CARDINALS CARRY HONORS FROM COLTS

Beat the Forest Grove Aggregation 2 to 1 in Thrilling Game

MOST SENSATIONAL GAME THIS YEAR

This Ties Hillsboro and Cornelius for First Place in League

A big crowd witnessed the most sensational game of the season, at the Hillsboro grounds, Sunday, when the Cardinals took the game from the Forest Grove Colts by the tune of two to one. Freeman was on the mound for Hillsboro, and his pitching was a puzzler at all times. The Colts managed to get one good hit off his delivery, and three very scratchy ones. Johnson, the Forest Grove pitcher, always threw a good game, but baseball luck went with the Cardinals. Freeman threw terrific ball, and when a batter connected, as a rule it rarely went farther than the infield. Raub, Smith, Freeman, Moore, Phelps and Hoffman all got hits, and Freeman connected for two, making a total of seven hits for Hillsboro. Will Schultz worked in two hits for the Grove, and Moore and R. Schultz were credited with the other two bingles. Raub, as short-stop, was all to the good, and his fielding was league work. E. L. Moore, on first, handled 12 put-outs, against 13 for Koppke, for the Colts. But 3 errors were charged against Hillsboro, the Colts receiving honors for 6.

Conductor Frink, some months ago on the Portland-Forest Grove, run, and one of the popular S. P. conductors, died at Springfield, Lane County, the last of the week. He leaves a widow and four children. Frink was a very pleasant, accommodating trainman, and had a host of friends. He was game to the last, and was always on his run, when he should have been in his room. He ever carried a cheerful countenance and one would not have thought that he was suffering from a malady that might mean death at any time.

Summer excursion rates will be published May 16. Agent Cooper, of the O. E. & Hill, would like to have you in and arrange for that western trip—15 days going west, with stop-over privileges, returning on or any time before September 31.

W. W. Williams, of Mountaindale, was down to the city Saturday. Warren says that he don't long for the good old times when he was here in the livery business—and that ranching is good enough for him. The simple life, every time.

See our dishes for our customers. When you expend $100 with us you get a fine dining room set of dishes. Call for cards and have the amount of your purchases punched each time you buy. When you buy that amount you get the dishes, or you have a dandy game and fish set.—Emmott Bros.

Geo. Madison's cartoon, representing the boy, outgrown his old clothes, and about to put on man's size furnishings, aptly represents Hillsboro's transition from the old, slovenly town, to a metropolitan status.

Eastbound Yellowstone National Park round trip excursion fares are in effect June 12 to Sept. 12. You had better come in and see Agent Cooper, of the Oregon Electric and Hill lines, about this trip and get literature giving full description. 10tf

H. Taylor Hill, of near Roy, was in town Saturday. He says land values are high up his way, but it does not defer purchases. Taylor had his usual story with him.

See the fine stock of "back combs," at Libby, the jeweler's place. No back numbers—all new and fresh goods, direct from the factory; and Gee Whiz!—see the fine clocks and jewelry of all kinds, which he is almost giving away. 38-tf

Gerhardt Goetze, of beyond Blooming, was in Saturday. He states that notwithstanding the frost the hill will have lots of cherries and strawberries, and that crops are looking fine up his way.

Single Comb Anconas, Exhibition and Utility. My birds win. 1st cock 1 cockerel, 1 hen, 1st, 2nd and 3rd pullet and 1st pen, at the recent poultry show in Hillsboro. Yours for the best.

We have just received a dandy lot of new rose bushes, and also a fine assortment of trees, berry vines, grapes, etc., for immediate planting. A first class stock.—Morton's Greenhouse.

Henry Tober, who runs a hop-yard below Rood Bridge, was in town the last of the week, and says the prospects are fine.

A. P. Wilkes and wife, of Scholls, were in the city Saturday.

WOMAN FRUSTRATES BOLD BANK ROBBERY

Parties Steal Henry Huber's Team at Garden Home, to no Purpose

MRS. C. D. FISHER FIRES ON MAN

Team Found Friday, Tied on Madison Street, in Portland

An unsuccessful attempt was made to rob the Bank of Beaverton, early last Friday morning. The would-be robbers had stolen a team from the Henry Huber place, near Garden Home, and had been in Beaverton long enough to pry up one of the windows of the bank. Mrs. C. D. Fisher, residing near the bank, heard a noise and went out and investigated. She saw a sentinel standing near the bank building, and when she appeared on the porch of the house, the watcher took flight. Mrs. Fisher fired a revolver shot at him. The men hurriedly jumped into the buggy and drove away. Telephones were used, but to no purpose. The robbers drove into Portland, and the team was found tied to a pole on Madison Street, in Portland, and the team was taken to the owner.

While the window had been raised by a "Jimmy" and the door of the building bored, it is not probable that the bank could have been robbed owing to the fact that the institution has a burglar proof safe.

Mrs. Fisher, who put the robbers to flight, is the widow of the late J. N. Fisher, and mother of E. E. Fisher, at one time Mayor of Beaverton.

LEAVES $800

Mrs. Katherine Matheny Matthews, whose suicide was reported in last week's Argus, left an estate of $800, instead of a large fortune as reported in the dispatches. The remains were brought to Oregon for burial. S. T. Matheny, a brother, and Mrs. Marie Thomas, Gaston, and another sister, survive. Mrs. Matthews was raised near Salem. The report first came that the suicide left $60,000, and that the fortune went to Mrs. Thomas. It is stated in a telegram from Seattle that a wealthy lumberman, named E. E. Brehm, who suicided at Seattle two weeks ago, was well acquainted with Mrs. Matthews, and that perhaps his death suggested the suicide route to Mrs. Matthews.

A fine automobile burned up near the Johnson place, this side of Beaverton, one day last week. The owner and another party were going in to Portland, where they lived, when the machine caught fire. After it had burned for a while the owner took a revolver and shot a hole into the gasoline tank to prevent an explosion. Teams were lined up in the highway "fore and aft," as the sailor would say, and traffic was delayed for about an hour.

C. F. Miller, of Forest Grove, was in the county seat Friday.

The largest assortment of chinaware and silverware handled in Hillsboro is at Greer's.

Chas. Reiling, of Roy, was in Saturday, and says crop prospects are fine out in his section.

For sale: Two brindle heifers, 2 years old; one fresh about May 14. For both, $60.—W. H. Yost, Reedville, Ore. 8-10

Hay for sale—First-class timothy, at my farm, six miles N. E. of Hillsboro.—J. C. Bechen, 9-11

When one reads of snow in May, back in the Mississippi states, Old Oregon appears to splendid advantage. Here we always have good crops; never a famine; and although there is occasional untoward weather; there is no more beautiful climate in the world. Jack Frost seems to have driven in bad every Spring, and just this enough bloom to make a robust production.

Frentzel & McFarland Bros. have purchased a tract adjoining to their Main Street property, running south to Washington Street, in order to increase the area of the lumberyard. Having concluded to handle sand, cement and lime, as well as gravel, necessitated more yard room. They have furnished the material for the American National Bank building foundation and cement work.

WILLIAM M'CURDY, WELL KNOWN HERE, SUICIDES

Shot Himself Through the Head With Revolver, Last Thursday

FAILING EYESIGHT WAS THE CAUSE

Formerly Lived Near Centerville, Where he Was Born

William McCurdy, a brother of the late A. A. McCurdy, of Cornelius, shot himself through the head at Baker City, Oregon, last Thursday evening, May 11, 1911. McCurdy had been in the mines at Pine, near Baker City, and for some years had been sharpening steel for the miners. His eyes had always given him trouble, when a boy, and when he was working for the late Thos. Cornelius, the Schieffelins, and H. H. Hall. For some time he feared that he was going to become blind, and he frequently remarked that rather than be a burden on the community, he would kill himself. He went into Baker and had his eyes treated, but they grew steadily worse. Getting little relief he started on a drinking bout, and at the end of two days killed himself. He was well and favorably known up in that section, and was a man of many excellent qualities. For some time he and Jack Powers, who froze to death up there a few years ago, worked together in the Pine Creek mines. McCurdy knew Powers when the latter lived at Cornelius. A. A. McCurdy, a brother of the suicide, died at Cornelius two weeks ago Sunday, and another brother lives down in the Roseburg section.

Julius Kruttschnitt, director of lines for the Southern Pacific, was in Portland, last week, and states that his company will take up the matter of changing from steam to electricity between Portland and McMinnville, at the July meeting. Julius says that business is not as good this year as last—something the Argus doesn't understand. Farmers are getting as good prices—or a little better—on almost everything they have to sell, than they did last year, and the freight shipments seem to be about as heavy. He claims the steel shipment for building are not as large in the country as heretofore. Mr. Kruttschnitt, however, says the hard times are not affecting the Pacific Coast, and that Portland has them all faded for improvement in building lines.
