

GOPHER GUN CASE LOST IN COURT

Pacific University and W. N. Ferrin get a Non-Suit, Friday

PLAINTIFF SAYS WILL APPEAL Damage Case Against Pacific Coast Milk Company Tried

The case of the Hill boy, of Forest Grove, wherein suit was brought for $10,000 for the loss of a finger, which was shot off by a gopher gun, met with disaster, last Friday morning, when Judge Campbell directed the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendants, Pacific University and W. N. Ferrin, its president. The plaintiffs then asked for a non-suit as against the caretaker, who also was one of the defendants.

The attorneys for the plaintiff state that they will appeal the decision to the Supreme Court.

Other business transacted: Divorce decrees in Emrick vs Emrick; Mills vs Mills.

Personal property not in mortgage, Brown Lumber Co. ordered sold.

Case of Foote vs Sewell, for return of will, set for July 8.

Clerk ordered to draw a jury for the July term.

Trial of Foote vs Hamel et al., now on trial, plaintiff asking for cancellation or return of deeds issued by John Foote.

Grand jury met this morning and is now in session.

HEMSWORTH BREAKS LEG

W. H. Hemsworth, now a restaurateur of Portland, on Fourth Street, broke one of his legs at the Southern Pacific depot, west, this morning, in attempting to leave the Corvallis overland. Hemsworth was ticketed to Hillsboro and was in the rear coach. When the train pulled in at the station he thought the stop was being made at Fifth Street, and it was only when he discovered that he was at the condenser that he was aware that he was being carried past. He asked the brakeman to pull down the engine but his request was not granted. He then attempted to disembark with the result that his leg turned under him and he sustained a fracture just below the knee—a very bad break.

He was taken to the Sanitarium on a stretcher, and Dr. Tamsieie reduced the fractured member. Mr. Hemsworth is an engineer of 20 years standing and took his first position with Dan McLaughlin, now here with the P. R. & N. For several years he has been in charge of locomotives down at San Jose, Cal., but the first of the year came up to Portland on a six months' layoff and bought into the restaurant. Mr. Hemsworth is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Hayman, of above Mountaine, and he was enroute to the Hayman home when the accident took place.

MRS. J. A. IRMLER

Mrs. Clara Irmeler, wife of J. A. Irmeler, died at her home in Cornelius, Sunday, June 26, 1910, at the age of 29 years. She was the daughter of William Bennett and wife, and was born in Washington County, March 19, 1881, and was wedded to Mr. Irmeler Nov. 12, 1902. The funeral was held in the Cornelius Methodist Church, Tuesday, and interment was in the Cornelius cemetery.

The Forest Grove Colts went to McMinnville, Sunday, and played St. Paul. The Colts had the game snugly tucked away in their suit cases by a score of 8 to 3 in the beginning of the ninth inning, when things changed. The Colts say that the people surged out to the foul lines on both sides and commenced yelling for a batting rally for St. Paul. When the Colts protested they were told that lines or no lines they must play or forfeit their percentage. They played and the St. Paul team ran over six scores—and as a consequence the Colts claim their defeat was a barefaced robbery.

BIG PARADE OF ANIMAL SHOWS

Takes Place Saturday Morning, at 10:30 From Second & Main

OTHER NOTES ON CELEBRATION Demand for Concessions the Largest in History of the Town

Hillsboro's three days of celebration will lead off Saturday morning with a big parade of Arnold's Shows, starting from Second and Main, and a long line of animals, in open dens, will be the principal feature. Two bands will figure in the parade, one led by Prof. Parker, of Hillsboro, and the Arnold band led by Prof. Powell, a former Hillsboro band leader.

OTHER NOTES There will be all kinds of open air free attractions on the celebration grounds.

Oscar Lund will read the Declaration of Independence. The committee on concessions say that the demand for space was never better.

Post Master Cornelius, chairman of the executive committee, says that Hillsboro will have a great crowd. They are coming—even from the Nehalem.

Arnold is bringing a greater lot of attractions than ever. The celebration grounds are in fine shape.

The Cornelius veteran encampment opens tomorrow and they will have four days of it. Hillsboro has three days of celebration—Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

A baseball game each day; a balloon ascension each day; and all kinds of sports, games and attractions, should make the Hillsboro celebration a great success.

At the last minute Judge T. J. Cleeton apprises the committee that he cannot be here on July 4, and the committee thereupon secured R. R. Butler, of Condon, Mr. Butler will be remembered as having been elected presidential elector at the last election, and he is a splendid orator. To miss him will be to miss a rare treat.

SAYS BEST IN VALLEY E. J. Arnold, who has brought all his big shows here, says that Hillsboro will positively have the best attractions of any town in the Willamette Valley. He has had calls from almost every town holding a celebration, and he says he has ignored them and brought all his shows with him. There will be more free features than ever before staged in the city, and better exhibits of animals, dogs, ponies, monkeys and wild animals than have been seen here for many years.

Mr. Arnold has been here many seasons and he always delivers what he advertises.

STOTZ—WEATHERED A pretty June wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Weathered, in Hillsboro, Wednesday evening, June 29, 1910, when their daughter, Florence May, was united in marriage to Frank H. Stotz, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Sholes. The rooms were decorated in white and green, with sweet peas, mock orange, and asparagus in profusion, while the impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. F. V. Fisher under a shower of white satin ribbon and orange blossoms. The bride wore white batiste and lace over silk, and carried a huge shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Her veil was fastened with a diamond bar. Miss Lucy Weathered, in white silk net with pale green ribbons, was bridesmaid. She carried white rosebuds. Robert Weathered was best man, and Miss Wilma Waggener played the wedding march.

After the ceremony a luncheon was served. The dining room, also decorated in green and white was lighted by candles. The bride and groom left for Portland by automobile, and will take a trip to British Columbia. Those present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Sholes, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Weathered and family, Mrs. Edith Tozier Weathered, Miss Wilma Waggener, Miss Eva Bailey and Miss Mary Sewell.

The groom is cashier of the Cornelius State Bank, and the bride is one of Hillsboro's most popular and accomplished young ladies.

HART AND MAGANN MEETINGS The Big Tent on the Court House grounds has been crowded this past week at the revival meetings of Hart and Magann. Over seven hundred men heard the address of last Sunday afternoon, while over a thousand people were there at night.
