A. GROSS, Hillsboro, Ore.

There is some talk of a canner for Hillsboro. That such an industry would pay goes without saying, and it is to be hoped that the gentleman who is promoting it will succeed. The waste of small fruit and vegetables in this section, annually, would pay a neat dividend to both the grower and cannery, and until we get something of the kind established the waste will continue. The non-utilization of what a community has is oftentimes the leak that means much to greater prosperity.

Farmers will have their Spring crops in in a few days and the consequent early sowing should mean an ample harvest. Old Washington County always does her share to the provident and improvident, and we generally get a better yield than other sections of the Willamette Valley.

There is talk that Joe Simon will be the assembly candidate for governor. The initiated seem to hear his "gentle voice" a-calling."
