THE LATE JUDGE SEWELL

In the passing of Judge John W. Sewell, Washington County sustains a loss that is felt in every boundary. As a public official, he was obliging and courteous to all, and his sense of duty was always paramount to his personal desires. He had endeavored himself to all who had business to transact in county affairs, in both offices of sheriff and judge. As a private citizen, he was in first rank, and his genuine appreciation of fellowship, his genial good nature, his rare delicacy of judgment, made him one amongst many. He had lived his entire life here, and it is safe to say that he never did a person an intentional wrong.

Judge Sewell was a lovable character, and his life association with neighbors proved his open handedness, his charity, and nobility of heart and head. As husband and father he was all that was kind and thoughtful, as a friend there was none better. He will be missed by all who knew him, and the great outpouring of people who came to Hillsboro last Sunday to tender their last respects was an earnest of how well he was beloved in Washington County. A manly man.

Card of Thanks

We desire to express our sincere thanks to those who so kindly assisted us with aid and sympathy during our bereavement, the death and obsequies of our beloved husband and father, the late John W. Sewell, and we return special thanks to the fraternal societies assisting, and for the beautiful floral tributes.

The need of a street sprinkler is demonstrated by the dusty condition of the business streets, and a nice little addition of that is always coming along to penetrate one's clothing. The business men would help out some if the city would make a little contribution—but the city is feeling a little bit like economy these days, eh?

W. B. McGuire and wife, of Hood River, were in the city Tuesday, after a visit with Mr. McGuire's sister, Mrs. Wm.
