FORMER HILLSBORO BOY INVENTS NEW PROCESS

Colors Views for Exhibition, and Has Patent on Invention

ROBT. CRANDALL SOON STARTS EAST

Has Already National Fame as Landscape Photographer

Robert Crandall, a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Crandall, of Hillsboro, has patented a process that eclipses anything yet discovered for the natural coloring of bird's eye views and landscape photography, and he will soon visit the Northwest for the taking of views, and then will exhibit them in Eastern states. Crandall was awarded first prize for the best panoramic view on exhibition at the St. Louis World's Fair, and also gained the same distinction at the Seattle Fair.

Robt. Crandall learned his profession in Hillsboro, and was a pioneer in attractive photography. From here he went back to Michigan, and later to Duluth, Minn., where he gained national prominence by his clever work. For five years he has been in California, and for two years he has been president of the Camera Club of Los Angeles. He has many magnificent views of California, taken in colors.

When he comes to Oregon which will be in a few days—he expects to cover Portland and the Columbia River, and he will then be in a position to deal with the East, and show them Oregon and Washington as they are.

The inventor will doubtless be requested to show what he has accomplished in Hillsboro before he leaves for the East.

VETERAN BACK FROM TRIP

M. C. Lincoln, well known here and at North Plains, returned Monday from an extended trip East, during which time he attended the National G. A. R. encampment at Rochester, N. Y. He was a week each at Chicago, Niagara, Cleveland, and Kansas City, four weeks at Sandusky, and on his return trip stopped for quite a while at Inverness, Montana, where he visited with Clyde Lincoln and C. P. Berry and families. He helped them thresh, and says the boys had good crops.

He tells the Argus that Pres Berry raised 81 sacks of potatoes from one sack of planting on new sod—and that's doing pretty well for any old country. He reports having a good time while at the encampment, but says, after all, there is no place like Oregon.

Notice to Apple Tree Planers

We have for sale for 1911 Fall planting, the following:

Newtowns, Spitzenburgs, Arkansas Blacks, Winter Bananas, Johnathans, Golden Orley, and other choice varieties—3 to 4 ft. 8c each; from 4 to 6 ft. 12c each. For large orders write for special prices.—I. C. Nealeigh, Sherwood, Ore., R 4; J. T. Nealeigh, Hood River, Ore., Nursery at Scholls, Ore.

W. W. Hulitt, of Chehalis Mountain and Clara Harvey, were united in marriage, Oct. 22, 1911, at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. J. G. Shires.

Money to loan on farm or other property, on approved security. We also sell real estate.—Kurati Brothers, Main Street, between First and Second. 201

Sam Stott, one of the oldtimers of the Gaston section, now a resident of Portland, was in the city Monday, on business. He is a brother of the late Raleigh Stott, the attorney, and has a wide acquaintance with Washington County early pioneers. Mr. Stott was born near Beaverton, in 1855, and when he was two years of age his parents moved up to the Wapato Lake country, where Stott Sr. was postmaster, and where young Stott had an opportunity to meet and pass judgment on all such men as Senator Nesmith, Senator Grover and many other big men in Oregon history of the sixties.

The Elmonica Mercantile Company, at Elmonica, on the Oregon Electric, will hold a big reduction sale at their store, beginning Oct. 30, and ending November 9. Prices will be reduced on all lines of general merchandise, and the public is cordially invited. We give you a guarantee that this sale will save you money.—A. F. Kechn & W. C. Kullisch, Elmonica, on the Oregon Electric.

With nearly three miles of rock roads finished in North Hillsboro the work for the year was completed the last of the week, and Louis Ennes conveyed the big steam roller to the Thatcher road work, above Forest Grove. Next year North Hillsboro will get in another three miles or more, judging from the spirit of those who travel over the macadam.

Why pay ten dollars for a map which merely shows Washington County, when you can get one on a larger scale, showing everything from the Willamette River west to the west boundary of the county, size 50x67 inches, for $7.50, or a pocket size, 24x33 inches, for $2.00? Get it of your bookseller, or address T. S. Wilkes & Son, Hillsboro, Oregon.

Dr. W. D. Wood and Wm. Schulmerich returned the last of the week from their Creswell trip. Dr. Wood shot a fine buck on his trip, but Schulmerich couldn't cut the mustard. He says the darned things look too much like registered Jerseys, anyway, to make enjoyable hunting.

For sale or trade: Twelve acres, 2 1/2 miles southeast of Hillsboro; also a house and 2 1/2 acres at McMinnville. Will sell at a bargain, or trade for Hillsboro residence property, close in.—C. F. Bunsen, Hillsboro, Ore.

Geo. T. Ledford is carrying his hand in a sling these days, the result of chopping wood and too close familiarity with an ax. He and Kenyon Crandall are having consolation parties, the latter having severely cut one of his legs, a few days back, while cutting wood.

