Hillsboro and vicinity did itself proud in the exhibition at the street fair which closed Saturday night. The livestock show was better than last year; the poultry show could not have been better; and the horse exhibit was superb but the crowning glory of all was the demonstration made by the fruit growers. For the first time in the history of exhibits the apples displayed were put into proper shape for inspection, and the exhibits were all that anyone could ask for in the most favored apple district the world can give.

SCHULMERICH-GILLENWATER

A quiet home wedding was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, in Hillsboro, October 1, 1910, Rev. Vanandigham, of the Christian church officiating, the contracting parties being Edward Schulmerich, President of the Commercial Bank, and Miss Ella Gillenwater, for an extended time the book-keeper in same banking house. After a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Schulmerich have taken up their residence in the home of the groom, on Main street.

JANSEN-VANDECOEVERING

Peter Jansen, for many years a resident of Verboort, was united in marriage to Mary T. Vandecoevering, at the Church of the Visitation, Verboort, October 4, 1910, Rev. Father L. A. LeMiller solemnizing the nuptials. They will reside on the farm of the groom, which is one of the neat places of that section.

Just arrived—the famous W. L. Douglas shoe, formerly handled in the city by Wehrung & Sons. For a $3.50 shoe these cannot be beaten by any shoe the world has worn.—Wyatt & Co.

Herman Kamna and wife returned yesterday from an extended trip to California, where they visited friends and relatives. They report a fine time, and Herman is now getting into the harness on his ranch north of the city.

The rains caught but few of the onion men with their product out of doors, the majority of them having housed their harvest some days ago. And this recalls that A. Fanno has built a fine onion house on his ranch, below Beaverton, on the Beaverton-Willburg cut-off.

Frank Roesler Sr., who was here in the latter part of August, and who found his son through a notice in the Argus, has departed from Spokane, where he was visiting his daughter, and gone back to Leonard, North Dakota, to look after his seven hundred acres of wheat land.

Mrs. Julia Walker, widow of the late Sam Walker, well known here in the early days, is here from California, the guest of her brothers, Alonzo and James Sigler, and sister, Mrs. William Tupper. She is accompanied by her son, Samuel, and they expect to make an extended visit in the Northwest before returning.
