

MASS MEETING NAMES TICKET

H. T. Bagley Heads the List for Mayor for Coming Year

Treasurer & Recorder to Repeat

Emil Kuratli, Joseph Downs and W. D. Smith Named for Council

The mass meeting at the court house, Monday evening, was the big affair of the season so far as public gatherings are concerned, and the crowd was progressive in every way.

For a man of his ability and his position, Mr. Bagley was elected as chairman of the occasion, and W. D. Smith was elected secretary, with Benton Bowman as assistant.

In a short talk after the nomination, the nominee stated that he was for a better Hillsboro, and if the city would vote a new charter, it could have had surface streets, drainage and all that goes in the way of a progressive city.

W. D. Smith, Joseph Downs, Emil Kuratli and Fred Schomburg were named for the council.

Mr. Schomburg had stated before the meeting that he could not accept a nomination, but he received a goodly support notwithstanding.

Fred J. Sewell was named for city treasurer without opposition, and Benton Bowman was given a re-nomination for the recordership.

W. W. Boscow, S. C. Killin and L. A. Long were named as a committee to fill possible vacancies and see to the tickets.

A vote of thanks was given the outgoing mayor to which the executive responded. Mayor Bailey said that the city had adopted surveys for drainage and sewage and when the charter should be amended the city could at any time go ahead with improvement of this order, as well as street improvements.

Another resolution passed asked that the new administration see that the city were furnished proper lighting facilities, with an adequate water supply, or annul the franchise.

Hon. H. V. Gates was present and said that the light proposition was worth as much to the city as any proposed improvement, and that we should have more water and a better light service than we have been getting.

THE NEW TOWN

The new town of North Plains, on the United, near Glencoe, is having a big sale of these days.

North Plains is center of a rich farming district, and its closeness to Portland is attracting Portland suburbanites, as well as people who are looking for an investment.

The rails will soon be laid through the new city, and Mays Brothers are to start a two story brick block and occupy it in the early summer.

Other business houses are to be started in the near future, and already many business lots as well as residence property have been sold.

The newly laid out city is to have electric lights and a water system that will be adequate for all demands, and mountain water will later succeed the deep well system which is to be put in operation.

Many wise ones, who have an eye for location, do not hesitate to say that North Plains is coming city, and they are putting their money, as well as faith, into the property.

Mrs. Jennie Dotson, of Portland, died at her home, of pneumonia, November 21, 1910. She leaves a husband and three children, Myrtle, Ethel and Mansfield. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Monger, of Cornelius, Route 1, near Mountaineers. Two brothers, Curtis and DeWitt, of Portland, and a sister, Mrs. Carrie Hutchinson, of Vondland, survive, of her immediate family. She was born in Vermont in 1872, and came to Oregon in 1890. She joined the M. E. church in 1892, and was married to Smith Dotson in 1894. The funeral took place from Holman's undertaking parlors, Portland, and burial was in Rose City cemetery. Mrs. Dotson was a member of the Women of Woodcraft.

For sale, finely bred young Jersey bull, registered. Will sell for $95 if taken soon. Write for particulars as to breeding.—E. E. Watts, Hillsboro, Oregon.

According to valuations of Assessor Grandall, Hillsboro is assessed at $794,420 and Forest Grove at $628,160. Aside from this the railway assessments are yet to be added, and Hillsboro will have a big addition from this, as there are nearly three miles of railway inside the city limits, while the Grove is not so well situated, inasmuch as the independent electric line up there will probably not be taxed as heavily as the Electric or S. P.

The S. P. does not enter the Grove's limits, while nearly a mile of track passes through the county seat—to say nothing of the long stretch of the Electric and the Tillamook line.

N. H. Jones, of above Glencoe, was in the city yesterday, and states that the big brown bear that has infested his neighborhood for some months has gone to that bourne from whence no traveler returns.

He and Sam Johnson, with the latter's Harlan Kelly, rounded Bruin up the other day, and Kelly put two shots into his bearship. The first shot split Bruin's tail, but the next one caught him squarely between the eyes. He weighed about 200 pounds, dressed.

Judge Goodin went to Forest Grove the first of the week, and heard the insanity case wherein Mrs. Philip B. Porter was examined by Dr. Tucker, and ordered committed to the State Hospital, at Salem. The unfortunate woman formerly was a teacher, Miss Jane Bates, and her disturbance is due to religious excitement. There are two small children who will be cared for by the father, and it is hoped that Mrs. Porter will sustain a permanent cure.

