VOTE RIGHT

The Argus asks its readers only to look the prohibition question fairly in the face. People should not be led away by the hysteria of those whose chief stock in trade is the cry of sumptuary legislation. Without this prohibition issue there would be many an exhorter out of a job; in fact it is doubtful if they who thrive best by battling liquor, would the matter settled—for Othello's occupation would be gone. But that is neither here nor there. What the Argus wants its readers to do is to consider calmly, and then cast their vote. The good Lord has placed you here to work out your own salvation. If you are a swine, and go to excess in drink or eating—don't read this—like enough nothing will aid you. If you have been reared temperately, and like your glass of beer or whiskey—drink it like a man. If you go to extremes—quit it like a man, and do not put the responsibility on the shoulders of the Almighty. Liquor will not hurt the hysterical spell-binder who bucks booze for so much per buck, if he shall keep away—but for the Lord's sake don't try to legislate the temperate man away from what is his right and privilege. Don't say to the substantial German who is of our best citizenship: "Because there are a few swine in the country who take too do not say... Just have some reason—just remember that the poor creature who goes to the bad on drink will go to the bad on something else if he is punted on some different course; just remember that the Lord will remember the poor creatures who go into the ditch—it is probably blasphemy for you to argue that the Lord did not always know just where all are destined to go—and remember, before you vote, that there is no better citizenship in all Washington County than those who take their occasional glass of beer or wine; that they have done much for Washington County; that we have lived here for many years—long before Rockefeller and Carnegie commenced to boom the prohibition cause in order to cut down revenues that people will hush their cry about the heavy tax the farmer must pay on steel used in his machinery; just remember that we want more Germans and Swiss in Oregon; more Norwegians and Swedes, and Danes; and more people, by the way, who will take off their coats and work, rather than receive money from such public robbers as Carnegie and Rockefeller.

Vote against prohibition, and you will vote for more people who will help develop Oregon; vote against prohibition and you will give a vote of confidence to those who have been the agency of cleaning up our wilderness to a large degree; take a stand for your rights and do not be dispossessed because some weak-headed brother goes to the extremes. Do not stand for the proposal that you are a rank sinner and a despoiler of the human race just because you have taken your glass of beer. Resent it—and show such agitators that your families are as good as anybody else's family; that the morals of the people who take their glass of beer are just as good as those who thunder against it. Don't cripple investment in your county; or in your town, or in the state.

Meet the cry of ruin of girls by the saloon with the truth—1001 out of 1000 ruined and found in dives are ruined before they ever reach such a place, and every reasonable person knows it. That is history.

The late Judge Rood was a man in all that the term signifies. He was the soul of integrity; the foe of all sham; a firm believer in justice always, and a man on whom all could rely. The world has been better because of his life, and the world still would be better if it had more like him. This is the best the Argus can say of the man today laid to rest in the land he loved.

BOARD OF TRADE

The "Get Together" meeting of the Board of Trade last Monday evening was very encouraging, credit being due the ladies of the Coffee Club, who served refreshments which were highly appreciated. The ladies were given a vote of thanks, and they immediately served notice on the members of the board that they would meet with them again on the first Monday in December, which was received with applause.

The importance of an apple display at the Horticultural show to be held in Portland was discussed. Mr. Wilkes, Mr. Garrett and Mr. Killen spoke in favor, and a vote taken on Mr. Garrett's motion to make a display at the coming show was carried unanimously. A committee was appointed to solicit funds to meet the expense required in getting the fruit together and installing same. Dr. J. P. Tamiesie, J. H. Garrett, J. A. Imbrie and J. B. Wilkes, S. C. Killen, Howard Baird and N. H. Alexander were appointed a committee to look after advertising in connection with the Portland exhibit so that all would be properly informed as the exact location of our city and the wonderful county in which it is located.

On Monday night, November 14, there will be held a special meeting of the Board of Trade in the City Hall, at 8 o'clock, to take up other important matters concerning the Portland display, and you are especially invited to attend and lend your presence, if not your pocketbook, to the boosting of the best town in the best county in the state.

The members of the Hillsboro Band showed their progressive spirit and their willingness to help the "Get Together" movement by offering their services, which were accepted with pleasure, and upon motion were given a vote of thanks. It is to be hoped that they also will do as the ladies have said they would be out again.

VOTERS, ATTENTION

It has been called to my attention that certain members of the Prohibition Party have intimated that the names of H. N. Penfield and A. C. Alexander were omitted from the official ballot, either through alleged carelessness of this office, or for the purpose of injuring their chances of election.

The reason these names do not appear on the ballot is that the above parties filed no acceptance of their nomination as is required by law, and therefore a ballot containing their names would have been illegal with no acceptances in this office.

Every man and measure legally entitled to be on the ballot is printed thereon exactly as specified by the law.

J. W. BAILEY, County Clerk.
