SAV THE OUTLOOK IS VERY GOOD

Three Prominent Citizens Who Ask Public Suffrage

Inasmuch as many requests are made the Argus to publish a short history of the independent candidates for the legislature, here goes. No one who knows all or either of the three gentlemen will dispute the truth of these lines:

Ferd Groner, of Scholla, is one of the progressive and public spirited residents of Scholla. He owns large farm interests; is interested in sawmilling; and is a prominent member of the grange. He has made the first real extensive experiment in walnut raising in the county, and is always ready to back up local enterprise of any nature. Ferd is a man who has ideas—and they are always worthy of consideration. If elected to the legislature, he promises to devote all kinds of time to the public welfare.

William Schulmerich, of Washington, is well known in Washington County. He is a progressive dairyman, and is known all over the state, having lectured in all parts of Oregon. Mr. Schulmerich is well versed in state needs in the way of legislation, and says he will use his utmost to promote good road legislation in case he is elected—and at the same time keep his powder dry to kill off graft.

Anton Hermens, of Verboort, is one of the substantial residents of West Washington county. He is a farmer and dairyman, and is always interested in progressive stockraising. Mr. Hermens is the carrier of confidence wherever he is known, and he will poll a great vote in his immediate section. He says he stands for "honest legislation; for chiseling of graft, and for killing all legislation that tends to protect corporations as against the public."

ALFRED PETERSON FOUND DEAD IN CREEK

Railroad Laborer From Portland Falls Into Dairy

PROBABLY DIED FROM EXPOSURE

Was Going out to Look at Station Work on P. R. & N.

Alfred Peterson, a railroad laborer, and who left Portland one day last week to go to the front, above Buxton, to look at some railway station work, was found dead at the edge of Dairy Creek, where he had fallen, some time Wednesday night. Peterson was under the influence of liquor when he passed out from the city, and it is supposed that he kept on drinking until evening. His body was found at the edge of the creek, and his head was not even under water. Wednesday night was a very cold night, and it is thought that he died from exposure. The body was found about a quarter of a mile west of Buxton. Peterson was about 45 years of age.

Coroner E. C. Brown and Sheriff Hancock went up to Buxton, and an inquest was held. The jury found that death was accidental and caused while the deceased was intoxicated. The jury was composed of Messrs. J. H. Kilburg, W. C. Schneider, Andrew Kostur, J. B. Fair.

CHAMBERLAIN COMING

United States Senator Geo. E. Chamberlain, who is touring the state in the interest of Mr. West's candidacy for governor, will be in Hillsboro Friday (tomorrow) November 4, and speak to the citizens of this vicinity at 2:30 in the afternoon. Senator

Chamberlain is one of the real platform orators of the state and Northwest and he always has a large audience when he visits this city. Turn out and hear him.

He will speak at Cornelius tomorrow evening—Friday, November 4, at 7:30 o'clock.

Roll of Honor

Those on the roll of honor in the Firdale School, District 25, for month ending Oct. 28, 1910, are as follows: Chester and Carl Bruster, Frank, Elmer and Mary Boge, Meta Wolf, John, Martha and Wilma Haase.—Blanche Bride, Teacher.

Now on sale—Nap-a-Tan, John Sharrow and W. L. Douglas shoes at Wyatt & Co. Store, corner Second and Main.

John Fisher, of above Banks, was down to the city Saturday. C. W. McNamer, of the Grove, was in town Saturday.

R. Fobols, of West Union, was in the city Saturday.

Miss Olive Landis was down from Anity, Sunday, a guest of her mother, Mrs. H. H. Cronias.

Bliss L. Snow, an attorney of St. John, was in the city Monday afternoon.

Peter Jacobsen, of West Union, was down to the county seat the last of the week.

James Jackson, of below Oregon, was in the city Monday morning.

Ten head of pigs for sale—D. Tschabold, Hillsboro, Ore., Route 1, Helvetia.

Peter Jossy, of West Union, was over to the city Friday, accompanied by his wife.

