HORSEMEN ORGANIZE COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Vote to Hold a Horse and Colt Show in Hillsboro, April 29th

COLT PRIZES WILL BE OFFERED

Wm. McQuillan Elected President and Directors Named

The Washington County Horsemen's Association was organized in Hillsboro, last Saturday. Wm. McQuillan was elected president, and L. A. Long was chosen secretary-treasurer. A board of directors, consisting of McQuillan, Herman Boge and A. W. Mills, will act as pilot for the new organization. It was voted to hold a horse and colt show in the county seat, Saturday, April 29, morning and afternoon. It was decided that for the first show owners of stallions would be required to put up cash prizes for first and second premium takers of offspring, and that the owners of horses so showing must have the receipt of the treasurer before the exhibit could be entered. The Cornelius Shire Horse Co.; Boge & Smith, and Herman Boge, in draft classes, offer $6 first, $4 second, on yearling colts sired by their horses; and $5 and $2.50 on suckling colts. A. W. Mills, owner of Coeur de Luce, offers $5 for best yearling from his animal and $2.50 for best suckling. He stated that he would give more, but he was tracking his horse this season. Frank Holcomb, for Holcomb and Hamel, offers $6 and $4, first and second on yearlings; and $5 and $2.50 on sucklings, offspring of Lord Kitchener. Others will be in and publication will follow. The association will have another meeting April 15.

Owing to the new law horse owners will have their horses examined this year and the association will look after the matter with the state authorities. Very likely an examiner will be selected from the county.

AUCTION SALE OF DAIRY COWS

The undersigned will sell at public auction at the old William Connell farm, one-half mile north of Hillsboro, at one o'clock p. m., SATURDAY, APRIL 8, Nineteen head of dairy cows, aged from 2 to 9 years; full-blooded and graded Jerseys; 12 in milk, 7 are fresh, balance are to be fresh July 1. This herd has been selected and graded for milking purposes for the last twelve years, and we are now going out of the dairy business. Also a fine Jersey bull three old, not interbred with this herd. Terms of Sale—One year's bankable approved note, with interest at 7 per cent. Two per cent off for cash.

B. P. Cornelius, Auctioneer.

AFTER FORTY YEARS

Rev. E. S. Hammond, teacher in the Kimball College, Salem, occupied the pulpit at the M. E. church, Sunday morning. His father was the local minister here for several years in the early '70's, and the Sunday visitor had not seen Hillsboro since 1874. He finds many whom he knew gone to join the silent majority. When Mr. Hammond departed from Hillsboro there was not a brick in the city, but there was glory enough for everybody in the way the old-timers accomplished things. A big fair was on every year, at the race track west of town, and Rev. Hammond remembers the fine exhibits brought in by our husbands.

EVEREST-BLASER

A quiet home wedding was celebrated at High Noon, Saturday, April 1, 1911, at the home of the bride's parents, in Hillsboro, Rev. Vallandigham officiating, when Miss Ila Blaser was united in marriage to Wade H. Everest, of Willamina, Oregon. The happy pair departed by auto to Forest Grove, and later took the evening train for Sheridan. They will reside at Willamina, where the groom, who is a son of Dr. Ernest Everest and wife, of Cornelius, has charge of a mercantile establishment. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Blaser, and was born and reared here, and is one of the popular young ladies of the city.

John Becker states that his willow farm, north of town, will in a few years supply enough material to keep forty or fifty basket makers at work. Right now he could use several men if he could get them. He has one man at work now, besides what the Beckers, father and son, turn out, and they are always behind in filling orders. They are now working in straw to fill a demand for Summer work.

If you are in the market for a buggy or a hack, do not fail to go down to the Jacob Michel barn, North Hillsboro (the old Billings' place) and see his fine display. Prices are the lowest. Come and see them.

The unbroken stretch of fine and sunshine weather which prevailed throughout the month of March and extended into April was broken early Monday morning, about 8 o'clock, with a slight sprinkle. Some of the oldtimers say it was a great deal like the March of 1883, while H. H. Hall, of Shady Brook, says the March of 1864 was an exact prototype of 1911.

For sale: Span mares, weigh between 3200 and 3300; aged 9 years; sound and true, and well matched—Geo. C. Engelke, at Loui Manning place, 1 1/2 miles north of Hillsboro, Oregon, on Route 1. 4-6

William Pitman, whose donkey engine exploded near Estacada, a few weeks ago, causing the death of a brother, was out to Hillsboro the first of the week, visiting his family. It is thought by some that a miscreant might have dynamited the engine, as an explosion of the steam chest, experts say, could never have thrown the boiler nearly a quarter of a mile.

See the fine stock of "back combs," at Libby, the jeweler's place. No back numbers—all new and fresh goods, direct from the factory; and Geo Whiz!—see the fine clocks and jewelry of all kinds, which he is almost giving away. 38-tf

The post office department has again resumed sending mail out on the Sunday evening train leaving Portland. This was due to the fact that every Monday morning the holdover Eastern mail made it a hardship on all cities of the size of Hillsboro on the West Side.

Single Comb Anconas, Exhibition and Utility. My birds win. 1st cock 1 cockerel, 1 hen, 1st, 2nd and 3rd pullet and 1st pen, at the recent poultry show in Hillsboro. Yours for the best.—H. E. Cameron. 51-10

An auto drove out from Portland Sunday night, and a tire bursted while near Beaverton, necessitating making the run into Hillsboro, on the rim. The wheel was in bad shape when the county seat was reached and to cap the climax the chauffeur ditched the big machine in the rear of the Hotel Washington.

La France Circle, Women of Woodcraft, will give a dance in W. O. W. Hall, Cedar Mill, Saturday evening, April 8, 1911. Good supper. Good management. Good music. Tickets $1.00. All are invited. 3-4

Harry Bowman, who has a position with the Corvallis Electric Light Co., was in town Sunday, the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benton Bowman. Harry is now in the benedict class, and his wife will graduate from the Domestic Science class this year.

We have just received a dandy lot of new rose bushes, and also a fine assortment of trees, berry vines, grapes, etc., for immediate planting. A first class stock.—Morton's Greenhouse.

H. D. Huff, a former banker of Helena, was in the city the last of the week, looking over the country. He was connected with the Conrad interests several years, and likes Montana, but says "Oh, you Oregon!" He expects to locate in the banking business somewhere in the valley.

For Sale—Three H. P. Lilly Gasoline engine with pumping jack; also two horses, 6 and 7 years, 1100 each.—John Hanschel, Portland, R. 2, near Cedar Mill. 3-5

Leo Schwander, of Mountaindale, was in town Monday. He will put up a hotel building for Carl Christener, of North Plains, construction beginning at once.

Money to loan on real estate security. We sell farms. Try us.—The Webfoot Realty Co., Hillsboro. 12tf

Fred Bishop, the Oreno carpenter and builder, was in town Monday morning. Argus and Oregonian, $2.25.

WANT BIG TUNNEL UNDER THE MOUNTAIN

Raleigh Meeting Discusses the Bore Proposition

WOULD ENHANCE PROPERTY VALUES

And Also Make Transit into Portland an Easy Matter

There is agitation on again for the big tunnel proposition under Council Crest Mountain, from Portland into the Tualatin Valley, and meetings are now being held at Raleigh, Hillsdale and Garden Home. A Portland engineer has figured that the proposed bore would cost in the neighborhood of a million dollars, but in all likelihood it would greatly exceed that cost. Efforts are being made to get the property owners west of the mountain to work with property owners on the Portland end and organize a stock company to promote the enterprise.

As yet the parties agitating the tunnel are not determined whether or not the bore could be used for vehicles and autos, but this could be accomplished if the way was electric lighted.

Such a subway would be of immense value to the property adjoining the west slope of the mountain, and there is talk of bonding a big acreage for expense money.

AUCTION SALE

The undersigned will sell at public auction on the Chas. M. Johnson Farm, 1 1/2 miles southeast of Farmington and 3 miles southwest of Reedville, at ten a. m.,

FRIDAY, APRIL 7,

Bay mare, 11 years, 1300; bay horse, 10 yrs, 1350; 4 good milk cows, two fresh, and one fresh in August; two yearling heifers, 3 hogs, 2 shoats, 2 dozen chickens, 31 Mitchell wagon, 3-inch Milburn wagon, new Deering binder, McCormick mower, Gundlach drill, hayrack, hayrake, 3-horse shaft, milk rack, 2 14-inch plows, 3-section steel lever harrow, new cultivator, top buggy, 2 sets work harness, one new; single harness, saddle, new X-cut saw, household furniture, and other articles too numerous to mention. Lunch at noon. Terms of Sale—Under $10, cash; $10 and over, 6 months' time, bankable note, at 8 per cent. Two per cent off for cash over $10.

John Fisher, of above Banks, was in town Saturday.

Anton Hermens, of Centerville, was in the city Monday.

John Boge, of Farmington, was up to the city the first of the week.

Christian Zuercher and wife, of Helvetia, were in the county seat Friday.

David O'Donnell, of Buxton, was in the city the last of the week.

Herman Koehnke, of beyond Oak Park, was in the county seat Saturday.

J. H. Hoffman was in town from Chehalis Mountain, the last of the week.

Scott Allen, of Reedville, was in town the first of the week, on business.

John Hughes, of below Newton, was in the city Monday morning.

A. E. Adkins, of Scotts Mills, was a guest at the Cave home, Saturday evening.

C. W. James, of Baseline, above Varley, was in town Monday.

Jacob Reichen, of West Union, was a county seat visitor the first of the week.

W. G. Walker, of Roy, was over to the city Saturday, attending the horse meeting.

C. A. Peterson and daughters, of Buxton, were in the city Monday. Mr. Peterson is postmaster at Buxton.

A. G. Stuart, the railroad man, is home for a few days with his family. He says he can see Hillsboro grow between trips.

Effingham Schieffelin, of Centerville, and who has one of the model dairies of his section, was in town Saturday.

Henry VanLum, who was raised near Centerville, is out from Portland, this week, visiting his parents, J. H. VanLum and wife, and his brother, Leonard, on the Dr. Bailey farm, near the race track. He is with Hose Co. No. 6, and says that in his experience over Portland streets the Bitulithic is the pave that is giving the best satisfaction.

Holstein bull, registered, four years old, for sale. Also registered bull calf, 2 months old. Inquire of Geo. R. Bagley, Hillsboro. 44tf

Judge Campbell, of the circuit court, is carrying a pronounced limp, the result of a trip to his wood ranch above Oregon City, Sunday. The court stood adjourned Monday, because the defendant in the Via trial went to Eugene, Sunday, and the S. P. on its return was several hours late.

Hercules stumping powder, any quantity, caps, fuse, etc.—All new stock—at J. E. Borwick's, Reedville, and at Oreno. 36tf

F. L. Gault, who recently purchased the J. H. Voelker place, near Blooming, was in town Saturday. Mr. Gault is a distant cousin of D. M. C. Gault, formerly publisher of the Independent, and now postmaster at Cottage Grove, down in the county that wanted-to-be Nesmith.

C. W. Allen, of Beaverton, was greeting friends in the city Saturday. C. W. still wears that same old smile, and says that we have had no Spring like this since 1883—that was the Spring he was married, and of course he remembers.

A County Institute of the W. C. T. U. will be held at Forest Grove, Friday, April 14, and delegates will be in attendance from the county seat, Cornelius, Beaverton, Banks and Gaston. Mrs. Ada Unruh, state president, will be in attendance.

Mrs. Nancy Johnson, of Glencoe, and who was born in Washington County in September, 1844, was an Argus caller Saturday. Her father was Anderson Smith, one of the early pioneers of the State.

Chas. Dietz, aged about 55, and who was recently admitted to the poor farm from the Gales Creek section, died Monday morning, his affliction having been dropsy. He has a brother in the Gales Creek neighborhood.

Sam Moon, the Centerville stockman, was in Saturday. Mr. Moon was one of those interested in the good old days when horsemen got together and gave horse shows worth while. And he says that it can be repeated.

John Matthes, who has put in many a hard day on Chehalis Mountain, and who has been up there long enough to see the wilderness bloom like a rose, was in town Saturday.

B. Fleischhauer, of Gaston, was down to the city Monday. He is road supervisor for one of the sections that is spending all kinds of money to get rock roads.

Miss Mary Davenport, of Baltimore, Maryland, is in the city, the guest of her cousin, Mrs. W. N. Barrett. She has been visiting relatives in Portland.

P. M. Jackson, who has been quite ill several weeks, made his first trip up town Friday. He is still very weak, but is gradually improving.

Chas. Eames has bought more fur this Winter than for many seasons. Trapping has been at an end for several weeks, owing to the early advent of Spring.

Hon. G. W. Marsh, of Centerville, was in town Monday. He is just convalescing from a severe attack of the lagrippe.

J. J. Shevlin, for a number of years road supervisor in the Beaverton district, was in the city Monday.

H. E. Grabhorn, of Cooper Mountain, was in town Saturday, in company with Geo. Miller, one of the hopen of that section.

OVER ONE HUNDRED PER CENT. IN 10 YEARS

Old Hillsboro Jumps From 980 to 2,016 Since 1900

CENSUS BUREAU GIVES THE RETURNS

Forest Grove is Slightly Under County Seat Figures

After months of waiting, the census bureau has gladdened the hearts of Hillsborites and sent out the census returns for the 1910 enumeration, and this after repeated attempts to get the population of Washington County's two leading cities. The official figures for Hillsboro and Forest Grove for the two census years, 1900 and 1910 are:

	1900	1910
Hillsboro.....	980.....	2016
Forest Grove... 1096.....		1772

These are the official figures as transmitted from Washington in the Associated Press dispatches, and are therefore correct. While Hillsboro has more than doubled her population, Forest Grove follows with a magnificent gain.

There is no doubt, however, that if Hillsboro had its boundaries extended to include those living here as a part of the city, and had Forest Grove extended her boundaries so that the same proposition prevailed, that there would be but little discrepancy in the enumeration of both towns. The Argus says this in justice to the college city.

When we consider that Hillsboro has had a big growth this year, and that it is still growing, the opinion that we are going to be within the 5,000 class in four or five years seems to be well founded. Both cities are bound to grow in business and population—and—and—and it probably will be just a decade when the two cities will merge under one charter, taking in Cornelius, and we shall have a magnificent city under the name Corn-Hill-Grove.
