Statewide prohibition was badly worsted at the recent election. It will now be the duty of the liquor men to stand together for the elimination of the low live in the big cities of the state.

Governor-elect West made a magnificent run in Oregon, and that he will also make a splendid governor seems to be undisputed. Young West has the right idea—that a public office is a public trust.

The Portland bettors who took their cue from the Bowerman end of the campaign and put up large sums of money on the Condon candidate, can now have the cold consolation that they hadn't more to put up.

Argus and Journal, $2.25.

A young woman from the Cornelius section was in the city the last of the week, and Dr. Linklater removed a steel pin from her foot. The young lady thought the foreigner was a piece of bone which had been separated in some manner from a parent body, and was very much surprised when the surgeon made the extraction. She does not know when she picked up the intruder.
