

THE HILLSBORO ARGUS.

BIG CROWDS COUNTY SEAT AND CORNELIUS

Celebrations Pass off Orderly at Both Places, Monday

MANY PORTLAND PEOPLE OUT

Judge Butler, Condon, Orator at Hillsboro; John M. Wall, Cornelius

Hillsboro and Cornelius had celebrations, Monday, that an Englishman would call "ripping", and it is estimated that between the two places fully fifteen thousand people paid tribute to Independence day and the gods of good times.

The returns from the Reno fight July 4 were received by telephone at Wiley's saloon, and also at the baseball grounds.

The W. D. Hare homestead residence, on Main Street, east of Fourth, caught fire, Sunday, about noon, the blaze catching in an upstairs room.

Geo. Miller, a former Hillsboro resident, is in the city this week, the guest of his sister, Mrs. C. D. Kimberlin.

CORNELIUS BLASER JR.

Cornelius Blaser Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Blaser, died July 1, 1910, at the family home, Second and Oak Streets, after an illness of several months, his affliction being tuberculosis.

L. L. Crawford, of Crawford station, above Banks, was in the city the first of the week, attending a case in circuit court.

The Climax Milling Co. will furnish sacks free of charge to farmers desiring to sell or store their wheat at their warehouse.

J. D. C. Thomas, who is a special agent of the United States Land Office, has been transferred from Huron, Dakota, to Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Want to rent small place with garden land. Desire ranch suitable for poultry. Will pay cash rent, or cut cordwood for payment. Wish to take possession October 1. Write particulars.—M. C. Post, Cornelius, Or. 17-9

Dean G. Ray, of Ray & Son, who have 200 acres of hons at Witch Hazel and Reedville, and 160 acres of the product up on a Polk county ranch, was in town Saturday. He says the vines are looking very fine in both sections.

R. K. Simpson, who recently returned from Vallejo, Cal., where his wife is still visiting, says that he has returned to Oregon because his health has been so bad. He was ill nearly all the time he was South, but says he now feels a great deal better.

The Board of Trustees for Pacific University met in Portland last week and made the following elections: H. W. Scott, of the Oregonian, president; Frank M. Warren, treasurer; Napoleon Davis, secretary; Newton McCoy, assistant secretary; new members of the board of trustees, Dr. J. K. Wilson, Portland, and E. P. McCormack, Salem. William G. Harrington, of Iowa, was chosen for the professorship of public speaking, vice F. W. Orr. A growing student body was reported, and plans for new work were discussed. The finance committee was instructed to arrange for funds for a $20,000 building on the southwest portion of the campus, to be used as a library. This is to be built as soon as the library fund is completed.

The returns from the Reno fight July 4 were received by telephone at Wiley's saloon, and also at the baseball grounds. The reports came in rather slow at the grounds, and only two or three bulletins were read before the colored man won by finishing Jeffries. Of the entire fifteen rounds, when the knockout came, but four or five reached the grandstand in the park. Very little money was lost on the result in Hillsboro, and when the ball game was progressing the interest seemed keener in the ball contest than in the fight that was attracting the attention of the entire sporting world.

The W. D. Hare homestead residence, on Main Street, east of Fourth, caught fire, Sunday, about noon, the blaze catching in an upstairs room. The fire alarm was turned in and the chemical and other help soon had the blaze under control, and the total damage will not exceed $25, if it is that much. Mrs. Henrietta Morgan resides there, and does not know just how the fire started. The damage to the furniture was fully covered by insurance, and this is the greater loss lays. The house belongs to Attorney W. G. Hare.

Geo. Miller, a former Hillsboro resident, is in the city this week, the guest of his sister, Mrs. C. D. Kimberlin. He is nursing a broken wrist and arm, sustained in a very peculiar manner. He was working on the roof of a house, over at Castle Rock, Wash., when without warning of sound, a dead limb, which had fallen 100 feet, fell from a dead tree and struck the arm. Had his hand not been poised in the air at the time it doubtless would have mangled it so that amputation would have been necessary. As it is he will have the use of the member after a few weeks.

Drain your low land and make it produce double. We will start the manufacture of the largest tile in a few days. We now have a supply of 4-inch, 5-inch and 6-inch, on hand. Put in your order at once. Our clay is the best for producing good durable tiling. Order now.—Groner & Rowell, Co., Scholls, Hillsboro, Ore., Route 2, Ind. Tel. 71f If you want big tile be sure and put in your order by July 10.

Rufus Waggener and wife, of Newport, were over to Hillsboro the first of the week, visiting old friends. Mr. Waggener formerly owned and conducted the Tuatlan Hotel, where he was Mine Host for many years. He has just moved into a new cottage, just finished by Contractor Holland and Mr. Buzhard, of Hillsboro.

Michael Bowes, working on the United, east of Glencoe, died June 30 and his remains were brought to the city and placed in Donelson's undertaking parlors, where they were held until July 4, when they were shipped to Los Angeles. From there they will be shipped to Pasadena, Cal., where his wife and one child reside. Bowes was about 45 years of age.

