A. L. Holcomb and wife, of Bethany, were in the city Monday afternoon.

Nelson Cornelius, of Portland, accompanied by his sister, Miss Lura, visited relatives in this city, Sunday.

E. L. James, who has one of the neatest little places on the Baseline, was in from this side of Varley, Monday.

J. A. Abbott, of Forest Grove, was down to the city Monday afternoon, making the trip behind that fine roadster.

The rock-road teams were hauling rock out northwest of town the first of the week to make repairs on that which was newly laid.

F. T. Kane and wife have moved to Forest Grove for the winter, and will reside at the William Kane home, so as to be with Mr. Kane's father.

Geo. Schulerich sent down a lot of wild geese from Arlington, the last of the week, and his friends have been enjoying the annual wheat field visitors.

J. W. Marsh, of beyond Centerville, was in the city Monday afternoon, meeting his old time friends. This is his first trip to the city for some time.

J. C. Lamkin the first of the week brought in a briar of tame raspberries that contained thirty or forty berries, all the way from the open bloom to the ripe, matured berry—and that is going some, eh?

Clerk Bailey and Deputy Luce have all the election supplies ready and the ballot boxes have been sent out to the various precincts. The same judges and clerks will serve as were at the recent primaries.

J. W. Hughes, of above Forest Grove, was down to the city Monday. Mr. Hughes raises some fine horses on his ranch, and in addition to his ranch work cries practically all the western portion of the county.

Dr. J. E. Adkins arrived home from Eastern Oregon, Saturday. He says that money is not the most plentiful thing up there just now as many have their this year's wheat crop on their hands, awaiting a raise.

Persons living in the country and wishing to take the Daily and Sunday Oregonian for one year can, by paying a year in advance, get the Argus and an Oregonian map, or chart, for the one price. This offer will not last long—so get in your order soon.

M. O'Meara, of Elmonica, was up to the city Saturday. He stated that no word had yet been received as to the mare and colt lost a couple of weeks ago by Hiram Smith, who was enroute to Tillamook.

Dr. C. E. Hines, one of Washington County's former legislators, accompanied by Jimmie Clark, Ed. Meresse and Jack Mackrodt, of the Grove, were down to the county seat Friday. Dr. Hines says he does not think Forest Grove will do anything else but vote against the proposed cut-off into Multnomah.

N. H. Jones, of above Glencoe, on the ridge, was in Monday, and says there is a big bear up in a deserted orchard and its surrounding timber, and the boys are after Mr. Bruin. One of the little lads shot a 22-calibre cartridge at the intruder the other day—and then hiked for home, as that was his last cartridge. Evidence of the bear's presence is painfully evident.

PRACTICE ILLEGALLY

The Oregon State Board of Examiners in Optometry will pay a reward of $25 to anyone causing the arrest and conviction of any person or persons testing eyes and selling glasses who does not hold a certificate issued to them by the Board of Examiners. It is not alone necessary for them to possess this certificate, but it must be registered with and countersigned by the Clerk of the court, in each county where the holder practices. The public in general is hereby warned not to patronize anyone not holding such certificate, as in the strict letter of the law they are necessary to the illegal practice and will at least be called upon to go into court and testify as witnesses against the persons violating the law.

For further particulars address H. W. Barr, Sec., State Board of Examiners of Optometry, Salem, Ore.
