HERE IS YOUR

geristration of Land Title

HE CHELLE COURT OF THE IMPROVEDENTY

of the application of John not notherd and wife, of the Title to the forpration of the Title to the fol-ped real property situate in of warmington and State of a pretroducte described a described situation of the North described edicit in investiga-prance times (3) west, Wil-pert 44 chs, and 60 links of the links and 51 links, it chains and 51 links, it chains and 51 links, it chains and 51 links, a part of the North embig twith, range lavid Frantition, and to the as of the chook Kuder and Jack satisfied the 12 day of July. wood hosbend and control Washington initial registration of above described, at you appear on or before le taken as conferred the entered according to the applicants and yes from disputing the he Clerat. Court, of the State of or Washington County. A three, the energy for applicants.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

new hersby given that I, the un to of Oregon, for Wash dule appointed Adminisand lines qualified as such a larger claims against said herder nothing to present the W. N. Increst, in Hillshore, million are months from this

DE CHARST EVEREST. of the Estate of Andrew S Europe, Attorney for said En-

Try the Argus and Oregonian hen mar, only $2.25.

Discount On All LOW SHOES

We have quite a number of low shoes, including, Oxford ties, pumps, etc., and for one week we will make a special discount of 10 per cent.

THE C. C. STORE

YOU CANSAVE MONEY

By buying your Doors, Windows and Plaster of us. We sell them cheaper than you can get them in PORTLAND and also save you the freight.

FRENTZEL & McFARLANE BROS. Main St. and P. R. & N. Tracks

BUY DIRECT AND SAVE MONEY THE START MIDDLEMENT

WE SAVE YOU MIDDLEMENS' PROFITS

CHARTER NO. So36.

CONDENSED REPORT OF

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF FOREST GROVE, OREGON.

At the Close of Business March 29, 1910,

the time without the kinner	MARKET RESPONSE FOR THE PARTY OF THE PARTY O
ASSETS	LIABILITES
Louis and Discounts $ 91,247.47. U.S. and Other Bonds 46,875.00 Busing House Fixtures 11,210.36. Other Beal Estate 2,982.92	Capital
Cash and Exchange 45,207.53	Deposits 141,581.90

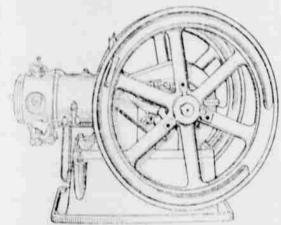

Directors: -L. J. Corl., John Templeton, T. W. Sain, H. MOFF, E. W. HAINES, GEORGE MIZNER, LEVI SMITH, W. H. HOLLIS, W. K. NEWELL, H. T. BUXTON.

We appreciate your paronage and hope to merit a continnance of same.

Diffeoirs: Official statement January 31, 1910, $108,635,91 Directus: Official statement March 29, 1910, $141,581,90.

Increase in Deposits 30 per cent.

OLDS' Type "A" Engine FROM 11 TO 12 H. P

IT'S AS SIMPLE AS IT LOOKS

(The engine adopted by the U. S. Government.) UP-TO-DATE: -It's not a mere experiment but is built by engineers of years of experience. Has been in successful operation for 25 years. Repairs at any branch bouse. Jump Spark Ignition-the best known. Speed can a sily be changed while in operation. Can easily be mounted on thicks for portable purposes. Just the thing for the farmer. Prices on Application. Sample at our farm for Exhibit. $85, Upwards.

R. J. SCHWANKE, Agent Route I near P. R. & N. station, Centerville.

Administrator's Notice

bereby given that I, the under Fredericka Moll, Deceased, of said deceased annexed, ally qualified as such. All ingelaims against said estate of the date of this notice. June 14, 1910 Administrator of the Es-aid deceased annexed, lines and know we are selling at been, by the County Court of Oregon, for Washington cost, H. Wehrung & Sons, Mrs. Bath and son, Gerald, are spending the week at Gladstone Park.

