It begins to look like paved streets in the business section. Hillsboro will have a great building year in 1911 if all signs do not fail. With 20 road districts voting special taxes for roads there will be things doing in Washington County this year.

Dr. Linklater is suffering from a slight limp today, occasioned by playing the good Samaritan, late in the night Wednesday. He was traveling in the country and it was very dark when he came upon a belated traveler, who had turned his buggy over on a grade, the driver being underneath the vehicle. The physician helped him out of his predicament, and in getting things shaped the horse in some manner stepped on the Doctor's foot. This reminds one that when one breaks into a family disturbance he generally gets into trouble.

Lost: Notes and legal papers. Left them some place in town or county. Person having them will please notify me.—Josiah Beal, Hillsboro, Ore.

Some burglar entered the public school building last night, and pilfered nearly every teacher's desk. Each desk was pried open, and some articles of minor value taken. Miss Young lost a watch which had been locked up, and the microscope case was pried open in the principal's room. Sheriff Hancock is on the lookout for the culprit.

For sale: Bay mare, coming 6 in Spring; broke to saddle, or to drive single or double. Sound; spirited.—Edgar Rehse, Sixth Street, between Fir and Oak.

Ernest J. Crabb, of North Hillsboro, was united in marriage to Della J. Bailey, Jan. 1, 1911, at the home of the groom, Rev. J. E. Frank officiating.

County claims allowed last Saturday and this week, by the court, will be published in full next week.

Virgil B. Henderson and Jessie V. Hatch were married at the home of the groom, in Cornelius, Ore., Dec. 31, 1910. Rev. Jas. T. Moore officiating.

On Jan. 12, at 2:00 p. m., the ladies of the Advent Christian Church will auction a quilt on the corner of Second and Main.

C. H. Soehren, of Banks, was in town yesterday.

H. B. Dauchy, of near Greenville, was in town this afternoon.

HOUSE WARMING. The new home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Delsman, of North Hillsboro, was the scene of a very pretty surprise, Monday evening, the occasion being a house warming and the celebration of the birthdays of both host and hostess, as well. The evening was spent in games, music, conversation and dancing by the younger set, and refreshments were served after nine o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Delsman were given the party as a surprise, planned by their friends. They have just moved into their handsome new home. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Jno. Engeldinger, Mittenberger Sr., Jno. Vanderwal, W. H. Reiling, Docher, Michael, J. Lorusung, J. Becker, Will Mittenberger, Schaefer, Jos. Delsman, Clark, and Mrs. C. Delsman. Messrs. Lou Emmott, Chas. The party dispersed about midnight, after congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Delsman upon their new home and their evening's entertainment.

Petition for Liquor License HILLSBORO HIGH SCHOOL.

School is again in full swing after the holiday vacation, and all are in their places looking bright or for the short season of relaxation from school work. It is interesting to note that, according to Prof. Barnes' report for the month just ended, seventy-two persons, including the school board, have visited the school during December. Now, that we are sure a few are interested, the incentive to place Hillsboro as a "top-notch" becomes greater, and we are going to strive harder to put it there.