Gay Lombard, the Portland capitalist, motored to San Francisco, last week, enroute to Reno, to see the Jeffries-Johnson fight, but was taken to the hospital when he reached the Golden Gate city. Mr. Lombard was stricken with appendicitis, and was operated upon at once. His condition was Tuesday reported as critical.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Persinger, of near Helvetia, were in the city Tuesday. They came here from Omaha, two months or so ago, and would like to meet some people who hail from Luxemburg, Germany. Their address is Hillsboro, Ore., Route 1, and a postal from any one in this section would meet with a response.

Dr. Harrison and wife, of Portland, were guests at the Willis Ireland home, Monday.

CARDINALS PLAY A SHUTOUT GAME

One of the Closest Games Ever Played on Local Grounds

BEAT THE CATHOLIC TEAM 1 TO 0

Williams Struck out Ten Men and Walked Not a Batter

The return game July 4 between the Cardinals and the Catholic Young Men's Club at Athletic Park, July 4, was one of the prettiest games ever witnessed here and it was a shutout proposition. Nick Williams struck out ten men and did not walk a man to first base save and except one batter whom he hit with the ball. The Cardinals won the lone score through a throw to second base, wherein the visiting second baseman and shortstop had their signals crossed and neither was there to cover the bag. This was when Brown stole second. The ball passed second base and went clear into the field. Brown kept on running and made home easily before the sphere was recovered. The visiting pitcher did not strike out many, but he held the hits down well. There were one thousand paid admissions, and with the free list and little fellows, it is estimated that 1,250 people were in the enclosure. The left field fence was lined with people and ground rules were called. Every one of the Cardinals was on his toes and not an error was charged to either side by the official scorer.

HILLSBORO WOMAN WRITES OF TRIP

Delegate Representing This City Furnishes Information

TELLS OF GREAT WOMAN'S MOVEMENT

League Had Representation of Eight Thousand People

Miss Emma Everitt, of this city, has returned from a trip to St. Louis, where she attended the convention of the American Woman's League. Miss Everitt conveys her impressions in the following letter to the Argus:

Dear Editor:— I wish to tell the readers of your valued paper something about the good things I saw and enjoyed while at University City, St. Louis, Missouri, which I was sent as a delegate, from Grace Chapter, Hillsboro, to the First National Convention of the American Woman's League.

There were about eight thousand women in attendance, besides a number of men. We spent the first day in viewing the spacious grounds, magnificent buildings and their contents, not the least interesting of which was the Woman's National Daily building, which is of Egyptian style of architecture, built of white marble, dimensions 200 feet long by 85 by 65, entirely lighted from the top.

Money to loan on real estate security. We sell farms. Try us.—The Webfoot Realty Co., Hillsboro, 121f

Miss Wilma Waggener, formerly of this city, has again been retained as musical instructor for McMinnville College, for another year.

Ice cream delivered to any part of the town. Remember we have Hazelwood. Both telephones.—Koeber's Confectionery.

M. J. Reiling, formerly of near Roy, and later owner of a place near Centerville, recently moved from Woodburn to Crabtree, Oregon.

Keep your chickens enclosed! Just received—a large consignment of poultry wire. Now is the time to buy.—Emerick & Corwin.

This week was pension voucher week for many residing here and notaries and the clerk's office were kept rather busy filling out the blanks.

The Banks excursion to the celebration was very well patronized, Monday, and probably a hundred or so came in on the P. R. & N.

Forty acres for sale; Partly cleared; one-fourth mile from school house; two and one half miles from railway station, near Glencoe. Price, $1850.

Dr. G. F. Schmelzel, osteopathic physician, of Portland, will be at the Commercial Hotel, Hillsboro, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays of every week. Hours 1.00 p. m. to 4.00. 131f

Mrs. E. Maltby, of Wilson Creek, Washington, and a former resident of near Greenville, was a guest at the Mrs. Wilson home, the past week. Her husband is in the hardware business at Wilson Creek.

Groceries at cost—White River flour, $1.40; A. & H. soda, 5c; best corn starch, 5c; 50 lb. dairy salt, 35c; 50 lbs. H. G. salt, 25c; Blue Ribbon corn, 8c; Blue Ribbon tomatoes, 8c. All other articles in proportion.—H. Wehrung & Sons.

H. Huntentam, who is irrigating his farm southwest of town, was in the last of the week. He has been putting water on for several weeks, but is now putting in a concrete foundation under the gasoline engine.

The weather of the last week was very acceptable to those who had hay cut, and to those who wanted a fair day on the Fourth. While the weather bureau predicted showery conditions Monday the sky sent down no moisture. The day was as near ideal as one could wish.

Mrs. M. A. Powell returned the first of the week from a trip to Linn County, where she was compelled to go to get affidavits of her marriage with her late husband. They were wedded at Jefferson, in 1858, and the government insists that a copy of the marriage license shall be produced when the pension of a husband is transferred. In those days it was generally several months before a return was filed, and in many counties in this state many marriages were not recorded at all.
