

JUDGE CAMPBELL ASKS FOR JURY OCTOBER 17

Signs Revocation of Parole Granted Chas. Jones and Re-sentences MANY CASES ARE SET FOR TRIAL

Gives John Kennington his Land, and Taxes Costs to Son

Judge Campbell was out Monday and held a session of circuit court. He has withdrawn the parole of Chas. Jones, and signs a sentence of 400 days in the county jail. He alleges that Jones did not report to the sheriff as directed, and that he broke his parole, as well, and therefore deserves a service of time.

The court also decreed that John Kennington, of Kinton, was entitled to all his 19.96 acres, and that the son, Albert, who claimed he was to have 12 acres for coming to Oregon, was entitled to nothing except the privilege of paying the costs of the suit.

Referred—Kesterson vs Kesterson; Monroe vs Monroe. Decrees—Wolcott vs Wolcott; Wilson vs Wilson. Set for trial—Sears vs Murdock, Oct 16; Lynch vs Bergeron, Oregon Nursery vs Jesselson, Ellerson vs Hunt, Sept 25; P U vs M E Austin, P U vs Clark, Oct 23; Shaver vs Condensed Milk Co, Oct 17.

Dismissed—Connell vs Bonney; Burns vs Volheim; O'Halloran vs O'Halloran; Clearwater vs Baker.

The jury was called for Oct 17, and the July jury will be in attendance.

Charles Burham, of Tigard, died the last of the week and was buried in the Tigardville cemetery, Sunday. Deceased had lived in that section for 24 years, and was widely known. For many years he lived at Cornelius, where he had a wide acquaintance. He was born in England, July 27, 1835 and sailed for America when he was but 16 years of age. He lived in New York and Illinois, and came to Oregon in 1859. He was married to Mary Higley, in Illinois, in 1858. Eleven children were born to the union. Mr. Burham was open handed, generous to a fault, and enjoyed the respect of all his fellows.

For Sale—Pedigreed Berkshire boar, 16 months old; bay horse, sound, weight, 1200 to 1250; from one to four cows, three of them fresh. Address Rosedale, Beaverton, Ore., Route 2, or inquire at house immediately south of Santa Rosa station, Hillsboro div., Oregon Electric. 28-9

Mrs. Mary Boyd, of Duncy, a daughter, $1.00, and to a daughter, Lillie McFarland, the residue of the estate. The widow has the use of the cow, horse, and buggy, during her life, and also gets the household furniture. This will revert to Mrs. McFarland upon the death of Mrs. Burham. The old gentleman provided in his will that in case any relative should take steps to break the terms he or she should get one dollar.

I am here to do business, and a nearly sentence as he has been in much trouble.

Get your reading for the Winter now. The Argus one year and the Weekly Oregonian from now until Nov. 1, 1912, for $2.00. For county, world, and general reading, where can you beat this splendid offer. This offer withdrawn after Oct. 31, 1911.

Forrest C. Smithson, P. U. Athlete, has sued his wife for divorce, filing the case at Oregon City. They have been having trouble for some time. They have been married over two years, and Smithson's recital of his wife's accusations against him, and of her nagging disposition, make several pages of complaint. It appears that Smithson, although a great sprinter, couldn't run fast enough to keep out of her way, and he asks the circuit court to separate them. She was formerly a Miss Smith, of New York.

For Sale: Registered Jersey cows, heifers, and young bulls, old enough for breeding purposes. Also Pekin ducks.—Wm. Schulermerich, Farmington, Hillsboro, Oregon, Route 5. 28-31

T. S. Sutton, of Newberg, and formerly a Washington County resident, was over to Hillsboro yesterday. He has not been here since the advent of the electric line, and sees several new buildings in the business district. He reports some grain injured in the shock and stack over in the Yamhill country, but says the reports of damaged hops is far-fetched.

Seasoned ash wood (four-foot) for sale.—G. W. Bondurant, Hillsboro, Oregon. Independent Telephone, City 086. 27-0

There is no use disguising the fact that several thousand dollars worth of grain have been damaged beyond saving in the county, the result of the heavy and continuous rains. Many stacks were wet midway to the bottom, and were "growing green" by the first of the week. Much grain in shock will either be left unthreshed or used for a poor grade of feed.

For Sale: About 2 doz. yearling White Plymouth Rock hens, from prize-winning stock; also some pullets from same strain, late hatched.—Mrs. Ruth Blair, North Hillsboro. 26-8

Harold Merryman was out from Portland, yesterday. Mr. Merryman is now a practicing attorney.

Mrs. F. M. Crabtree, of Laurel, was a city caller, yesterday.