For sale: Fine driving and brood mare, well bred and gentle; 1,200; ladies can handle and drive. Also 2-seated surrey, practically new, with harness. Goes reasonable. Address or call, 525 Clay Street, Portland, Ore.

Chas. Eames returned the first of the week from a two months stay over at Waldport, and as soon as the rains start will begin trapping. Chas. says that at Waldport, one day and night, six thousand salmon were landed by the fisherman for the canneries.

Pigs for Sale: Eighteen full blood Poland-China pigs, 8 weeks old.—M. Sturm Sr., Cornelius, Route 2, 1 1/2 miles above Blooming. Ind. Tel., Hillsboro central, 555, Line 21. 32-4

Mrs. M. M. Pittenger, occupying the Tongue residence, Second and Baseline, since the sale of her home on North Second, has purchased the Rushlow lot, east of the T. B. Perkins home, and will start the erection of a neat little bungalow.

House and lot at Banks for sale. Is paying a good interest on investment.—E. T. Turner, Laurel, Ore. 33-5

J. H. Ruppel, of Portland, was in town Monday. He travels all over the Northwest, and watches improvements, and he says that Hillsboro has all towns of its class beaten this year on public betterment.

Fred Myers, who has many friends out on the North Plains, has been quite ill at Glencoe, for some time. His many friends will be pleased to learn that he is on the mend.

John Parsons, one of the pioneers in the hop business at Centerville, has been hauling in his hop crop, this week.

A. B. Flint, the Scholls ranchman and thresherman, was up to the city Monday morning.

BEAVERTON MAN SAYS THE U. S. A. FOR HIM

W. O. Hocken, Returned From England, Glad to get Home

SAYS HILLSBORO IS GETTING BUSY

Thinks County Seat Fight Had Something to do With Improvements

W. O. Hocken, a prominent Beavertonite, was in town Thursday evening, and he is high in his praises of Oregon. "I was all over England, lately," said Mr. Hocken, "and I want to say to you that we Oregonians do not sufficiently appreciate Oregon. We have the finest country in the world, and we produce everything that any country can produce outside of the tropics—and who would live in the warm zone, anyway? We have the soil and climate, and raise all things needed except a few of the luxuries. In England conditions are deplorable, as compared with the U. S. A. The best men of the younger generation in Britain are leaving for the colonial possession, while the Irish get into the army and navy. The agricultural pursuits there are handled by the oldtimers and the early youth, and this was impressed upon me with a great deal of importance. Give me the U. S. A. and Oregon as my home. In the middle central states I had a good time, but they have nothing like Oregon."

By the way, I notice the city of Hillsboro is getting a great move on itself. Take it from me that the fight by "old Man Hocken" and a few others might have had something to do with Hillsboro getting busy—that county seat fight, I mean.

Anyway, I'm glad to get back; glad to see Oregon prospering; glad to see Hillsboro getting into the front ranks, and glad to meet a lot of my county seat friends—even if we did give you some election worry."

KILLS SIX-POINT BUCK

Washington County isn't so slow after all and we have another woman rifle shot that will make old sportsmen sit up and take notice. Mrs. Daniel Boone Roe, of Bacona, saw a big six-point buck down on the creek bottom the other day and took her husband's rifle down from the deer horns on the wall and went after the venison. In her hurry she took no extra shells, and knowing this, drew the head down very fine on the big fellow. She got him at the very first shot, proving that all Washington county women are not poor markswomen. By the time Roe came home Mrs. Roe had the buck dressed and a fine steak on broiling for his supper. This is the second buck Mrs. Roe has killed since she resided up in the hills.

HERGERT-RUSSIE

Fred G. Hergert and Caroline Russie were united in marriage at the Blooming Lutheran church, St. Peter's, Oct. 25, 1911.

D. M. McInnis, of West Stayton, formerly of Hazeldale, below Reedville, was in town Saturday. Mr. McInnis is in the general merchandise business at West Stayton, on the S. P., in Marion County, 14 miles out of Salem, and was recently appointed postmaster at that growing little city. He says that an irrigation company is putting in an irrigation plant to water 4,000 acres of land in his neighborhood, and that land is selling rapidly. McInnis says business is good up that way, and that West Stayton is rapidly getting on the map.

E. L. and C. W. James, of Oak Park, last week received the intelligence of the death of a brother, Jos. G. James, at Cuba City, Wis., at the age of 55 years. He was injured by timbers, and passed away Oct. 25. A widow and one son mourn his loss. This is the second brother who has passed away in 1911. Deceased is also a brother of Mrs. A. M. Carlile.

Chaney Benefiel, of above Crawford, was in the city the last of the week.

