

THE HILLSBORO ARGUS.

VOL. XVII HILLSBORO, OREGON, JUNE 16, 1910. NO. 14

ROCK HAULING BEGINS EARLY IN JULY ON S. P.

Supt. O'Brien Telegraphs That Spur Will be Ready by July 1

WILL SEND SIDE DUMP GONDOLAS

Will Unload at no Cost to the County on P. R. & N. and Jobe's

Superintendent J. P. O'Brien, of the Southern Pacific, has telegraphed the county court that the Southern Pacific will have the spur and side track laid into the Oswego stone quarry by July 1, and will then be ready to haul rock for the roads at Hillsboro, Cornelius and Forest Grove at the rate of 25 cents per ton. Their freight agent, Mr. Hinshaw, came out to see General Manager Lytle, of the P. R. & N., and that official tendered the use of the P. R. & N. for their switching, free of charge, and side-dump cars will be laden at the quarry and switched up to the Main Street crossing of the Tillamook road, by S. P. power, the cars dumped and taken away immediately, and all without any charge by the Lytle road. Cars will be dumped at the Billings' crossing, North Hillsboro, on the same basis for the Northwest rock work, and the Main Street stop will be used for the rockwork out toward the Jackson place. The S. P. will also unload near Jobe's for the rock work in that section.

The county court will at once install the crusher, and it will take them two weeks or more to get ready for crushing. Whether or not a new crusher will be needed is not yet determined, but more than likely this will be the case.

The construction train on the Beaverton-Hillsboro cut-off will take in the crusher and unload it at the Oswego quarry. The gross charge as far as Hillsboro will be 25 cents per ton, and the method of unloading will also save the special tax much money in unloading. Judge Goodin is now positive that rock will be delivered early in July and it will be crushed rapidly enough to forward enough to utilize all the special tax before the rains commence next fall.

A couple of Swedes from the "front" afforded a great deal of amusement the other day, while in town, enroute to Portland. Each was rather above the average in intellect, and their conversation was more or less controversial. The word "sucker" was finally called into question, and one said: "Ay bet yu a do-ler, yu can't tal wat a sucker bane!" His companion took up the wager and his answer was a revelation to the bystanders. "Ay sucker bane a fule who hane more simpier minded as oder faller." And he won his bet without any quibble.

The heavy rainfall of Friday night meant perhaps a half million of dollars for Washington County farmers and it came just at the opportune time. Grain, especially the late sown, was badly in need of moisture, and the vegetable crop is now smiling with luxuriance. Jupiter P. came along just on schedule time and the farmer can now smile.

NEW MUD SILLS FOR OLD CO. COURT HOUSE

Was Built in Eighteen Fifty Two, and Hand Dressed

NOW LOCATED ON MAIN STREET, CITY

Wood Work of Walls Still in Fine Condition After 58 Years

Geo. M. Hunter this week has been engaged in putting in new mud and ground sills under the old county court house—Washington County's first frame court house—now occupied by the Wigwam and the Sorenson barber shop. This is the building of antiquity, so far as business buildings go, and was built in 1852, when all lumber was planed and dressed by hand. The weather boarding and the interior walls are still in splendid repair, and the structure has withstood the ravages of time better than its builders ever dreamed. Of those who took part in its carpenter work but two are living, Henry Wehrung, of Hillsboro, and William Kane, of Forest Grove. The late James Imbrie was one of the contractors.

The structure was moved to its present site years ago, when the county put up its first brick structure.

In olden days prominent men of Oregon practiced law within its walls—Logan, John H. Mitchell, the late Senator Dolph, and Geo. H. Williams, subsequently U. S. Attorney General.

Thos. Tucker is alive of all the commissioners who held county court within its confines.

With a little remodeling this old building will last another 20 years, unless it is removed to make place for a brick.

The surviving children are: Walter, aged 23; Harry, aged 21; Theresa, aged 18; and Wilma, aged 13 years, all at home.

The funeral took place Tuesday, at the family home, at 10 a. m., Rev. Lueke officiating. Interment was at Blooming.

MAN KILLED

Andrew Haaba, a native of Finland, was killed, Saturday, in a slide of earth in a tunnel near the station 2038, above Timber, and by the time he was released death had ensued. Haaba was working with a fellow Finlander when the slide took place. The earth knocked the cap of timber off a post and fell on the victim. Earth tumbled over him, and he cried for help. Otto Maki, who was with him, with the aid of Louis Rose, who was working close by, released the unfortunate man, but he was unconscious when extricated, and they think he was dead. Louis Rose says the work was being prosecuted as usual, and no blame is attached to anyone. The dead man was working for Hannan & Davis. A. B. Davis stated to the coroner, that Haaba had about $25 coming to him. Haaba was about 21 years of age. The jury sitting on the case and sworn by Coroner E. C. Brown were: E. A. Ives, Guy Jefferson, R. Templeman, H. M. Leby, Martin Hostness and E. Anderson. The verdict was that deceased came to his death by suffocation caused by a cave-in in a trap tunnel on the railroad grade.

BUXTON TO CELEBRATE

Buxton is to hold an old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration this year, and bills are now out announcing one of the best times ever held in that section. There will be oratory galore, games and contests, baseball—and a race between trained cows. Buxton people are going to give their home people entertainment, and they expect a record breaking crowd on July 4. Frank Petzlik, chairman of the committee, and David O'Donnell, who are rustling for the big time, invite everybody to the "doings."

TWO WILLS FILED

Two wills were filed in probate the last of the week. Riley Cave's last will and testament leaves to the widow the lot and home residence on Washington Street; leaves the westerly lot, adjoining, to Miss Rose; and the business building to J. W. Cave, who is named as executor without bonds. One half of the rental of the building will go to Mrs. Cave during her lifetime.

The will of Mrs. Eliza Barrett, W. N. Barrett, son, executor, leaves her personal property to all her children, share and share alike, except that the household property is left to Miss Deborah Barrett.

PORTLAND BLUES LOSE TO CARDINALS

Williams Strikes Out Nine of the Visiting Team

THE SCORE WAS FIVE TO TWO

Cardinal Pitcher Walked no Man to First Base

The Cardinals added another scalp to their belt Sunday afternoon, when they took the Portland Blues into camp by a score of five to two. The visitors were a good amateur team but they found a Waterloo. Nick Williams struck out nine men and never allowed a walk to first base during the game, except when he hit Hansen with a pitched ball. The visiting pitcher, Crandall, struck out but four men and allowed three bases on balls. Baseball luck was with the Cardinals and the game was in no danger except in the seventh inning, when the Blues tied the score, the game at the end of the inning standing two to two. In the 8th inning the Cardinals clinched it by running three over the home plate. In this inning Hinkle was the first up. He smashed out a hit, made first then stole second; Briggs made first through an error of the pitcher, when Houston walked, filling the bases. The Blues then threw the ball away and before Freeman, Batchelor and Phelps were retired, Hinkle, Briggs and Houston had crossed over.

Williams pitched league ball all the time and closed his fifth game with fifty-one strike-outs. The game was the shortest and fastest played on the local grounds since the days of the old Diamond-W. nine, and the time consumed was but one hour and 38 minutes. The six errors of the visitors were costly—but they were errors made every day in baseball. The Cardinals had but two errors chalked to them and this is some playing. The line-up:
