HOWARD ELLIOTT PRIZE COME TO THIS COUNTY

Exhibit of Apples Under Hillsboro Board of Trade, Wins
ALSO THIRD PRIZE SWEEPSTAKES
In Addition get Silk Banner for Most Artistic Exhibit

The Hillsboro Board of Trade is feeling very proud over the result of the big apple show held in Portland, where it is said was the largest apple exhibit ever shown the public in the state of Oregon. Hood River had over 1,000 boxes, and The Dalles also had a much larger display than the Washington County offering—and yet, the local exhibit captured three prizes, viz: The Howard Elliott $250 prize for the best exhibit from any locality on the line of, or any branch line of the Northern Pacific Railway; the third prize in the grand sweepstakes entry, cash, $25, and a silk banner for the most artistic exhibit. Had $100 more been expended on polishing the apples with chamois, and had the pack been more particular in the way of swelling the center of the box and all packing been perfected with no stems upward, it might have captured at least second sweepstakes, if not first. As it is the county growers who have patriotically expended time and money to show what this section can do should feel that they have done their whole duty to the community in which they live. The Barney Leis' exhibit from Beaverton, and the E. M. Rice exhibit of North Hillsboro, each comprising many boxes, were simply splendid, and lacked only the polish—which another year will be remedied.
Hood River won the grand sweepstakes prize of $250; The Dalles won the Louis W. Hill prize of $250, and this leaves the Washington County exhibit in the class of having received the most money as a general exhibit. Hood River growers won many individual prizes, however, where in this section had no competition.
The silk banner awarded for the most artistic display was well earned, as it is doubtful if fruit was ever excelled in the Northwest.
With as large a display as Hood River and with equal care in polishing and packing no one who visited the apple show would dispute that Washington county can do as well in apple culture as the famous Eastern Oregon section.

ROAD MEETING

We, the undersigned, comprising 10 per cent. of the taxpayers of Road District No. 28, Washington County, Oregon, hereby give notice that a meeting will be held at the Wallace School House in said road district, on the 23rd day of December, 1910, at the hour of one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of voting an additional tax for road purposes, as provided in Section 24, Laws of 1909, page 295.
J. E. Zimmerman, F. M. Wadsworth, E. Koenig, A. Benzen, A. L. Nelson, H. W. Zimmerman, Carl Berggren, H. Hendricksen, G. E. Zimmerman, G. B. Zimmerman.
Dated this Nov. 24, 1910.

Material is delivered for the concrete floor for the new National bank in the Wehrung block and the owners inaugurated a novel move to settle the earth on which the floor is to rest—they hired Nicodemus to take his heavy draft horses and travel them over it for many hours. It worked to good advantage, however, and did more to settle the newly hauled earth than a thousand tamping.

When the kitchen is properly equipped there is sunshine in the house. Come in and see our Champion and Charter Oak ranges. They are the best.—Emrick & Corwin

Mrs. Harry Soladay, of Portland, is the guest of Mrs. M. H. Stevenson, this week.

We are now better than ever prepared to supply our customers. We have a good supply of flooring, rustic, shiplap and finishing lumber and can furnish good house bills on short notice. We also have a good stock of all kinds of common lumber. We have in stock all sizes of tile from 3 to 16 inch that are first quality; also brick and building blocks. Try our building blocks for your fruit or potato house, or foundation for your buildings—better and cheaper than brick or concrete. Parties wanting orders delivered will do well to place them early, while the roads are good, and our teams are not too busy. In the past we find that it is the failing of many people to wait till the roads are almost impassable, and then place their orders for delivery, at a cost of twice what it can be done for now. So don't forget, this year, while our stock is complete.—Groner & Rowell Company.

Jack Wood, who recently moved from near Roy to Portland, where he is conducting a hotel and rooming house, was severely stabbed by a traveling man, at his place of business one day last week. The drummer had made himself obnoxious around the place and Wood ordered him out. The drummer showed fight and when Wood was giving him a successful football rush and Jack knows how to do that—the offender stabbed Wood with a knife. The blade is said to have entered the lung. The drummer was arrested and is awaiting trial. Wood's many friends in Washington County hope he will have no serious trouble with the wound.

A gentleman representing a paving company that paved at Corvallis, this Summer, was in town Monday, and a large number of property holders on Main, between Second and Fourth, signed a petition asking for bituminous pavement. If this company should do the paving they will move a plant to the city. Mr. Heidel, who has over four hundred feet of street front, was one of the signers.

The two young fellows arrested on a charge of having robbed a United Railway laborer were turned loose the first of the week, the grand jury having failed to return a true bill. It appeared that the prosecuting witness had no idea as to who held him up. The two suspects had 15 pounds of butter in their grips and it got "powahful strong" before they left the bastille.

Chas. W. Brown, who in February next will have spent 28 years in active sawmilling and logging, has moved to the Hare ranch on Jackson Bottom, south of town, where the boys will run the ranch while C. W. works at the sawmill. Brown says he wants two years more of it and then he expects to apply for a pension.

Fred Myers, of Shady Brook, the first of the week brought in two turnips, one of the Purple Leaf and the other of the strap leaf variety, and one measured in circumference 3 feet and 11 inches, while the other girdled 3 feet and 7 inches. They are on exhibition at the Imbrie Land Co.'s office.

When it comes down to the voting test, however, it appears that some who have been doing some tall talking for civic improvement withheld their vote when they had an opportunity.

Notice to farmers— I will run a chopper at Orengo every other Saturday—commencing December 17. Located at the old blacksmith shop formerly run by J. P. Gardner.—E. E. Schmelzer.

Ora Gardner, of Mountindale, the last of the week brought in some fine specimens of potatoes, showing what that section can do in raising tubers.

John Freudenthal, who has seven men clearing land on his ranch below Newton, on the Sigler donation, was in the county seat Monday.

Carrier William Tipton has one of the finest storm covers on his mail wagon seen since the advent of the wet weather.

The Hillsboro Grange will have election of officers next Saturday, December 10, and a big attendance is expected.

Manley B. Everitt, of Tigard, was in town Monday, transacting business and visiting relatives.

J. Schmitke, of above Mountindale, was over to the city Monday afternoon.

W. H. Hollis, was down from the Grove, Monday, attending circuit court.

AGITATION ON FOR PERMANENT ROADS

Many Road Districts Will Vote For or Against Special Tax
2 HILLSBORO PRECINCTS WILL CARRY
Expect to lay Several Miles of Rock Highway Next Year
Notices are posted in a large number of precincts in the county calling for meetings to vote for or against a special tax for laying rock roads, and it is said that the sentiment is very strong in those road districts where citizens have travelled over the work which was accomplished last Summer and Fall.
The two Hillsboro districts will vote the tax without any opposition, so the wise ones say, and next year will see several miles more of macadam laid.
If Cornelius shall vote a tax, and Forest Grove as well, the gap between the county seat and the college city will be filled and we shall have a fine thoroughfare between the two places. This will benefit many hundreds of travellers from the west end of the county, and give Gales Creek a hard road clear to the county seat.
Three or four years of special tax will give the two Hillsboro road districts rock on all their main roads clear to the outside road district lines.

ROAD MEETING

Notice of meeting to vote additional road tax: We, the undersigned, comprising 10 per cent. of the taxpayers of Road District No. 34, Washington County, Oregon, hereby give notice that a meeting will be held at the Her School House in said road district on the 23rd day of December, 1910, at the hour of one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of voting an additional tax for road purposes as provided in Sec. 34, Laws of 1909, page 295.

Isaac Allen, of near Reedville, was in the city Saturday.
M. C. Collier, of Scholls, was in the city the first of the week.
J. C. Beach, of Glencoe, was over town Monday.
O. Nordlund, of below Reedville, was in town Monday and called at the Argus.
A. J. Killin, a pioneer of the Greenville-Thatcher section, was in the city Monday afternoon.
Money to loan on real estate. Terms reasonable. Apply to Kurathi Bros., Hillsboro, Or. 21tf
Miss Alice Stanley, of Portland, was the guest of Mrs. Geo. Schulerich, the last of the week.
Special Holiday sale Dec. 9 and 10, at Greer's. Save a little money by buying a week or so sooner.
Earl Hollenbeck, of Mountindale, was a city visitor Monday. He says there is "some mud" out his way.
Now on sale—Nap-a-Tan, John Sharrood and W. L. Douglas shoes at Wyatt & Co. Store, corner Second and Main.
S. G. Rhodes, of near Reedville, was up Monday, making preparations for the big masquerade at that place, Dec. 24.
J. E. Reeves, of south of Cornelius, was down to the city Monday—just to see how Hillsborites performed on election day.
Geo. T. Ledford acted as marshal at the city election, Monday, and saw to it that order was kept as strictly as at a Sunday school class.
For sale: Two high grade Holstein heifer calves from very good stock. Price, $25 each.—A. Bendler, Cornelius, Oregon, Route 1. 39-41

STRIKING COLLECTION OF COUNTY GRAINS

Portland Paper Says it is the Finest Ever Exhibited There
WILL BE PRODUCTIVE OF INTEREST
Chamber of Commerce, Portland, Gets a Fine Exhibit
The Imbrie Land Company, of this city, last week sent to Portland for exhibition in the Chamber of Commerce display room a collection of Washington County productions and the list embraced grains and grasses as follows:
Nine foot rye, grown by J. W. Gates and Chas. Meacham.
Oats grown by J. B. Hanley.
Oats grown by Hanley Brothers.
Banner oats grown by J. T. Morrison.
Wheat grown by Martin Reiling.
Alaskan Wheat, grown by Fred Burgdorfer, Mountindale.
Clover grown by J. A. Zimmerman.
A Portland paper, in commenting on the exhibit, says:
Rye nine feet high, oats six feet, Alaska wheat nearly the same height, and other cereal growths of remarkable size and strength, all from the fertile soil of Washington County, are being exhibited in the Chamber of Commerce display room. It is the most striking collection that ever has been gathered here. Such marvels of Oregon soil as this are being gathered, prepared in the most artistic and effective way ever known to Northwest exhibit work and worked into an aggregate of Oregon products which is very impressive for the visitors. It is apparent that the space will have to be enlarged, as there is not nearly enough room now for the many things coming in, and the demand for such work grows each year. Some time the Chamber hopes to get a much larger exhibit space.

We shall have no elections for a year or so—unless some one gets busy and petitions a special election under the charter. This makes three elections within the last 90 days—and that's going some. Besides this there was an assembly primary and an assembly county convention—all within the past few months. Who wouldn't live here, where we can have excitement all the time?

Herman Boge, who has been back in the Mississippi Valley for two months, returned Sunday. He visited old friends and relatives at Hamilton, Ill., and then went as far south as Texas. He found the weather quite cold in Illinois, and plenty of drouth in Texas. Arkansaw, he says, is coming to the front for what has been considered a back number state. Herman says he is "glad to get back to Oregon," and that the Farmington valley looks good to him.

In the midst of the big storm of the last of the week a prairie schooner sailed majestically through town, bound for the Silletz. The caravan stopped, and the driver went to Greer's and Emmott's and laid in a few supplies. The man said he and the wife and two kids had driven clear through from Utah since September 1, and that he had bought a homestead relinquishment over beyond the Silletz. He went in via Sheridan, and although he was travelling under difficulties he was just about as "peart" a chap as you would find anywhere. He will settle near J. N. Gardner's place, over near Pitner.

Mrs. D. Jeffery, of Portland, was Friday granted a divorce from J. A. Jeffery, the Portland attorney who defended John D. Roselair. She testified that when she was ill in the hospital the husband neglected her, and that his affections were won by another woman. Jeffery gave her in settlement $750 cash, a note for $250, and agreed to pay her $25 per month alimony. Jeffery has a considerable criminal practice in law, and is noted for his legal acumen, as well as bearing a reputation for being a close second to Beau Brummell.

A Forest Grove paper says that the LaRue home was visited a few days ago and pilfered of some pies. We know that anyone would be acquitted of criminal intent for stealing Mrs. LaRue's pies for at Scholls they say her pies are the best in the in the world—but the Argus is inclined to think that Z. M. L. ate the pastry and is trying to disclaim it. A grand juror from the Scholls section, who knew the LaRue folks when they lived there, incidentally remarked that he would bet it was some one who knows a good pie, but from the looks of LaRue's waist line he believes he is the party, who should be indicted.

Attorney S. B. Huston was in town Monday, and in speaking of the late Loui Manning, told the following incident, touching upon the integrity of the pioneer horseman: "Manning owed me on a mortgage and made arrangement with another party to get a loan that would pay mine and give Mr. Manning some ready cash. When the loan had been perfected and the money was on the table, Mr. Manning called me down stairs, from the circuit court room where I was trying a case, and I released the mortgage and took the money which was counted out in a pile by itself, and went back to my case in McBride's court. I had some other money in my pocket and did not take the time to make an exact count, supposing it was correct. Late that evening Mr. Manning came into town and asked me if I was short, saying that he had $100 too much and that he knew the error was in my payment as the money had been thoroughly counted when taken from the bank. He paid me the difference, and I have always had a high opinion of his integrity. I was very sorry to read of his death."

That it is not necessary to have warm weather in order to successfully grow corn is demonstrated by a display of the product by J. T. Morrison, in the Imbrie Land Co.'s office. The ears are large and well formed and the variety is that known as the "Ninety Day" corn. Mr. Morrison states that he was late in planting and late in getting it irrigated, but notwithstanding, this the result goes to prove that climatic conditions are not a bar to successful culture. He planted 3-4 of an acre and produced 4170 pounds on the cob. Taking the government figures for it, 78 bushels per acre is the yield. Mr. Morrison's ranch is on the Tualatin, on the river road, below Witch Hazel. Another year and he will plant and irrigate earlier now that he has demonstrated we have a sufficient length of season.

December 9 and 10 (two days only) 20 per cent. off on silverware, and 10 per cent. on dishes, glassware, lamps, toys, and anything else in the holiday line.—Norman R. Greer.

Monday was "pension voucher day" at the court house, and many veterans were before Clerk Bailey and Treasurer Jackson, swearing to their claims.

The best time to sit for a photo, on a winter's day, is between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m., and Johnson's Studio is the best place.
Fred Siegrist, with the Hillsboro Lumber Co., assisted Clerk Bailey for two days the first of the week.

Don't think of buying Silverware before visiting our store and inspecting our stock of these goods.

Our present prices of Silverware no more represent the value of the goods than the prices of bar silver.

Never have we shown such an assortment of fine plated ware. The display fairly bristles with bargains.

There is wisdom in buying this class of goods from one who knows the quality. My 18 years experience is of value to me in buying and will be of value to you as well.