A new line of photo mounts in all the latest and most attractive styles has just arrived at Johnson's Studio.

Miss Gladys Cohen, of Portland, was the guest of Miss Maude Griffiths, the last of the week.

Chas. Strohmayer, of near Greenville, was in the city Saturday, and while in town called on the Argus.

If there is anything in the book line which you have failed to find elsewhere, look through Hoy's Book department.

Miss Effie Jones, of East Portland, came out Monday and went out with her uncle, N. H. Jones, of beyond Glencoe, for a fortnight's visit.

B. R. Patton, of below Beaverton, on the S. P., near Raleigh, was in the city Monday morning. He says that Fall plowing is nearly all finished in his section.

Arthur Bacon, of Arleta, and who was a former resident of this county, and well known at Forest Grove, Cornelius and to the North, was in Friday, and called on the Argus.

Emmett Quick, the horseman, was down from Forest Grove Monday afternoon. Emmett was a Hillsborite when he was first big enough to hold a pair of reins.

N. A. Frost, who has been farming down in the east end of the county, has moved to the Forest Grove section. Mr. Frost took the census in South Hillsboro and vicinity.

Sack's Two thousand large, heavy, extra fine quality sacks for sale at low figure. Will outlast three ordinary sacks. Sample sent on request.—Pacific Coast Syrup Co., Portland, Ore.

William H. Joos, of near Glencoe, was in town Saturday afternoon. He is farming the Joos homestead, which he now owns, and which has advanced largely in values the past few years.

A drummer was in town Monday and found awaiting him a ticket from Portland to the East, which he lost last May or June. An adv. in the Argus brought him the desired pasteboard.

Agent Cooper, of the Electric, was visited Saturday by the company's general freight agent, who was looking over the possibilities of business in the county seat and other Washington County points.

Judge Magers, formerly of McMinnville, now of Portland, was in the city Saturday. The Judge came near passing in his checks a few months ago—and the Oregonian reported that he could not recover. He is now on the road to health.

VALUATIONS GIVEN OUT BY ASSESSOR

Without Railway Assessment List is Over Sixteen Millions

WILL BE A MILLION ADDED

Horses and Cattle Decrease, But More Land is Cleared

Assessor Max Crandall has completed the summary of the tax roll, and his total gives a valuation of over sixteen millions to say nothing of the railroad assessment, which will be made by the state commission, and which will add about one million dollars to the roll. The figures show that within the last year Washington County has made a gain of eleven hundred acres of cleared land, which means that between three and four acres have been cleaned up for every day in the year. Cattle are not so numerous; horses are not so plentiful by about 200 head—but the Missouri mule has made a gain of 100 head—and it is his time to be heard. Goats, also, have made a gain of 1000, or 33 per cent. increase, and it is his turn to look wise. The last two years assessment follows:

WADSWORTH-ELLINGSWORTH

A quiet wedding was celebrated at the parlors of Judge G. W. Barnes, Main Street, Hillsboro, Monday, October 31, 1910, when Hon. F. M. Wadsworth, of Mason Hill, Dixie, and Mrs. Hannah Ellingsworth, of Portland, were united in marriage in the presence of Dr. J. E. Adkins and L. A. Long. Mr. Wadsworth and bride immediately left for The Cedars, north of Glencoe, the home of the groom, where they will maintain their home. The groom is the father of T. C. Wadsworth, cashier of the American Type Founders Co., of Portland, and the bride is a highly respected lady of the Rose City.

Return From The East

Attorney H. T. Bagley and wife returned Sunday evening from a sixty days' trip to the East, and report an enjoyable time. They spent considerable time at Canton, Ohio, and return West by the Southern Route. New Orleans and Galveston were both visited and when they started Westward they stopped to see a real bull-fight at El Paso, where it was necessary only to cross the border. They returned via Los Angeles. Going East they made the trip via the Canadian Pacific.

Edwin Morgan returned to Independence, Saturday, after a weeks visit with his mother, Mrs. Susie Morgan.
