MISS MABEL CROISANT DIES AT GRANTS PASS

Was Well Known in Hillsboro Fifteen Years ago

LIVED HERE IN EARLY NINETIES

Is Victim of Anaesthetic, Which She had Administered Many Times

Miss Mabel Croisant, known in Hillsboro in the early nineties, died at Grants Pass last Tuesday, while under the influence of soemnoform, administered while she was in a dental chair having dental work in the office of Dr. C. H. Dixon. For four years, Miss Croisant had been office assistant for Drs. Loughbridge and Findley and was considered an experienced aide in administering anaesthetics during surgical operations. On Tuesday, she made an appointment for a session in the dental parlors, and she requested Dr. Loughbridge to administer the soemnoform before the dentist, Dr. Dixon, started to work. She felt very nervous before entering the chair, but the anaesthetic was administered in the usual manner. In a few minutes the physician noticed that her pulse was very low and he gave her restoratives. Both doctors worked hard to resuscitate Miss Croisant, but to no avail. She died within a few minutes. Dr. Loughbridge stated to the jury that a weak heart probably caused death—or that it might have been from the nervous shock. He stated that Miss Croisant, as office assistant, had perhaps administered this same anaesthetic a thousand times, and always with success.

Miss Croisant was 28 years of age. Her father, Stephen Croisant, was a man of some means, and came to Hillsboro with a view of investing. He arrived during the hard times, and concluded that Hillsboro was not the place for him, and moved to Southern Oregon. It will be remembered that the Argus, away back in the early nineties, had a story about men digging for the "Ground Hog Davis" treasure, and Mr. Croisant was one of the number who turned over some of the sod on Davis' Hill.

Besides the father, Miss Croisant leaves a twin brother, Henry, well known here by those who were boys when the Croisants were here, and a brother in the East. Her father was a cousin of the late Philip Hassler, who lived here throughout the nineties.

Born, Sept. 7, 1911, to Thos. Williams and wife, of Hillsboro, a daughter.

Findley McLeod, of above Gaston, was in the city Monday. He is one of the oldtimers of that section.

Wm. Chalmers went up to Salem, Saturday, to attend to his shipment of exhibit cattle, sent up last week.

Not a few of the hopyards picked Sunday, owing to the rains of last week throwing the harvest behind.

Baldwin Bros., of Forest Grove, who have the contract for the brickwork of the Schulmerich Block, are rushing things to a finish, and they started teams to grading the basement, Friday. They expect to have the excavation made, the brickwork all laid within three or four weeks.

Workmen digging laterals for Dr. Linklater, at the residence, the last of the week dug out the cache of a big pocket gopher, and the gentleman had a half bushel of carrots, parsnips and beets stored away in one of his underground warehouses. He had gleaned his supply from the garden of the Hotel Tuatatin, and carried his harvest at least fifty feet. Mr. Gopher has his root crop cut up into lengths ranging from two to four inches, and the pile was large enough to support the old man's family through the Winter, besides furnishing Thanksgiving and Christmas dinner for all the relatives. When one thinks of the hundreds of laborious trips made by the old harvester it makes the town "loafer" look much smaller than Mr. Gopher—even if we do despise the little "cuss."

The Groner & Rowell Co. have a large stock of drain tile, from 3 to 14 inch; also building blocks and brick. It will pay you to place your orders with us, as we burn our tile to a better color than our competitors, as our wood only costs us a trifle. We also have a good stock of rough and dressed lumber, which we invite the public to inspect, before purchasing elsewhere. Our flooring is made from red fir timber and will wear much better than flooring made from the soft yellow fir timber. 5tf

Z. M. LaRue, of Forest Grove, and August Tews and Jacob Michel, of this city, returned Sunday from a two weeks trip over to Garibaldi and other beach points. Michel was cook for the trip, and Tews says that he is a celebrated "chef." LaRue girths 4 inches to the good since his return, and the two Hillsborites look as though they had enough clams and fish to last them until next season. They say there was not so much rain on the west slope as there was on this side.

