Lumber delivered to North Plains

A. E. McCUMSEY Cornelius, Ore., Route 1

A. Anderson, of Helvetia, was in town Saturday.

Sam Moon and wife, of Centerville, were in the county seat Friday.

The county is putting in a concrete culvert near the John Connell farm.

W. H. Cash, of near Helvetia, was in the county seat Friday, on business.

L. C. Brown, of South Tualatin, was over to the city Saturday.

W. H. Joos, of beyond Glencoe, was over to the city Saturday afternoon.

Jasper Keffer, of east of North Plains, was a county seat visitor the last of the week.

A. V. Denny, of below Beaverton, was up to the county seat Saturday. He says there is lots of improvement down his way.

Nels Larsen, the road supervisor of the district just below Newton, on the river road, was in town Friday.

Smokers want the best—therefore call for a Schiller or a Grand Marca, when you want to see the blue wreath curl.

Jacob Dahinden, above Banks, and Wm. Zeigler, of near Greenville, were in the county seat Saturday.

Homer C. Atwell, the Forest Grove ex-postmaster and horticulturist, was in the county seat Saturday.

Richard Baldra, of near Orenco, was up town Saturday. The "simple life" seems to be doing Richard a deal of good, and he looks like a four-year-old.

William Bender, who was a Hillsboroite in the nineties, came out from Portland, Monday, to see the old town and feel its pulse.

E. W. Dant, the Reedville pioneer and oldtime thresherman, was up to the city Saturday, on business. E. W. says with the advent of warm sunshine the grain will get busy.

The Grand Marca is the most wholesome "two for a quarter" smoke on market—made in Oregon, by E. Schiller. When you indulge in a good smoke buy a Grand Marca.

C. J. Oglesby, of Roy, was in town Saturday, and says that the crops are looking fine out in his section, but at that date needed some warm sunshine for best results.

C. E. Kooztz, of this city, and Chas. O. Roe and Harry Goff were Portland visitors Friday to see Mr. Coolidge, of the Oregon Electric, in an endeavor to get the cars to stop at the ball grounds between Forest Grove and Haines.

Chas. Holcomb, of West Union, was in town Friday. He and Peter Jossey were in to see Supt. Case about getting the Landauer farm cut into the Holcomb district—the place has been thought to be in the district for years, but it was recently discovered that it was not.

Prof. Wilson, of O. A. C., was down to Hillsboro the last of the week, and visited the Calif farm, east of the city. He is looking over the district investigating the new borer that is working on apple and other fruit trees, and says they are growing to be quite a menace.

Peter Asp, a son-in-law of Mr. Lunow, who resides near North Plains, committed suicide at Tillamook, Friday morning, using the carbolic acid route. Asp lived two hours after taking the poison. He and his wife had trouble for years over his drinking proclivities, and she divorced him about nine years ago. They afterwards became reconciled and lived together, but last week they agreed to separate, she to take the younger children, and he to take the two elder ones.
