NORTH PLAINS HAS A BIG BLOW-OUT

John F. Stevens, of Hill Lines in Northwest, Makes Address

OUTLINES FUTURE OF UNITED ROAD

Address Made by Postmaster B. P. Cornelius, Thursday Night

North Plains held its first big celebration last Thursday night, when the new city was visited by about 100 Portlanders, among whom was John F. Stevens, of the Hill lines in the Northwest. Mr. Stevens was formerly with the big Panama canal, and left that position to go with Jim Hill in railroad work. Mr. Stevens made an address outlining the future of the United, and said in part:

"Of course, it would not pay us to stop at North Plains, and if I told you that the terminus would be at this point you would not believe me for no railroad could go to the expense that we have gone in the construction of the tunnel and other heavy work and expect returns for the investment.

"I made up my mind that in building this road to the coast that the shortest route was the best and for that reason took over the United Railways property. It was the intention of our company to go to the coast by way of Scappoose, but on examining that route I found that it would not do and it was a more roundabout way.

"I have gone over every foot of the way between here and Tillamook. The resources of that section are the greatest in Oregon. These valleys, such as the Tualatin, are the richest in Oregon and can support a large population. With millions of feet of timber around Tillamook to haul there is ample reason for the construction."

Hon. B. P. Cornelius, Hillsboro's postmaster, delivered a forcible address, reviewing the future of the best section of Washington County, and John E. Zimmerman made one of his characteristic speeches.

At the conclusion of the meeting a North Plains Commercial Club was organized by selecting Dr. Murphy president, D. W. Bath, editor of the North Plains Sentinel, secretary, and Marion Mays, J. H. Lang, J. R. Wilson and Thomas Connell as an executive committee.

HORSEMEN MEET

Notice is hereby given that there will be a meeting of Washington county horsemen in the office of Judge W. D. Smith, on Saturday, April 1, 1911, at 2 in the afternoon, for the purposes of devising ways and means, for a horse show, a colt show, either or both, to be held in Hillsboro, at in April or early in May.

Wm. McQuillan.

Have Dr. Lowe relieve your head and eye ache with a pair of his superior glasses. They cost no more than others, and you have the benefit of his skill and more than 20 years experience. Consult him at Forest Grove, on Monday, April 3; at Hillsboro, April 7, to 4 o'clock.

Peter Evers, of Verboort, was in the city Monday afternoon.

D. C. Stokesbury, who built the Baseline stretch of rock road, between this city and Oak Park, was in town Saturday, from Forest Grove. Mr. Stokesbury wears as a watch charm a memento of a "Bwano Tumbo" fight with a great grizzly bear, in Wyoming, in 1888. He shot and wounded the grizzly and was then attacked by the enraged denizen of the Rockies. Mr. Stokesbury had an arm and five ribs broken, and one arm and leg was almost literally stripped of their flesh. He finally succeeded in shooting the bear, using but one arm. He had one of the claws mounted, and says that for years he dreamed that fight over and over again.

Yes, the trick of looking over the glasses is ridiculous. Two pairs of glasses are a nuisance. Call at Hotel Washington, Friday, April 7, to 4 o'clock, and have Dr. Lowe show you the new Kryptok glasses with which you can see all distances. No lines or seams to make you look old, or collect dirt or strain the eyes. No cement to come apart. Dr. Lowe can refer you to quite a few people in Hillsboro to whom he furnished these glasses. Free demonstration.

L. L. Crawford, of Crawford station, above Banks, was down to the city Friday and Saturday, accompanied by J. D. Burlingame, of Glendon, Minn., and who is looking over the Oregon country. He goes from here to Coos County, to visit a relative. While in the city Mr. Burlingame was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Shafer, on the Abbott place, northwest of the city.

Brown Leghorn eggs for setting from some of the finest birds in the country. Being a member of three different poultry associations, can tell you where to get eggs and stock from any variety wanted. Drop us a postal. Satisfaction or no sale. Mail Address, Jos. Saunders, Portland, Ore., Route 2, Pacific States phone, Farmers, 36x; Home, Bethany 1. 50tf

Rev. W. D. Ewing, the pioneer M. E. minister, was out from Portland, Monday, and called on the Argus. Rev. Ewing came to Oregon in 1852, and has a host of pioneer friends in the state. He is one of the fine old ministers of the old school, and always gets a welcome here when he calls on the county of his pioneerage.

See the fine stock of "back combs," at Libby, the jeweler's place. No back numbers—all new and fresh goods, direct from the factory; and Gee Whiz!—see the fine clocks and jewelry of all kinds, which he is almost giving away. 38-tf

Wilhelm Harrman, driver for Truck No. 1, Portland Paid Fire Department, was out the last of the week, a guest of his sister, Mrs. C. Demmin, of South Tualatin. He is in the same company in the department with Chas. Pierce, the well known Greenvilleite, who has made firefighting a business for some years.

Single Comb Aconas, Exhibition and Utility. My birds win. 1st cock—1 cockerel, 1 hen, 1st, 2nd and 3rd pullet and 1st pen, at the recent poultry show in Hillsboro. Yours for the best.—H. E. Cameron. 51-10

E. M. Rice has been engaged this week in pulling up the concrete foundation laid by Contractor Adams, last Fall, for the old site of the rest room. The big slabs of cement came up readily in seven or eight pieces, and were taken to the rear of the court house woodshed.

"Mr. Farmer—If your farm property is for sale, let me know. I am flooded with buyers for Washington County property.—H. U. Nolan, 828 Chamber of Commerce, Portland." 2-3

Ralph Wann, of Reedville, and who has charge of the public schools at that place, was in the city Saturday. Mr. Wann and family will take up their residence at Orenco, in a few days.

For Sale—Three H. P. Lilly Gasoline engine with pumping jack; also two horses, 6 and 7 years, 1100 each.—John Hanschel, Portland, R. 2, near Cedar Mill. 3-5

L. S. Bierly, of near Kinton, was in town Friday, accompanied by his son. While in the city Mr. Bierly called on the Argus for another year of the county official paper.

Dr. Lowe will be in Hillsboro, April 7, to 4 o'clock. By special request, at Cornelius, from 9 a. m. to 4 o'clock p. m., Tuesday, April 4. Remember the day and dates.

Argus and Oregonian, $2.25.

COUNTY TO BE A GREAT GARDEN TRACT

Close Observer Says That the Era of Small Tracts is Coming

GREAT CITY FOR FUTURE MARKET

Looks for Half Million in Portland in Six Years Time

C. E. Harness, of New York City, touring the coast for his health, was in the city Saturday, looking over conditions, and was very favorably impressed with what he witnessed. He came out on the Southern and returned via the Oregon Electric. The visitor stated that he conscientiously believed that Portland would have a half million people at the end of six years and he says that inside of 10 years it is to be the chief commercial city on the Pacific coast.

"You do not realize what you have here in Washington County, at the very door of a great city. You have a fertile soil, and when one knows what has happened to territory surrounding great cities, the vision of a splendid commonwealth is at once impressed upon a person. Your fine transportation facilities, your excellent water supply, and your location combine to make Washington County an ideal place for small farming and truck gardening. In time you will have canneries to take care of your surplus output, and you will always have a great market for fresh vegetables in Portland. You will find that an acre, with heavy fertilization will produce more than it is now producing in many instances, and even at that I was surprised to know of your yields. Were I a young man, and in search of investment, I would look no further than Washington County lands."

A NEW ONE

The Hillsboro philosopher passed along the street the other day, and found one of his neighbors sitting on the fence, whittling a piece of soft wood and complacently chewing a piece of tobacco. Said the philosopher, "Come along and we'll go up town and see the improvements." Said the whittler: "I'm busy, just now." Said the philosopher, "Busy? What are you doing?" "Oh, I'm just letting the hookworm feed," was the rejoinder.

If you are in the market for a buggy or a hack, do not fail to go down to the Jacob Michel barn, North Hillsboro (the old Billings' place) and see his fine display. Prices are the lowest. Come and see them.

Mr. Caples, of Forest Grove, and formerly in the mercantile business, has bought an auto, and although over 70 years of age, is having the time of his life. Physicians say that the vibration of the engines is good for people, and if this be the case, Mr. Wood has "driven" in right.

Hercules stumping powder, any quantity, caps, fuse, etc.—All new stock at J. E. Borwick's, Reedville, and at Orenco. 36tf

W. E. Smith, of South Tualatin, was an interested spectator at the Portland stockyards the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Carstens and daughter, Miss Ethel, were down from Roy, Friday, guests at the Mrs. Polly Butler home.

Fred Stark, of near Scholls, was in town Monday, returning from a visit with his father-in-law, Mr. Luck, of near Glencoe.

Holstein bull, registered, four years old, for sale. Also registered bull calf, 2 months old. Inquire of Geo. R. Bagley, Hillsboro. 44tf

W. F. Wohlschlegel, Scholls, was in town Friday. Mr. W. recently bought a fine registered Holstein bull to head his dairy herd.

For sale: Large 3-year-old sorrel horse. Will make 1,600 or 1,700 with full growth.—Robb Bros., near Centerville. Forest Grove, Ore., Route 2. 1-3

John Hauschel, who has been on the Mrs. N. C. Walters farm for several years, was up from Cedar Mill, Saturday, and called on the Argus.

Photograph gallery for sale: Will sell photographic plant with or without building, and lease the building.—A. E. Gibson, Orenco, Ore. 1-3

Tauscher, who played with the Cardinals last year, has signed with the Portland Northwest League for the season. His friends think he will make good.

We have just received a dandy lot of new rose bushes, and also a fine assortment of trees, berry vines, grapes, etc., for immediate planting. A first class stock.—Morton's Greenhouse.

E. E. Yarnell, who is running a hotel up at Timber, at the edge of the great Nehalem timber belt, was in town Friday morning, and called at the Argus office.

Lou Meyers, of near Laurel, and who is one of the big potato producers of his section, and who finds that it pays, was in town Saturday, settling up for his 1910 crop.

H. B. Dauchy, of near Greenville, was in the city Thursday afternoon of last week, and says that his vacation days are few and far between in the carpenter and contracting business.

La France Circle, Women of Woodcraft, will give a dance in W. O. W. Hall, Cedar Mill, Saturday evening, April 8, 1911. Good supper. Good management. Good music. Tickets $1.00. All are invited. 3-4

PIONEER WOMAN DIES IN SOUTHERN OREGON

Settled Near Reedville, in Year of 1853. Was Aged 83 Years

HUSBAND BUILT A. J. MASTERS HOUSE

Grandma Kuykendall, Native of Indiana, and Well Beloved

Mrs. Melinda Kuykendall, of Roseburg, died at Roseburg, at the home of her son, March 24, 1911, from an attack of pneumonia. She was born in Vigo County, Indiana, in 1824, and was married to John Kuykendall shortly before they crossed the plains, in 1853. They settled in this county upon arrival, remaining here but a year, and then moved to the Umpqua, which claimed many of our early immigrants. Her husband died 16 years ago. He built the house on the A. J. Masters' claim (located by the father of John Masters, of this city) in 1854, before going to Southern Oregon. This house is still standing and is occupied as a farm home. The lumber was all dressed by hand and at that time it was considered one of the handsome homes of the Tualatin Plains. The weather boarding, and ceiling lumber was sawed out of clear cedar, and is still a part of the building.

Mrs. Kuykendall leaves four sons—Dr. G. B. Kuykendall, Pomeroy, Wash.; Dr. Wm. Kuykendall, Eugene, H. C. Kuykendall, of California, and E. W. Kuykendall, Roseburg, Ore. One daughter, Mrs. Lessie Pickering, is the wife of Col. Abner Pickering, U. S. A., stationed in the Philippines.

Resolutions of Condolence.

Banks, Oregon, March 22, 1911. Pocatolmas Rebekah Lodge, No. 169, I. O. O. F.

We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions of condolence, beg leave to submit the following.

Whereas, Sister Malva Prickett, wife of Brother N. S. Prickett, has been called by the Supreme Ruler of the Universe to the world beyond, where care, sickness and trouble are unknown;

Whereas, death has entered the home of Brother N. S. Prickett, and taken therefrom a loving wife and mother, therefore:

Be It Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of this lodge be extended to the bereaved husband, children and relatives of our sister.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Lodge, a copy sent to the bereaved family, and a copy to the Banks Herald and Hillsboro Argus for publication, and that the charter of this Lodge be draped in mourning thirty days.

Fraternally submitted,
Mollie Willis,
Nettie McGraw,
Minnie Schulmerich,
Committee.