I am here to do business, and would like to have all your trade, but will be contented if I just have your coffee trade. I now have on hand one grade of coffee for 25c lb. that can not be beaten, two grades for 30c lb., two grades for 35c lb., three grades for 40c and 45c, that are better than anything that has ever been in Hillsboro. A beautiful dish given away free with every 3 lb. order of coffee. See my window display. Norman Greer. 26-9

Fred Olsen, carrier on Route 4, returned from his Waldport trip, the last of the week, and brought back a fine fifteen-pound silver-side salmon, that he caught with a hook and line, while there. Fred says he enjoyed his vacation, and left Chas. Eames at Waldport, having the time of his life. The latter will not return for several weeks.

See our dishes for our customers. When you expend $100 with us you get a fine dining room set of dishes. Call for cards and have the amount of your purchases punched each time you buy. When you buy that amount you get the dishes, or you have a dandy game and fish set. Emmott Bros

John Cawrse, of near Columbia Academy, was in town Monday, and stated that all pickers were busy in the Cawrse yard, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Green Hale, who have been spending the Summer at their Oak Park place, have returned to their home in Portland.

W. J. WALL SAYS MADERO IS VERY BRIGHT MAN

Well Educated and Speaks English Fluently, With no Accent

WILL SURE BE ELECTED PRESIDENT Says That Ninety Percent. of People are For Him

W. J. Wall a brother of John M. Wall, returned from Santa Barbara, Cal., the last of the week, and is visiting with relatives here and in Portland. He expects to remain in Oregon for some time, and may permanently locate here. His family is still at Santa Barbara. Mr. Wall for several years has been located at Los Mochis, Sinaloa Province, Mexico, in the merchandise business, and says that he has had enough of revolution to last him for some time. Mr. Wall was in sympathy with the Madero crowd, and says that the successful general and candidate for president is a talented man, and can speak English fluently. His people have a large land holding on the original grant given the famous Cortez, and all the family are immensely wealthy.

Mr. Wall says that 90 per cent. of the Mexican people are for Madero, and that he will be elected almost unanimously, and that he thinks he will give them a good administration. He thinks, however, that the new administration will be more favorable to local capital than to American capital, and that Mexico, right now, is not the best place for an American to invest. In the long run, however, he thinks that the change will be beneficial to Mexico, because the powers will encourage the application of local capital in big projects. Many of the peons and cheap laborers of the rebellion because they were told by visionaries that if successful they would be given land grants of 160 acres, and that the new government would give them cattle to start farming.

Mr. Wall sold out at Sinaloa and left for the United States at the height of the rebellion.

The man is the one seen near Scappoose, but he is thought to be innocent of the killing of the mother and child. Best is a pervert, and when told he would be searched threw up his hands readily. When told that he acted as though he had been searched before he quickly replied, "Yes, I've been around some."

He says he came from California, and was looking for work down near Goble, Rainier and Scappoose—but in all probability he was not looking for labor, as he is the typical tramp.

ONION YIELD IS A LITTLE SHORT

Production is Only 80 Per Cent. of Last Year Yield

HAVE MORE ACREAGE IN, HOWEVER

Herman Collier Says Harvest is Now Under Way in County

Herman Collier, of Scholls, was in the city Monday, and states that the onion crop of Washington county is nearly all pulled, but that so far very few yards have been warehoused. A few days of good weather will rapidly dry them out, and they will then be put in the dry.

He thinks that this year's yield is only about 80 per cent. of the usual big crop, and the shortage was occasioned by the long droughty spell during the Summer. However, he thinks the county production will be as heavy as last year because of the increase in acreage. Washington county puts in the largest share of the onion acreage of the Northwest, and markets more than the rest of Oregon and all of Washington State.

The bulbs are not as large this season as usual, and this has something to do with the loss of twenty per cent. to growers.