See our prices-ladies' and gents' shoes. You know the the Outstanding tickets on Johnson's Studio must be made use of before August 1, or purchase ordering your pictures now.

SUMMONS

herrica Somastics, Plantetill,

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE

STATE OF ORESON FOR WASHINGTON FOUNTY

endant in his name of the State of Oregon:
You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you to the above entitled suit on or before the act day of July, 1810, which is six weeks after the first publication of this summons which is of date Julie 16, 1810, the date of last problecation being inly 28 1900 d of you fail so to answer for ware result the plaintill will apply to the nut for the rebel prayed for in her com-tiet, namely: that the marriage conract now existing between plaintiff and letendant be forever dissolved and the laintiff be awarded the care and custod;

plaintiff be awarded the care and custony of their minor child. Eliner Schaeler, and that she have such offer roll of as to the court may seen him and equitable.

The summons is published by order of the Hon J. W. Gosslin. County Judge of the County of Washington and State of Oregon, roade and stated this 18th day of June, 1940, for the reason that the Creeni Judge of the District of which Washington and State of the Creeni Judge of the District of which Washing in County is a part is absent from the W. H. Hollis and O. W. Humphrey.

PRICES
Melas Creeze $5.00
2% Bridge Teeth 3.50
Gold Fillings 1.00
Enamel Fillings 1.00
Silver Fillings .50 5.00

Wise Dental Co.

Painless Dentists

Falling Building, Third & Washington, PORTLAND, OREGON Office Hours: 5 A. M. to 6 F. M. Sundays, 5 to 1

Notice of Final Scitl ment

Notice is hereby given, that the under-signed, the Administrator of the Estate of Daniel Herren, Deceased, has filed, it the County Court of the State of Oregon. for Washington County, his final account in said Estate, and that said Court has fixed Monday, the 18th day of July, 1910 at 10 A. M., of the said day, at the Count Court Room, in Hillsboro, Oregon, as the time and place for hearing objections b said final account, and for the final settle ment of said Estate.

Dated this 15th day of June. A. D., 1910 LEWIS M. HERRON.

Administrator of the Estate of Danie Herron, Deceased Thos. II, Tongue, Jr., Attorney for Ad

SUMMONS.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON, FOR WASH INGTON COUNTY Louisa Jones, Plaintid,

Martin A. Jones, Defendant, To Martin A. Jones the above named defendant: In the Name of the State of Oregon In the Name of the State of Gregori.

You are hereby required and command ed to appear in the above entitled court and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled cause, on or be you in the above enrithed cause, on or be fore the expiration of six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons in the Hillsboro Argus, the date of the first publication thereof being June 30th, 1910, and the last publication thereof being Aug. 11th, 1910, and you will please take notice that if you fail so to answer said complaint, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief prayed for and demanded in her complaint, to-wit; for a decree dissolving the marriage and mar-which order requires that you appear and answer on or before the expiration of six weeks from the date of the first publication, to wit; on or before Aug. 11, 1910, Bagley & Hare, Attorneys for Plaintiff,

Fred and Louis Hamel were in price forfeited. Save money by from West Union, Tuesday eve-

A BUSINESS WOMAN

Filly Carrying Hillsboro Mail is Daughter of Rockwood

PEDIGREED HORSE

ALSO OLD ENOUGH TO CAST BALLOT

Father Was Worth $1,800 as an Untried Three Year Old

There are horses and horses and speaking of Mazeppas, Hillsboro has a filly that is entitled to a blue ribbon anywhere on this and she has an intellect like a her own hands. in 1883, and this will run her into she was frightened. norses ever brought to the coast, and he said: as far as blood is concerned, and as an untried three-year-old he was sold for $1,800 and sent out to the wild and woolly west, where he now has numerous ancestors on the racing circuits.