DRAUGHTSMAN GIVES FRIENDS MUCH ANXIETY

Mysteriously Disappears, Leaving all His Effects

BERNARD MARVIN UNACCOUNTED FOR

Last Seen About 11:00 Sunday Evening, in Apparent Daze

Bernard Marvin, a draughtsman, with T. S. Wilkes & Son, has not been seen by his friends since Sunday evening, about 11 o'clock. He was then met at Second and Washington by Officer Brown, who jokingly took Marvin's hat from his head and then replaced it. Marvin made no response, and started on south, past the photograph gallery. Rev. Valandigham, stopping at the Commercial, watched young Marvin as he proceeded slowly down the walk, as though in a sort of stupor. Marvin has not since been seen. His clothes and draughting tools are here, and his watch is at Hoyt's for repairs. He never drank to any one's knowledge, and was of exemplary habits, although it has been whispered since his disappearance that he was addicted to the use of morphine.

Search of the river bottom was made yesterday, and today the sewer, full of water, near the S. P. depot, will be searched. Marvin was an expert draughtsman, and has been engaged in getting out a map of the county—said to be the finest and most complete map ever drawn.

For some weeks he has been a guest at the Commercial Hotel, and Mr. York says he has noticed nothing peculiar about him, except that at times he was very taciturn.

Marvin is about 25 years old, and has a mother in Southern Oregon. T. S. Wilkes, with whom Marvin worked, is absent from the city. It is said that he has an interest in the new map, and there appears to be no financial troubles surrounding his case, although it was known that he was embarrassed when he arrived in Hillsboro.

Many think that overwork has mentally deranged him, and that he is wandering in the woods near the city. From inquiry it does not look as though there were any circumstances that would cause him to voluntarily or clandestinely leave the city.

That Marvin is peculiar is evidenced by the fact that he went to Sheriff Hancock, during tax collection, and told him he wanted to be arrested, as he was disgusted over getting no work, and that he had had nothing to eat for two or three days. Hancock secured him a position with Surveyor Morrill for a few days, and then he went to work for T. S. Wilkes & Son.

If you are in the market for a heater you should call in and see the Howard, the best stove ever made. It will keep up a uniform heat with half the wood used by other stoves. Call in and see it.—Emrick & Corwin, Hillsboro. 26-1f

Mark Redden, a wandering William, was placed in jail the other day, after making inquiries about two fellows whom the officers are holding up the valley. He was released after two or three days, and went on his way rejoicing.

Fire Warden R. T. Simpson, of Buxton, sends in an official notice to all who have slashings which should be burned this Fall. You will find it in another column, and if you have a slashing it will be worth reading. Don't overlook it.

Supt. Hanley, of Kennedy Construction, will have all his work on the storm sewer completed this side of the Southern Pacific track, within three or four weeks. He has yet the tunnel to put under the railway track, and that will have to be timbered. The big digger has but four or five blocks yet to excavate.

J. B. Hall and Wm. Wohlschlegel, of near Scholls, were in the city today, enroute from Mountandale, with the Thompson Bros. sawmill, which the Hall Bros. have purchased. They are moving it to the John Wohlschlegel place, and have put up a new mill. They have 420 acres of the finest timber in the county, and this will keep their 40,000 feet capacity mill going for some time.

William Woods and Roscoe Ogden, two holdup artists, forced a Marion County rancher to drive them into Woodburn, the other day, and when arrested and searched, some articles taken from the Oreco Mercantile store were found. Sheriff Hancock and Mr. Borwick identified the articles. Marion County, however, will prosecute on a theft charge. They had robbed several houses in Salem, and the booty was found on their persons. The two thugs had been taking in the state fair.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC LAYS SPUR FOR CONTRACTORS

Warren Construction now Receiving Shipments for Paving

WILL HAUL FROM S. P. DEPOT

Curb and Grading About Ready for two Blocks, Lincoln and First

Supt. Church, of the Warren Construction Co., is now receiving shipments for the bitulithic paving, over the Southern Pacific, that company having built them a spur near the depot grounds. Two blocks have the curb about completed, First, west of the court house, and Lincoln, north of the square. The big roller was steamed up yesterday, and was rolling the street ready for the gravel. Crushed rock will be shipped in ready for dumping on the street, and a spell of the present weather will soon see paving in full blast.

Mr. Sweeney, who has the contract for the curb, has been on the ground, rushing work as rapidly as possible, and after the court house square is completed he will keep out of the way of the paving. If we have the usual good weather until Nov. 1, Hillsboro will see a nice lot of paved streets—but if the rains come again there will be "some mud" in Hillsboro this winter.