A great reduction sale on all Christmas goods and general merchandise, commencing December 12 and ending December 17. Will serve free lunch every day during sale days. Also carry government inspected meats Fridays and Saturdays of each week, 45 cents cash for eggs; dairy butter, 70 cents.—Schmidt & Kullisch, Elmonica Station, Oregon Electric, and on Baseline road.

Barney Leis, of Beaverton, has the big individual exhibit down at the apple show, so far as Washington County is concerned. The county display is a "pippin," and when you go to see it you are proud of your section. Take a trip down tomorrow or Saturday, and see the biggest apple show you ever witnessed in your life.

Shelton Munday, well known here in the seventies and eighties, and who is now on a ranch down in Coos County, was in town the first of the week greeting old friends. Since he last saw Hillsboro, the old town has improved wonderfully, and he hardly recognized the place.

The Board of Trade will hold a meeting Monday evening, and as it is election night the session will not begin until 8:30. The subject up for discussion is: "Does Hillsboro want the United Railway?" The ladies of the Coffee Club will serve sandwiches and coffee gratis.

Dr. F. A. Bailey represented Hillsboro at the big Development League meeting held at Salem the first of the week. This was one of the largest meetings ever held in the state, and will be productive of much good for Oregon.

Wanted: High grade Jersey bull, between one and two years old. Give price and breeding.—Box 411, Forest Grove, Ore.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Vandehuy, of near Glencoe, badly cut his hand on a broken bottle the other day, and the wound was a serious proposition. Drs. Bailey attended the little one.

Money to loan on real estate security. We sell farms. Try us.—The Webfoot Realty Co., Hillsboro 12tf

J. M. Miller, of Banks, was in the city yesterday.

Homer Emmott departed yesterday for a month's visit with an uncle, down in Arizona. He and the relative have not met for many years—in fact, not since Homer was a two-year-old.

J. J. Kuratli, one of Phillips' pioneers, was in the city yesterday.

The Washington County court house is badly crowded for room, and it is but a question of a short time until larger quarters must be built. A one-mill tax on the total valuation for a trio of years would build an addition or annex, or remodel the present structure so that it would last for all time. Three years of such a tax for a sinking fund would do the business—and it should be done.

Van Warren, recluse and widower, of Chehalem Mountain, and whose morphine-using wife died a few years ago, was brought in yesterday and lodged in jail on charge of starving his old horses—the animals coming better in the category of "crow-baits" or "plugs." Warren was forced to take a bath—the first he had received for many years, and it is an actual fact that it was necessary to cut the socks from his feet. Warren is simple minded and should be cared for by the state.

WASHINGTON COUNTY SENDS FINE EXHIBIT

Over Two Hundred Boxes go to Portland Apple Show Now on

FINEST DESIGN AT BIG EXHIBIT

Board of Trade, Through Secretary N. H. Alexander, Makes Good

Washington County apple growers are very proud of the showing they are making at the big apple show in Portland this week, and they have sent to the metropolis the most unique exhibit in the annals of Oregon horticulture. It has taken over 200 boxes to do the work. Secretary Alexander, of the Board of Trade, stated the ball rolling several weeks ago and the organization procured Wm. Ritt, an experienced packer, to place the exhibit. As Washington County will doubtless have the finest exhibit of any county adjacent to Hill lines it should get some generous prizes. The Telegram of Tuesday evening has the following account of the Washington County exhibit.

"Mosier Valley has about 250 boxes; Dufur has 300 and Washington County, which is preparing the most unique and striking display imaginable, is using fully that many boxes on its long stand. Washington County exhibits have had a big corps of decorators at work since last Saturday, the design of their exhibit being two large American flags, a big star and two shields, together with an heroic bust likeness of George Washington, and the entire design is done in different colored apples, with the assistance of colored tissue paper wrappers. It has required several thousand apples to work out this intricate emblem as a token of the county which is making the display."

Heavy contributors to exhibit are: E. M. Rice, Dave Houston, A. E. Peat, Hillsboro; B. Leis, Beaverton; Andrew Westberg, Farmington; J. J. VanKleeck, Kinton; J. B. Bartlett, Scholls, H. C. Atwell and Mr. Lilly, above Forest Grove, and Peter Zurcher, of below Orenco, besides others whose name can not be learned.
