If you will just go to Forest Grove Saturday, you can satisfy yourself that Gov. West has horns—or hasn't any.

When you hear of anyone talking about slumps in values, anent Washington County farm lands, or acreage, you should take a trip up the East side, out of Portland, and see how acreage and suburban lots are valued, as far south as Oregon City—and then you will take a reef in your pessimism. We are about the same distance from Portland, and property over there is valued at still higher figures, and being sold every day. When the Southern electrifies—and this is but a question of a few months—you will see prices of land go still higher out this way. And with time Hillsboro will see just as cheap transportation as the East side gets.

The University of Oregon appropriation is having some hard sledding these days, and Mr. Parkinson has filed with the Secretary of State the petition asking for a referendum vote. Parkinson alleges that P. L. Campbell, president of the University, met him and offered him a bribe to not file the petition. Campbell, in a signed letter, denies this, but admits that he was willing to pay the expense incurred if the petition were not filed. Had these "expenses been paid," they would have been paid by the taxpayers' money, would they not? Getting down to the concrete, or asphalt, or bitulithic what do the people of Oregon think about this proposition, anyway? It will be remembered that old Washington county, which is as progressive as any county in the state, a few years ago vetoed an outrageous general appropriation bill by a two-to-one vote, and it may give the University of Oregon bill a solar plexus. Washington county is perfectly willing to pay for education; it stands for the Corvallis school; and it has stood its taxation for normals, and all that, but when the extreme comes it may decide to lop off purely local schools that benefit sectional territory, and take only that pupilage which can afford to pay the top price for education. The majority of our taxpayers cannot afford this.

KINTON KENNINGTONS HAVE A COURT TWIST

Trouble Starts Over Old Man's Property and Lawsuit Follows

DAUGHTER-IN-LAW WAS ACQUITTED

Father-in-Law Claims She Struck Him With Hoe Handle

Mrs. Jane Kennington, daughter-in-law of the aged prosecuting witness, John Kennington, of Kinton, was yesterday acquitted by a jury in Judge Smith's court, on the charge of assault. The old man testified that he and the family of his son have been having trouble for some time over the old gentleman's property, which is now in litigation in circuit court. The son and wife want a warranty deed, while the old gentleman alleges they are not to have one, under their bargain, unless he is assured of his living, or one-third of the crop. One day last week, after ordering the young folks off the place, Mrs. Kennington tied a horse on a grass plat, near the old gentleman's potato patch, and Kennington pere objected. A mixup ensued and the father alleges she struck him with a hoe handle. She denied this and said that she merely pushed him over after he had brandished the hoe, and knocked out the stake to which the horse was tied. The jury: Thos. Bailey, G. J. Palmateer, John Dennis, August Tews, Andrew Jack and R. B. Collins.

The old man is 77 years of age, and says he is satisfied to give the Kenningtons a deed to the property if he can be assured of enough substance to keep himself the remainder of his life. They, on the other hand, claim he was to have given them a warranty deed some time ago—and here is where the trouble started.

It is to be hoped that a good crowd will turn out to the meeting called by Mayor Bagley, tomorrow evening, to take up the matter of a Fourth of July celebration. As a rule eight or ten have the entire burden of a demonstration, and it is time that everybody gave such things more attention. Turn out, then, tomorrow evening, at the city hall, and help things along.

Wanted: A mature Guernsey, Jersey, or Holstein bull, for immediate use. Must be reasonable, as want for temporary use, only.—Ferd. Groner, Scholls, Hillsboro, R. 2, Pacific States or Independent Tel., through Scholls central.

Benj. Birdsell and daughter, Mrs. John Dennis, departed Tuesday for an extended trip to Iowa, Chicago, Detroit, and Toronto, Canada, and other Eastern points. Mr. Birdsell was raised near Detroit, and expects to have a good time visiting old boyhood friends and scenes.

Do not forget to attend the High School skating party, at the Hartrampf rink, Saturday evening, May 20. General admission, 10 cents. Skates, 25c.

Frank and Geo. Clark, promoters of the Columbia Trust Co., and now handling East Moreland property, were out to Hillsboro Tuesday, guests of C. H. Jacobs. They are also interested in Rogue River property.

Benton Bowman and wife and Mrs. E. C. Brown went to Portland Monday, to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. A. A. Beery, who resided here when her husband was pastor of the Christian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Horton, of Oregon City, and Miss Mary Coffield, of Goldendale, Wash., were visitors the first of the week at the home of Mrs. D. W. Bath and family.

Married, at the residence of the bride's father, in West Washington county, May 16, 1911, Miss Ella M. Pechin to Henry Jerrett, Rev. Stivers officiating.

Two people died of heat in Chicago Tuesday. Out here we had a day that was neither too cold nor too warm. And yet there are people who do not like Oregon.

John E. Davis, of Clackamas Co., and Grace Schmidt, of Washington Co., were granted a wedding license this afternoon. Walter Lorenz, of Portland, and Anna Kosmalka were also given a cupid ticket.

J. T. Powell, working for the railway at Umatilla, Oregon, is down for a day or so, a guest of relatives and friends. J. T. says that he sees big improvement down here since his last trip to the old county seat.

The Nelson building on Third will soon be ready for occupancy. The Tamiesie cement block structure is about completed, and when the entire row south of the hotel is finished it will present a very neat appearance.

An officer was sent out to the upper Vinelands country, this morning to pick up Julius Creamer, insane. Creamer has been at the asylum, and was released as cured some time ago. Lately he has been growing violent.

Hillsboro's representative business men should see to it that capital is interested in sawmills for this city—for better transportation facilities are hard to find. A good sized sawmill would mean a big payroll—and payrolls are what make a town grow.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Wilson have been having matrimonial breakers on their wedding sea. After they were united, last week, by Judge Sewell, the bride went to the home of her father, on Baseline, and she has since remained there, owing, it is stated to the fact that her father averred he would make trouble, as she was not yet 18 years of age. Her 18th birthday will come in June, and the bride has remained at home, so far, rather than have trouble.

Smile.
When fifteen paces is your lead
And the sheriff gaining fast;
When rent day bobs up and each feud
You fear will be your last;
When debtors rise as one and file
The dreaded little "hit";
When walking every little while
You meet a shaking fist;
When pockets that once jingled loud
Are empty and thus still;
When once you've sported with the crowd
And blew it to its ill;
When once it was a constant joy
To live and eat in style—
'Twas easy then to laugh, my boy,
But smile now, blank you, smile!

Merely Wished to Know.
"Mother, did father have to ask you more than once to be his wife?"
"Why, dearest, what makes you ask such a question?"
"I just wanted to know whether you always answered no before you thought, the same as you do to me now in Chicago Record-Herald."

Song.
I'm a poor fisher-boat 'o' de ship 'o' gospel sail,
But don't you be no Jonah. It's hard upon de whale.

You better steer fer glory whillet de ship is called "Today!"
But don't you go lak' 'Lijah or burn up on de way.

Oh, de worl' is full o' trouble, comes on ever' han',
An' all you get w'en de trouble's done is a glimpse o' de promise lan'!
