BIG TIME AT ATHLETIC PARK NEXT SUNDAY

Business Men and Professional Men to Have Game

CARDINALS WILL PLAY FULTON

Band Will Be Out and J. W. Cave Will Empire Local Game

Next Sunday, commencing at 1:30 there will be "things doing" at Athletic park. The band will be out to discourse music and lend encouragement in the preliminary three-inning game, umpired by J. W. Cave, the contending sides being the professional men against the business men. In both lineups there are some oldtimers at the American game and that the tryout will afford plenty of amusement goes without the telling. Wm. Nelson, of the Nelson Hardware Co., will captain the business men, and the team will be selected from the following, those over the nine to play the bench until called into action by the crippling of some would-be athlete: Wm. Nelson, H. R. and L. F. Emmott, A. C. Shute, John Connell, G. A. Wehrung, A. Gross, Ed Schulmerich, Thos. Wyatt, Roy Greear, N. H. Alexander, Chas. Koozitz, Norman Greer, Willis Ireland and S. C. Killen.

The professional men's team, captained by G. W. Hare; W. G. Hare, Dr. J. P. Tammie, Geo. R. Badley, Dr. Pittenger, Dr. A. B. Bailey, E. B. Tongue, T. H. Tongue, Jr., Dr. W. D. Wood, Dr. Marshall, Dr. J. E. Adkins, Dr. Reagan, C. E. Lytle and L. A. Long. Cave swears he will be as just in his decisions as a league umpire, and that he will stand no back talk.

At 3:00 the Cardinals will play the Fulton side, a strong aggregation from the city, and Nick Williams will be in the box for the locals.

The afternoon should be a circus in baseball circles and the drug stores have already ordered fresh supplies of arnica and bandages, while the manager of each of the opposing local teams has made arrangements for quarters at the Sanitarium.

LOSES FIFTY DOLLARS.

W. H. Drost, engineer at the Hillsboro condenser, was waylaid by masked highwaymen in Portland, at East Second and East Main, last Saturday evening, and robbed of fifty dollars. His family formerly lived at 403 East Sixth, and he was going there to pack up his effects preparatory to moving them to Hillsboro. The robbery took place about 10:30 o'clock, and Mr. Drost says he had a good chance to see his men.

HIGH BRED JERSEYS

Scott and Duffy, owners of Sunnyside Farm, near Gaston, recently purchased a fine registered Jersey cow and heifer to add to their dairy herd. These are as well bred as any on the coast. The cow, Lemola's Prospect 19945, is a grand daughter on her sire's side, of the great Stoke Pogis, sire of 65 cows in the advanced registry, and of Inez of Riverside, a cow that produced 67 pounds of milk a day for seven days. On her dam's side she carries the blood of the noted bulls, Journalist, Pedro, Imported Tormentor. The heifer was sired by registered Gov. FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH IN OREGON COUNTRY

Will Have Been Organized Sixty Six Years, May 25th

BUILDING ERECTED IN FIFTY-THREE

Original Organizers are all Dead—Church Still Stands

West Union, several miles northeast of Hillsboro, claims the distinction of having the oldest Baptist Church in the state of Oregon. The organization was formed in 1844, and the original founders are all dead. These founders were well known to the Washington County pioneerage, and were: David T. Lenox and wife, Louisa; Henry Sewell, late father of Jas. H. and John W. Sewell; William Beagle and wife, Lucinda; and Alexander Blevin and wife, Lavina. On May 25, 1844, these people convened at the home of David Lenox and formed the church organization. They met at with Lenox several years, and in 1853 built the frame church, which now stands, a monument of time and early Christian spirit. Aside from a new foundation and roof, the building is still there, and will yet stand for years. William Kane, the Forest Grove pioneer, erected the structure, and on Christmas Day, 1853, it was dedicated, Rev. Ezra Fisher preaching dedicatory sermon.

The builder still lives at the Grove, and has one son, F. T., living in Hillsboro. Zina Wood Sr., of Hillsboro, has been a member of the church since 1853, and the historic spot was a gathering place for the young men of the day. There were no fences in those times, and a troop of horsemen would ride from Forest Grove and Hillsboro, across country, to services at the Lenox home, and later at the church. Rev. Vincent Snelling was the first pastor, and he was the first Baptist preacher West of the Rocky Mountains.

TRIP TO TIMBER

General Manager C. E. Lytle went out to the front Sunday in a special, and the train went as far as Timber, stopping at the Brice Wilson place. The train was in charge of Thos. Rood as conductor, and Bert Follett, brakeman, with Chas. Follett at the throttle, and Penn Frost, fireman. A party went along as guests of Mr. Lytle, and after inspecting the Stephenson sawmill, a fine dinner was served.

The trip was a revelation to those who had never been over the line, and the heavy work involved, and thousands of dollars spent to get the track as far as Timber, was enough to satisfy those who thought perhaps the work had been going along slowly. The route is scenic enough for anyone, and when you reach Timber you enter the finest timber belt in the Northwest. The Stephenson sawmill has a large force of men at work on one of the finest mills in the mountain section, and it will take nearly $50,000 in expenditure before it will be ready to cut. The mill posts are set on a concrete foundation, and all the machinery is of the newest manufacture. The plant is located for a run of several years, and is within a short distance of Brice Wilson's place. Those present as guests of Mr. Lytle were: Postmaster B. P. Cornelius, John Dennis, E. L. McCormick, L. A. Long, Earl Luther, Robt. Hartrampf, R. C. Vaught, of Hillsboro, and Hugh Rogers, of Buxton, was along as general factotum. The luncheon was all that could be wished for a picnic trip, and had the earnest plaudits of the party. Robt. From, the champion at luncheon, was also in the party.

Clean-up day was celebrated in Hillsboro to the queen's taste, and several dray loads of old tin cans were relegated to the ravines on the highways outside of town. Nearly everybody entered into the spirit of the occasion, and as a result the city looks a great deal better. Some yards, however, which divested themselves of the cans still have a lot of unsightly refuse on duty.

August Berry, farming the Kerron place, Cedar Mill, was up Monday. He says that he has in 75 acres of early oats, and expects to seed 35 acres more.

H. T. Blair was out from Portland, Sunday, guest of his mother, Mrs. Ruth Blair.
