQuillan, died some months ago. She was known in this vicinity, having visited Mr. McQuillan a few years ago.

M'QUILLAN HOME SAVED FROM FLAMES

Handsome Residence Caught Fire Sunday Evening

DAMAGE IS ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS

Department did Fine Work Considering Headway

The handsome Wm. McQuillan home, on Second Street, between Oak and Baseline, had a narrow escape from total destruction by fire, Sunday evening, between 8 and 9 o'clock. The flames caught from an electric smoothing iron, to which the current was connected, the iron having been placed in the pantry. Before the fire was noticed it had eaten its way to the second story and there was a good sized conflagration on hand. The department responded and in a half hour had the blaze extinguished. It is estimated that it will take $1,000 to repair the house and make good the decoration work. The house is occupied by A. Gross and family, and they were in Portland at the time of the fire. Mr. McQuillan had worked around the house in the afternoon, but was up town at the time the blaze caught. The house was originally built by Dr. F. J. Bailey, who sold it to McQuillan after the latter had sold his farm to Fred Greener. Mr. McQuillan had just returned from California a day before the loss, and says he is thankful that it is no worse. Valuable rugs were practically ruined, but the furniture was not badly injured. The Gross family suffered considerable loss of clothing and linen. There was no insurance. The only accident worth mentioning befell Geo. Hunter, one of the firemen, who fell from a ladder and sprained his ankle.

Traced to Imperfect Sight.

How closely the nerves of the stomach act in sympathy with those of the eye can be demonstrated by placing an old person's glasses on a child with normal vision. The first symptom is that of dizziness, and if the glasses are left on for a longer time, nausea and vomiting follow. Therefore any person with poor vision is subjecting his nervous system to a strain which will manifest itself in some way or other.

Come in and find out whether you need glasses or not.