Hesse's filly wasn't large you." enough to do much on the racetrack, but when she was a debutante she was a whirlwind for speed. Had she had a little more size with her action she would have been a prize-winner. She was buffeted around from colthood to maternity, and a few the mail run. She is still doing marry her and run away afterward. will be able to tell her grandchildren and she has many of them in Washington Countythat she carried mail in Hillsbo ro when there was but one rail road here, and before the Hotel Tamiesie was built.

HARVEST FESTIVAL

Portland, Ore., July 19, (Special) Portland's Autumn Livestock show and race meet on the Country Club grounds will be known as the Harvest Festival, and the Pacific Northwest for a single ace will be hung up. It will be bankers' purse. Another, offered by the hotel men, will be $5,000. Many smaller prizes neld in this part of the country.

James J. Hill will probably be the biggest attraction of the fesival. A strong telegram of initation has been sent him, which it is believed he will accept. It is planned to put the great empire builder on the program for an address. Dates of the festival are September 5-10. The amusement more prominent than ever before. The attractions will be selected with a view to meeting the varied tastes of the multitudes in attendance and it is promised there will be a good time for all.

sides being the means of reclaiming 7,000 acres to which the commonths. The company already brought back, has all the money it needs to put water rights which each year at cost. Ladies' sleeveless vests, 8 cents; 12 1-2 cents and 25 cents. Men's shirts and drawers, 25 cents, 39 cents and 40 cents, H. Wehrung & Sons.

M. L. Howell, formerly of Beaverton, and who is now in the tion. Mr. Howell last Spring good deed done. decree dissolving the marriage and mar-riage contract existing between you, upon the grounds of desertion and for such other relief as may be deemed proper and other relief as may be deemed proper and he was driving his broom-team This summons is served upon you by publication by order of Honorable J. U apropell. Judge of the above entitled court made and dated June 27th, 1910, and court made and dated June 27th, 1910, and thinks the would rether have his somely for his injuries but, M. L.

T. W. Wyatt & Co. carry the new and up-to-date Utz & Dunn ladies' shoes. Geo, McGraw, of Banks, was in town Saturday.

By ML QUAD Copyright, 1910, by Associated Lit-

Virginia among the few who held on ture was in sight. to their land was the widow Turner.

erary French

When the widow Turner was left to care for herself she possessed sixty then seemed to have been extinguished. acres of sterile land, a wretched old cabin, a mule and a cow. She had always worked in the field with her husband. She was a large, bony woman, homellest among a lot of homely womand all the farm work was done by horse in question is now owned all the landowners around the widow by Henry Hesse, who carries the Turner sold out. She alone held on. mail between this city and the farm was considered worth, but she S. P. depot. This filly was fouled shook her head. As a matter of fact.

Then along came a tin peddler. She wood, was one of the finest him bonest. She told him her troubles, "Widow, I am going to talk plainly to you. You are as ignorant as a mule and as homely as a stump fence." "I know it," was the answer.

"If things had run along as they were going you couldn't have found a man in the United States to marry

"I admit that." "But now you can. You can not only find a husband, but money with him. Let me tell you what to do."

They had a long conversation, and the result of it was that when an offer for the farm was renewed next day it was accepted with a proviso. The widow demanded $50,000 in cash and years ago fell into Mr. Hesse's a husband. It was acceded to at once. ownership and was placed on It would be very easy to find a man to well and in a few years more Plenty of them could be hired for $2,000. But the widow wanted an acceptable husband. That was different. Thirty men were paraded before her, and she rejected every one. The capitalists had figured on a soft thing and got left. After two months' search and after fifty men had been brought forward one was found to fill the bill. He was no scrub. On the contrary, he was a broken down gentleman. It was like nating an eagle with a crow. Yes, he would do, but there were details to be considered. He must be bound to certain things, and the buyer of the farm must guarantee him. He must be bound not to run away and shine on the page of a book he held in not to apply for a divorce. He must his hand. biggest purse ever offered in the be bound to live in the same house with her and not be absent over three could pick a dozen loopholes in the which to read the marriage service. contract.

