Lengths from 12 to 4 and 20,
Also 2x6's, 8's, 10's 12's, and understand
We also handle cement, plaster, lime and sand.

We have a fine large shed, which is holding
Flooring, ceiling and all kinds of moulding,

We have every convenience to ship by car.
No order is too large or small for us to fill,
For we can ship from the yard or direct from the mill.

And if we cannot handle it with the teams, why then
We ship by the Oregon Electric or the P. R. & N.

Why not come around this way once in a while,
For the money you can save by buying from Frentzel & Mac

EXCAVATING BEGINS ON SANITARY SEWER

Mason & Coombs Start Crew to Work on First Street

MAYOR DIGS THE FIRST SHOVELFUL

Storm Sewer Contractors Expected to Rush Affairs

Mason & Coombs, under the direction of one of the Mason Brothers, started work with a crew of men, Monday morning, on the sanitary sewer, beginning excavation on First Street, between Lincoln and Main. Mayor H. T. Bagley was at hand at 7 o'clock, and excavated the first shovel load out of Hillsboro's new sewer system.

Men were lined all along the block, and each one took a stipulated space, which was divided from the next "take," as a printer would say, by two or three feet of a wall. This little wall will probably be bored when the level is made, and it will save a great deal of digging.

At the corner of the Dr. Wood residence the earth became very moist before grade was reached, and it may be possible that water will be reached in various places in the city.

Sewer pipe is being strewn all around the town, and the storm sewer contractors are expected to have dirt flying in great shape within a few days.

The Warren Bros.' Construction Co. will have their plant here shortly, and will begin putting in the curbs, and this will mean, with the sewer workers, a large crew of men in Hillsboro, getting laborers' wages all Summer long.

RANCH CHRISTENING

A party of twenty-eight christened the Hazel Ranch, a mile and half north of Orenco, on the Fourth. The night of July 3, the party enjoyed a pyrotechnic display at the home of Thos. Goodin, of near West Union. On the Fourth, a good old-fashioned picnic was enjoyed at the Hazel Ranch, owned by Geo. Vedder and Gus. Krogh, and the day was spent in exercises, games, partaking of good things from the table, etc. Miss Stella Goodin christened the ranch and broke a bottle of milk at the big flagpole. Those present were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Thos. Goodin, Frank Imbrie, Milton W. Seaman, Portland, (Mr. Seaman is manager of the Baker Stock Co.) C. A. Gallinger, Bert Gilkey, Harry Kadderly, Don Rea, Geo. Vedder, Gus Krogh, A. A. Kadderly, Mrs. Ed. Carnahan, Leonard Thatcher, Miss Doll Neely, Miss Anna Shields, Margaret and Frances Somerville, Miss Stella Goodin, Robert McDonald.

After the christening the party went over to Groveland, and enjoyed their day's picnic.

Her Harem Skirt.

I have a brand new harem skirt
Of satin rich and black,
With beaded gimp around the legs
And buttons up the back.
Each day I take it from the box
In which it folded lies
To gaze upon its sable sheen
With fascinated eyes.

I shake it out and smooth it down
On sofa, chair or bed
Its shining, bifurcated length
Admiringly I spread.
Then for its narrow box again
I mournfully prepare it,
Because I haven't got the nerve
To put it on and wear it.

The Real Reason.

Adam sat down. "I am the greatest man in the world," he said to himself, "the wisest sage, the biggest financier and captain of industry; I hold all the records from the hundred yard dash to the Marathon; my wife is the best dressed woman in the world; I am the best dressed man. Gadzooks, I am too good to be true; I will eat of the fruit of the tree of evil."—Life.

The Baby General.

[The infant emperor of China has been given supreme command of the army.—News Item.]

When a baby heads an army
Can he dodge the cannon balls?
Better put him in the navy;
He's an expert on the squalls.
Still the infantry might like him;
He can sound alarms at night.
But suppose he got the colic?
There would never be a fight.