Mrs. Sol. Jack, of Portland, was out to the city Saturday, on probate business.

Hunters must remember that the close season for killing bucks is now on.

Peter Jossy, of West Union, was a county seat visitor Friday. Miss Anna Ellerson, of Portland, was out to Hillsboro, Monday.

Otto Wohler, the Oak Park onion grower, was in the city Monday morning.

Albert Friday and wife, of the Banks section, were in the city Monday.

Geo. Vanderzanden, of near Banks, was in town Saturday, and called on the Argus for about the 15th annual visit.

F. C. Hausafus and wife, of Arlington, Wash., were over the first of the week, attending a session of circuit court.

G. G. Hathorn, of Laurel, was over to the city Friday, and started in a campaign as an Argus reader.

Harold Halvorsen, of Farmington, was in the city Friday. He has been hauling wood to the Morton greenhouse.

F. M. Crabtree, the Laurel hop and prune grower, has started construction of a handsome new home on the lot recently purchased from R. Baltra and wife.

Postmaster McCoy, of North Plains, has filed his bond with the government, and is now ready to open up Uncle Sam's mail.

Pumpkin pies are now in order—and it's pretty hard to beat the ones turned through the culinary department where the Argus reporter takes his meals.

Chas. Holcomb, of Bethany, reports a good sale last week, and in a short time he expects to move to Portland, where he will later on engage in the auto garage business.

FRUIT GROWERS TO MEET IN PORTLAND

Will Hold Session at Yeon Building,
Nov. 15-16-17

PRES. H. C. ATWELL ARRANGES MEET

States Horticultural Society Prepares
Interesting Program

The Oregon State Horticultural Society has arranged to hold its annual session in Portland, November 15, 16, and 17, at the Yeon Building, Portland. President H. C. Atwell, of Forest Grove, has arranged a fine program for the three days. W. K. Newell, of Gaston, will tell the growers how to market their crops, and how organization is the key to the best successes in disposing of fruit.

As yet there has been no concerted move for Washington County to put up an apple exhibit. Last year Washington County captured the Howard Elliott prize of $250, besides getting the banner for the most attractive exhibit.

The apple crop in this section is very light this year, although there have been some very fine growths in various parts of the county.

Mr. Atwell has been a very efficient president and the organization has flourished finely since his name has been at the head of the organization.

AUCTION SALE

The undersigned will sell at public auction at his place in Sherwood, at 10:30 a. m., on

SATURDAY, NOV. 4

19 head of horses, all high bred, except one work team which are well bred in their class.

Arche Lee, the sire of five of these colts, bay with black points, 16 hands high, weight 1200, great action, style, carriage and finish. Arche Lee sired by Malheur, 277.

McClosky Wainwright, son of the great McKinney, 2114, he being sire of 95 in the list. Sire of Sweet Marie, 202, breeding more extreme speed than any horse in the world. 5 of his colts to be sold at this sale are all entered in the Oregon Fraternity, only one in training at present. He has worked 30 days and has shown a 2:20 gait for a 1/2 mile.

Arche Lee and McClosky Wainwright will be both offered for sale, and also a fancy driving team. Also a full blooded male Berkshire hog and some sow pigs.

Terms:—One year bankable note, at 8 per cent.

M. F. Johnston.

The telephone centrals doubtless are glad that the baseball season has closed, for they have had a siege of answering queries ever since the season opened. Along about five o'clock in the afternoon, all Summer, the batteries of questions opened—"who won the ball games today?" And when the Beavers were winding up the campaign in the South the past weeks it would keep one operator busy for about an hour, giving out the desired information to patrons. The central operators were very courteous about giving the scores.

Call at Hotel Washington, Friday, Nov. 10, and have Dr. Lowe show you the new glasses with which you can see all distances. No unsightly lines or seams to catch dirt and strain the eyes. They make you feel young without making you look old. Free demonstrations. In Forest Grove, Nov. 9.

Harry Young and wife, were out from Portland, Sunday, guests at the J. C. Lamkin home. Mr. Young has been up in Alaska for several years, and is now located in Portland. He was out looking over the interior of the big septic tank which takes care of the big sanitary sewer deposit—or will take care of it, when accepted.

We clear land; blow stumps, cut wood, etc., on large or small contracts. Call on or address Butts & Eldredgs, 24 1/2 N. Second Street, Portland, Ore. Home phone 41291; Pacific, Main 3205. 34-6

Robt. Rice, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. E. P. Cornelius, left Monday for his home in Ostrander, where he will again start in falling some of the big timber in that section.

John Lippert, of the Buxton section, has completed the John Boeker bungalow, north of town, and Mr. and Mrs. Boeker will occupy it this week or next.

Clover hulling is not yet finished in some sections of the county. They were at Chas. Bloom's place, Monday, below Newton.