But the widow wasn't through yet. They must allow her $10,000 for a lawto Chicago for one of the leaders of end of the festival will be far the bar. Then came the guarantee. The guarantee of the buyer was not enough. The lawyer insisted that some one must guarantee him. This was "gushers" were being struck all around heard a woman's cry. Then there them. The money was counted out, the marriage took place, and the next | muffled voice: day the drillers were at work. The newly weds went to the nearest village T. R. Imbrie and associates to pass their honeymoon.

have financed a big irrigation The broken down gentleman had project in the Medford and Cen- gone into the thing to make a stake. tral Point section, which will He had a good mind for billiards, good water 55,000 acres of land, be- clothes and good dinners, but not for legal matters. Within three days he ran away. The wife called upon the pany gets title. The project is to hire a detective and hunt for a the dark on the floor. Stooping down, capitalized at $425,000, and in- month. When he was brought back he side of five years will be worth was locked up for two weeks. He apseveral million dollars. The pealed to the law, but the law said proposition is bound to be a win- that his wife had a right to take all no getting away from reasonable precautions. He had bound it - and T. R. will soon be on the himself to teach her certain things. top shelf. Mr. Imbrie and his He refused. She called upon his guarassociates have been working on antors, and they forced him to do it.

He had taught her the A B C's when the deal for about eighteen he ran away again. Again he was

Although the work of drilling wells in the several miles of ditch and had begun at once, there were no relaterals and their annual income suits. They drilled here and there for will more than pay the interest more than a year, but not a plut of on their bonds, to say nothing of oil was had. That farm was just over the increase of the value of their the oil line somehow. Geologists said land holdings and their extensive there ought to be a great lake of off under it, but it didn't turn out that way. In buying and drilling more than will grow more and more valu- half a million dollars was expended. At the end of a year the broken down Ladies' and gents' underwear ran away again. When his backers were called upon to return him they agreed to give the wife $5,000 to let them off the contract. The tin peddler came along and advised her to take it. and she did. She is still living on that little farm in the Buckeye State, and, though her singing scares the cows for miles around and she is not up on etiquette and has to spell out the big street cleaning department of words, she has money to burn and is the city of Portland, was out fairly happy. The tin peddler? Oh. yesterday, after medical atten- his conscience rewarded him for the

By T. DEWITT BOWMAN

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

Farmer Insley was tossing about in bed vainly trying to sleep. At last he arose, went to the window and looked out. The moon was at the full, illuminating everything in sight-namely. ings and the meeting house more than 200 years old. Suddenly Insley opened his eyes wider than they had been opened during his sleeplessness. A light passed across one of the windows of the church. He went to the door, opened it and stood looking out. All was still. Not a house was lighted When cost oil was found in West save by the moon. Not a living crea-

The light appeared again. This time it was stationary for a few seconds.

Insley hurried into his clothes and ran as fast as his legs would carry him to the church. As he proceeded he thought that he had better see than be seen. He knew the church well and unable to read or write, and the very felt confident that he could enter by a başement window. A tall tree cast a mundane sphere, even if she en. No one predicted that she would shadow on his approach. Finding the hasn't made a record. The bluest marry again, and she had no eucourage window, he crawled in stealthilly, and, of blood flows in her equine veins, lug thoughts herself. She fived alone, guided by sufficient light from without to enable him to see his way, he ascended a staircase leading up into the principal in a city school. The When the oil excitement got started vestibule. Opening a door only so far as would enable him to peep into the body of the church, he saw a strange sight.

Two men were standing by a window, the moon shining full in their faces. The one was young and of city mein-that is, so far as Insley could her 28th year. Her father, Rock- and dealt with him before and found see by moonlight alone. The other was dressed in the garb of a clergyman. The men were talking, but he could not hear what they said. Now and again the younger man would take out his watch and look at the time impatiently.

