Jacob Michel, who spent the Summer over in Switzerland, is home, and reports a fine time. He says that the people in Germany and Switzerland do not eat as much meats as the Americans, and they all seem to enjoy just as good health. He visited with three brothers while in the Fatherland. Mr. Michel says that the United States, however, is good enough for him, and that if our soil was developed, and every available acre utilized as in the old country we could support fifty times the population we now have.

Persons living in the country and wishing to take the Daily and Sunday Oregonian for one year can, by paying a year in advance, get the Argus and an Oregonian map, or chart, for the one price. This offer will not last long—so get in your order soon.

Joe Hayes, of Carlton, was down to the city, Friday, accompanied by Mrs. Hayes. They are now farming near that famous little Yamhill town, and report that they like it very well. Land values are advancing up that way, and they could sell at a considerable raise over their purchase price. They formerly lived in the Glencoe section.

You can buy the best red cedar shingle for the least money from C. S. Reynolds, of Mountaineer. If you want to make things "dry" and keep them "dry" cover your roof with Reynolds' famous red cedar shingles. 28-1

Wesley Paine, who recently sold his holdings at Glencoe, and then bought six hundred acres up in Linn County, has moved to Brownsville to take possession of his farms up there. With eight or ten teams strung out, and with his livestock trailing, his cavalcade reminded one of olden days, when the overland travel was in full swing in the West.

Keep your chickens enclosed! Just received—a large consignment of poultry wire. Now is the time to buy.—Emerick & Corwin.

Ernest Herr and family, of near Gaston, departed yesterday for Bristol, North Dakota, where they will visit for a month. Mr. Herr was in town Monday to find some fine apples to take back with him on his Eastern trip to show people what we can raise out here in Oregon.

Jas. H. Sewell went down to the Roseburg country, the first of the week, to look over that inviting section of the state—but it's a cinch that he will not find anything better than old Washington County, and to be candid, he doesn't expect to make any such discovery.

Contractor Marks, who has been attending to the inside wood work on the new hotel, broke his thumb the other day, in a wrestling match with a bandsaw. As a result he is carrying his hand in a sling.

He who grows at October, will growl whether drunken or sober, for the weather is sure soporific, and beats a full mile a specific—so whether a worker or bummer, doff hats to old Indian Summer!—Malt Wastin, in Buxton Breeze.

Mrs. W. H. Gault, daughter of the late ex-county treasurer, William Pointer, was in the city Monday afternoon. Her husband is now foreman on the Daily News, of Portland, and is in charge of the composing rooms.

Will Wohlschlegel, of Scholls, Friday last moved Rev. Prosser and family to Forest Grove, where the latter has bought property. Mr. Prosser recently sold his place at Scholls for $3,600—an advance of $1,900 over what he paid for it a few years ago.

Lieut. W. H. Myers, of Forest Grove, and who thinks, if necessary, he could fight Indians today as well as he did back in the fifties, was down to the city Saturday afternoon.

Hans Rasmussen, the carpenter-rancher, of West Union, has moved to the Mrs. Merrill place, south of Reedville, where he will ranch next season.

Mrs. L. R. Hicks, who for an extended time conducted the Hillsboro Sanitarium, has moved to Henley, California, where she formerly resided.

Frank Rowell, of Scholls, and who says that the farmers are very busy down his way, was up to the county seat Monday afternoon.

Jos. Lorusung has moved from Newton to South Hillsboro. He thinks he can handle his contract work better by being in the city.

George Parkhouse, of LaPorte, Indiana, is in the city, the guest of relatives, the Miltenbergers.

C. C. Nelson, of Bacona, and who has carried the mail between that point and Mountaineer for several years, was in the city Friday.

Greer keeps a complete and up-to-date line of stand and hanging lamps.

John Loftis, of the Arcade district, was in town Saturday.
