LONG & McKINNEY

The Indian war veterans held their annual meeting in Portland this week, fewer in numbers than heretofore. Those old defenders have at last been recognized by the general government after the State of Oregon had taken the initiative and provided payment for their services in the Indian wars. Shoulder to shoulder with the veterans of the Civil war these old Indians fighters are now recognized as "uncommon defenders of a common country."

The beginning of permanent roadwork around Hillsboro marks a new epoch for betterment. Washington County has the best soil in the state and its productiveness is unexcelled. All we need is better roads, and our poor highways have been our greatest drawback. When roads leading to the city shall have been rocked and the town has hard surface on its principal business streets we shall then be in civilization.

The big fight goes to Nevada—Reno capturing the prize. Gov. Gillett, of California, gave orders to stop the mill in San Francisco and the pugs moved. With all its odium, however, it is amusing to watch the public interest in the game. And, all things equal, it is not so fraught with mortality as the much touted football.

Teddy came home and was given the ovation of his life in New York—and before the enthusiasm died out Count Zeppelin, the German aviator, sailed his airship 300 miles without stopping, carrying over 50 passengers. There's no heading off the "Dutch."

ROLL OF HONOR

Those neither absent nor tardy during the school year in the Hillsboro public schools: Zola Welch, Harold Lake, Clifton Dodge, Raymond Dodge, Mattie Case and Albert Schomberg.

REVIVAL MEETINGS

"The Dance Done Up" will be the subject of Mr. Hart's address at the big tent tonight, and it is a question if half the people who want to hear it can possibly get in to the tent, although it has been enlarged and holds a thousand people. Forest Grove, Cornelius, Orengo and nearby towns are all well represented.

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Mr. Hart will hold a mass meeting for men only, and he will deliver his confidential talk to men. Special music is being arranged for the occasion, consisting of a male quartet and solos by Mr. Magrann. No boys under 12 will be admitted to this service. This is said to be Mr. Hart's greatest. No man in Hillsboro can afford to be absent.

Friday night, Mr. Hart will speak on "The Unanswerable Question;" Sunday night on "The Unpardonable Sin, and next Tuesday night on "The Sin of the Theatre."

Thursday of next week will be "Oregon Dry Day," and the whole county is invited to come and bring their lunch baskets and have a great all-day meeting. Mr. Hart will speak at 10:30 a. m., 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. His subject at the afternoon meeting will be "Do Saloons Pay?"—Contributed.

Bernards—Van Loo

Mr. Frank Bernards and Miss Charlotta Van Loo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Van Loo, were united in marriage at the Verhoort Catholic Church, June 22, 1910. Father LeMiller officiating. There were fully one hundred and fifty guests at the solemnization of the nuptials. Both are popular young people of their vicinity. They will live on the farm of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Bernards are receiving the congratulations of a host of friends.

The Pythians of the county attending Grand Lodge this week are: George Schulmerich, Grand Prokate, and W. G. Hare and F. A. Barber, Hillsboro; H. B. Johnson and Ed. W. Wirtz, Forest Grove; A. Benson and O. S. Hatch, Cornelius; John Loftis, Glencoe, and J. H. Wescott and J. W. White, of Gaston.

ROY COOK, Floor Manager. H. A. LYTLE, Manager.

Attorney John M. Wall and wife returned last evening from a several weeks trip to Indiana and Illinois. They stopped at many points of interest going and coming, and Mr. Wall says that after all there is no place like "Old Oregon." Back in Indiana, where they had the late freeze, and were compelled to replant, the corn is just getting above the ground, ready for its first cultivation. The early fruits, so much in evidence here, is painfully absent back there, and while there is a general prosperity everywhere he says that after a man lives in Oregon a few years he can't like any other place for a permanent abode.

Taken Up—Black yearling heifer; very thin; no marks. Owner call, prove property, pay advertising and pasturage and take her away. J. E. Price, Hillsboro, Route 3, 2 1/2 miles north of Hillsboro, on the Jolly donation.

It is reported that Jim Jefferies will come to Washington County in August and enjoy a deer hunt on Saddle Mountain. Chas. F. Miller is to be the referee, so they say, and J. H. Wescott, of Gaston, A. J. Winters and Con McNamer, timekeepers, while the veteran huntsman, Geo. Armentrout, who at 80 years can bring down a buck, will be the captain of the crowd. If Jeff gets sulky Armentrout will give him a "left hook" once in a while, if he can persuade the big fellow to put on the gloves.

Did you take notice of the new line of back combs at Libby's? They are just "beauts," and the price just suits.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Carstens, of Roy, were down to the county seat this afternoon.

J. A. Chapman, of near Middleton, was up to the county seat, today.

J. L. Simpson, of South Tualatin, and who is raising some good fruit, was over to the city this morning.

M. Susbauer was elected director and L. K. Fisk as clerk at the Cornelius school meeting, Monday.

Leo Schwander, of above Mountaindale, and who swamped out a neat home in the wilderness, was in town today, and called on the Argus.

Dan Burkhalter, of near Farmington, was in town today. D. B. is a long time moving to town to take that promised rest.

Hillsboro will close all its stores on the Fourth of July. This is the proper spirit. Get out and celebrate Independence Day.

J. T. Morrison, of near Farmington, is exhibiting some fine vetch, grown since last September. It is on exhibition at the Imbrie Land Co.

Request for Proposals

School District No. 94, of Washington County, will receive bids up to noon, July 18, 1910, for either digging or drilling a well. The school board reserves the right to reject any or all bids. Address all proposals to W. G. Grashorn, Beaverton, Oregon, Route 2, Beaverton, Ore., June 20, 1910.

Cashier A. C. Shute, of the Shute Bank, is attending the Bankers' convention at Pendleton, this week.

Lawrence Huffacker and Minnie L. Mizner; Harry Maller and Marie Winkle, and John H. Berger and May L. Hoffman were granted license to wed this week.

Frank Simpson, of South Tualatin, was in town this morning. Frank is over his soreness contracted while playing the famous baseball game.

The republican county central committee are in session in the city as the Argus goes to press and it is a safe proposition to say that they will vote to adopt the assembly plan.

Dr. D. W. Ward, the old-time practitioner of Forest Grove, and who has been at North Bend for some time, again being located in the college city, was down to the county seat today.

Elma C. Olds, married to Frank Olds in Clackamas, in 1906, wishes a divorce. She alleges that her husband frequently called her a liar and fool, and told her at various times to "shut her mouth," interspersing considerable profanity. She says she was deserted in 1908.

Hon. C. F. Tigard, who lived at Tigardville as boy and man, was up to the city today, and called on the Argus. Mr. Tigard has seen Tigardville put on the map, and finds things different down that way since the electric line went in.

F. S. Barnes, of Forest Grove, and who is an archery enthusiast, was down today, attending circuit court. Mr. Barnes is one of the best bow-makers in the United States and his handiwork is the recipient of praise from archers all over the country.

The Independent thinks the saving of the freight on the rock from the Oswego quarry as against the hauling from the proposed Tualatin quarry, amounts to nothing and leaves the inference that Commissioners McClaran and Butner are not to be commended for any economy. Be that as it may, if the wonder will just figure a little he will find out that the saving "which amounts to nothing" will run up into dollars mighty rapidly.
