

W. BAGLEY GETS BIG MONEY ORDER

Cashes It Through Apprehension That Money is His Own

SETS INTO TROUBLE WITH U. S. Letter of Advice Received Shows Innocence, However

Some time ago John G. Weiss, of east of Beaverton, and near the Tigardville section, was looking for some money from Germany. The draft did not come, although its sending had been assured. Later it was found that a letter to John G. Weiss had been taken out of the Portland postoffice and a money order for $100 cashed. Mr. Weiss, of Washington County, immediately put the matter in the hands of the federal officers, who soon found the man who had cashed the money order. It was also a John G. Weiss, of Lents, who had cashed the money order and gone to Crook County to locate on a homestead. It appears that he was defrauded and refused to pay the locator. Upon his return to Portland a few days ago he was arrested for cashing another man's money order. The Lents Weiss protested his innocence, and said that he had cashed the order, and the only fault was that the draft did not call for all that was on the order, the other day the Lents Weiss received a letter from Germany, and in it was $100, and a statement that no money had been sent him before. This was enough assurance that the original $100 was not his money, and the Washington County Weiss received his $100, while the Lents namesake was given his freedom by the federal courts a hard combination to get away from, as a rule.

COMET PASSED YESTERDAY EVE

Nothing But Slight Crimson Glow in Western Sky

NOTHING SPECTACULAR WAS SIGHT Transit Across Sun Eagerly Watched for by Many

Halley's comet made its transit between the sun and earth about 6:30 last evening, and the smoked glass was brought into requisition by many, but to no avail. It enabled one to almost look at the sun with a naked eye, but no one was able to see anything except a slight haze.

The only thing out of the ordinary was a pink haze, about 6:40, in the western sky, and this reached from the sun clear down against the mountain back of Forest Grove.

The time table for the comet will be found in another column in this issue, and if you'll watch you will find out just how close our astronomical friends are guessing.

Runaway Causes Alarm

What might have been a very serious runaway accident occurred on last Saturday evening, when a prominent young lady visiting home folks on Iowa Hill was returning from Cornelius in her buggy. When part way out, her horse became frightened and ran away and finally dumped the young lady out near the home of John Koehnke, who kindly cared for her slight injuries. But in the meantime, the buggy and harness had been demolished, and the animal was sailing for home as fast as a set of feet could carry her. She did not escape the eyes of some young men along the road who knew the animal and knew the driver. Telephone bells began to ring, young men and boys began to fly here and there, some on foot, some on horse back, some in top buggies; and some of the older heads even improvised an ambulance, for the young lady was expected to be found dying. All started down the road. One young man missed her on the way and went to Cornelius, and hunted until after midnight, whilst another chance to be more lucky and found the lady at Mr. Koehnke's and took her home to her anxious mother. So the friends of Miss Bethah Lynch can congratulate her on her very narrow escape—Communicated.