Then Insley heard a knock at the church door. The men heard it, too, and the younger hurried to the front of the church. The watcher, that he might not be seen, descended the stairs, but not so far that he could not know what passed in the vestibule. The young man opened the church door and admitted a woman. There was no light for him to see by, but he could hear.

"Sweetheart," said the man, "what has kept you?

"I heard father tossing about in bed and dared not venture." "Well, come. It will soon be over.

and then you'll feel better. You are all unstrung."

"Oh, I can't." These were the last words Insley heard, for the man drew the girl into the body of the church and toward the other end. Insley entered and passed in shadow part way down an aisle entering one of the high pews. The two men and the woman were in shadow, but presently Insley saw one of the men and the woman standing in a flood of moonlight, with their backs toward him, while the man to clerical garb faced him and them. The clergyman held in his hand a lamp or candle covered so that its light could only

Insley knew that a marriage service was about to be performed. Whether days at any time without her written it was a case for interference or one $10,000 and will be known as the permission. He must teach her the to suffer to proceed he knew not. But common branches of education and he had passed the romantic age when rules of etiquette. He must take her one sympathizes with those who would to New York city and Niagara falls wed in opposition to their parents' once in two years. If she wished to wishes and was not minded to permit will be offered and it is believed sign he must not be put out. Her the marriage without being informed the festival will attract a larger money must be her own. There were of the circumstances attending it. One gathering than any similar meet about a dozen other things mentioned, thing made him suspicious. The pasand the broken down gentleman said tor of the church was a large man, he'd be hanged if he would. They had | while this one was of medium height promised him $10,000, but he said it and slender. Besides, the paster was wasn't enough. He hung out until he not a person to wed couples in his was offered the same as the widow. church at midnight and if he did would They told him that a smart lawyer not require a light upon his book by

True enough, a marriage service was begun. Insley could hear every word. When the clergyman asked if any one yer's fee. They agreed, and she sent had aught to say why the two should not be joined together in wedlock Insley said solemnly: "I forbid." At the same time he dropped down into the pew. He did not see the comdone. Time had been wasted, and motion his words produced, but he > "We'd better get out. Some one's got on to it. You'll be jugged for > this." "So will you." Insley heard steps-men's steps-hurrying past him in the aisle and passing out of the front door. As soon as all was still he went down to where he had seen the bridal party standing. he felt a woman's form. Raising her, he carried her to where the moonlight shown upon her face. Great heavens, she was his own daughter!

She came to berself, and by the light she saw him gazing down upon her with a mingled expression of surprise and pain. "Father!"

"Bessie!"

"Is it a dream?" "No. dear heart, not a dream, but a eality. Some one from above-possibly your mother-sent me here to save

He carried her home in his arms. It was the old story of a villain from the city seeking by a mock marriage to lead astray a simple country girl.

Metamorphosed

By DOROTHEA HALE

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

The manager of burlesque opera sat at his desk. He had given out that he needed one who could take a woman's part to act, dance and sing. A girl about twenty years old, comely, with a good figure and a bright face, entered.

"Dance?" asked the manager. The girl replied by pirouetting about in good style.

She ran the scale. Her voice was a full, round soprano and very sweet. The range was remarkable. "Act?"

She recited a passage in a well known play. "You are engaged."

"Sing?"

Miss Fredrica Harrow proved a success. She had in her a certain spirit of delivery that was especially approthe undulating plain, scattered dwell- priate to the parts she took. One role she played was that of a female Mephistopheles. When the audience left the theater after the performance they feit that they had been under the influence of a deliciously bad girl. One Sauday morning the manager went to church. It is possible for a nanager of a burlesque troop to go to church and with religious motives. But this manager did not go with such notives. He went because he had heard that in the choir was a remark ably fine tenor. The services opened with a tenor solo. The manager was astonished. There was Miss Harrow in man's clothes. He not only recognized her by her face, but through her voice, which was Miss Harrow's lower notes.

But there was one difference between Miss Harrow soprano and Miss Harrow tenor. The latter was as heavenly as the former was develish. She sang an "Ave Maria," and it seemed that an angel rather than a mortal was praying to the Virgin. The manager did not wonder that the tenor was exciting attention. But he had no use for him in burlesque opera. He expressed the good, and with that the nanager was not concerned.

"Where were you last night?" asked the manager the next day when Miss Harrow came to rehearsal. "At home."

The manager said no more. He had slept over the tenor's identity and bud come to the conclusion that he could not be Miss Harrow.

Not long after that a man in his troupe fell sick, and there was no one to take his part.

"How low are his lowest notes?" asked Fredrica. The manager told her, and she said that she thought she could take the part. He also asked her to sing the lower notes, but she said she couldn't jump right into them; she must get it by practice. She left him, agreeing to be ready for the part when required.

Miss Harrow in man's clothes was a very different person from Miss Harrow in woman's clothes. In the first place, instead of sluging the part in a low soprano voice, she sang it as a tenor. In the second, she made a fallure in her action. Instead of being adapted to burlesque, she sang as if she were in oratorio.

"What the dickens is the matter with you?" said the manager after the first act. "Your singing is all rightindeed, it's a wonder for a womanbut you act as if you were preaching a sermon." Miss Harrow hung her head and looked hurt. However, she finished the performance, and before the manager could eatch her to find any more fault with her she had gone home. But the next day when she went into the theater he tackled her.

"There was something funny about your work last night. How did you get down to a real baritone, and what made you act like a clergyman?" "I told you that with a little practice I could do the low notes, and, as for my acting, the part is different from those I've been playing. It is not a rollicking role." "And it wasn't taken out of a hymn

"I'm sorry. I thought I could take baritone parts sometimes." "So you can, but not where there's any deviltry in them book, either."

rows, fine and

In a few weeks the regular baritone was down again. "I think," said Fredrica, "I can take that role. It's more serious."

"Who'll take your part?" "I think I can take them b "Nonsense!" "I'll show you how it can morrow at rehearsal." When the rehearsal, manager went on to ed than duct it he was mor ever. There we ien Har

"How's this staring from of redrica, "to in-"Permit me." were indistinguishable sounds and a troduce my tw Frederick > Harrow. He has Then she admitte e had substituted him for I he man's part; that while she, frolic he was religiously emoti

"Well," said the m you two. I have a opera involving a cene, man metamorphose and woman metamorpho man. You two will do it tion.

And so it was that the twins appeared in a part prepared for them and reaped a harvest. The opera was called "The Devil and the Saint."

Rodents!

A long, lean cat once met a friend The friend was plump and round. Said the long, lean cat, "You can scarce-Too fat by many a pound."

The plump cat looked around in fear, Then whispered soft and low, 'Do tell me, Tom, if no one's near— Tell me, does my rat show?"

Lost the Place.

Sally-Please, ma'am, I can't find the broom. Mrs. Shipshape-Haven't I told you often enough to have a place for everything and everything in its place? Sally-Yes, ma'am; I did that, but I sin.

have lost the place.-Evening Wiscon-

A Lazy Citizen. They talk about the reapers! Let 'em reap! Let 'em reap! I'm happier where the river is singin' me to sleep.

Where it waves the water liles, and it's mighty cool and deep--Oh, I'm happier where the river is singin' me to sleep! -Atlanta Constitution.

Escape Too Easy. Landlord-What's that up there, sir? New Arrival-It's my airship. There' is no suitable shelter for it about here, so I'm obliged to keep it flying up there, see? Landlord-Yes, I see. My terms for guests with airships are cash in advance.-Throne and Country. Heiress of All the Ages.

She owns lots of houses and lots, it known. She owns all she wants, I engage But there's one thing she doesn't and nev er will own-

-Cleveland Leader

It's her age!