VOL. XVIII

HILLSBORO, OREGON, NOVEMBER 16, 1911.

NO. 36

COUNTY BOARD WILL BUILD GOOD ROADS

Expect to Vote a ten Mill Highway and Bridge Tax in January

FIVE MILLS FOR MACADAMIZING
Ninety-Five Thousand For Bettering Highways in County

County Judge Stevenson and Commissioners McClaran and Nyberg have agreed to vote ten mill tax for road and bridge purposes at the January session of county court—and this means an era of roadbuilding in Washington County, such as no other county has taken up in the state of Oregon. Five mills will be used for bridges and the general road work of the county, such as incidental repairs, etc. The remaining five mills will be expended for permanent road work, and the money collected will be spent in the road districts in which it is raised. This will mean, with a full collection, something like $95,000 for macadam roads. With all delinquencies, there will be at least $90,000 for this class of work, and this will build 30 miles of good substantial roads. With one year of a campaign of this kind there will be rock roads, practically a macadam road, from North Yamhill to Portland, via Forest Grove, Hillsboro and Cedar Mill, or via Beaverton, and another rock road from Newberg to Portland, through the Rex-Tigard county.

Judge Stevenson and the commissioners aver that the cost of putting down the road will not exceed $3,000 per mile, and where there are quarries accessible without freight charges, the cost will be reduced under that figure.

With this method carried out for a couple of years there will be no more wasting of $50,000 annually on roads, throwing up dirt here and there, which again must be thrown up the succeeding year. That there is a great consensus of opinion in favor of rock roads has been made manifest by the many special tax levies voted here and there, and the court believes that the only fair way is to levy a tax, and proceed with the work, and then all will share the expense of the good roads. As it now is many are using macadam roads here and there without a penny of expense of them.

MOVE FOR BAND CONCERT

There is a move on foot by the friends and admirers of the Hillsboro Band for a band concert at the Crescent, some time during December. The band is organized has an ensemble of 26 men, and the organization is one of which the city is proud. The boys give a great deal of time to practice, and they should have moral as well as financial support, from every standpoint.

A stranger who visited Hillsboro last Spring remarked that he had made towns all over the Northwest, as well as the East, and he had never visited any place with our population that had so fine a band organization, and which played so fine a repertoire. The band, under the management and direction of C. S. Parker, made great strides, and a little encouragement would again put them in fine fettle. The boys are to start their practice again, and in a few weeks they will again hit their old stride.

Sam Johnson, of Shady Brook, and Chester Bridges, Oak Park, were Portland visitors, Monday.

J. C. Bechen, of West Union, was over to the city Monday.

R. E. Harbison returned from the Hood River apple fair the first of the week.

John Ireland, of Greenville, was down to the city last Thursday, and called on the Argus.

J. B. Walker, of below Beaverton, was up to the city Monday, the guest of his mother, Mrs. Lucy Walker.

Note the many real estate transfers in Washington County. Aside from Multnomah it is doubtful if there is a county in the state where real estate is moving so freely.

Chicken thieves have been pilfering around the suburban places, and some one entered the Cable chicken house, below the city park, the other evening, and stole the nest eggs, as well as some fancy chickens.

W. E. Batts, formerly of Cedar Mill, was held under $1,000 bond to answer to circuit court, at the close of his hearing, Friday, before Judge W. D. Smith. Batts is the party who was captured at Huntington a few days ago, and returned to this city, to answer the charge of larceny of over $200, the complaining witness being Mrs. Alice Calkins, Mr. and Mrs. Calkins worked for Batts down at Cedar Mill, and according to their story, they allowed him to bank their money in his name, drawing it out for them as they requested. Batts secretly arranged to go East in a freight car with his stock, and the Calkins allege that before he departed he drew out their earnings without saying a word to his employees. They succeeded in getting a warrant, and Deputy Sheriff Applegate reached the Huntington marshal by wire and stopped his trip. Hancock brought him back, although the man showed a willingness to deposit money if permitted to go East with his shipment. Batts' case will go to the grand jury.

The Oregon Dairymen's Association will be held in Portland, December 7 and 8, and the railroads will grant one and one-third fare to visitors. Call for a receipt from your home agent, when you buy your ticket. Austin T. Buxton, of Forest Grove, will on Dec. 8 tell of the year's work in the Washington County Testing Association, and W. K. Newell will on same date talk on "Advanced Registration." Chas. A. Handley, of Hillsboro, will deliver a talk on "Dairy Reminiscences." Wm. Schulmerich gives a prize of a $100 registered Jersey bull calf to the party having the highest scoring dairy butter. Dairy butter, to enter, must be not less than four pounds, in plain wrappers. M. S. Shrock, of Banks, is secretary of the State Association, and through his efforts there is a fine program arranged for the two days. The meeting will be held in the W. O. W. Hall, 11th and Alder.

For Sale: Four tons hop-wire, No. 10, in good shape, $30 per ton. Inquire of Wm. Schmidt, on my place, near West Union, 1 1/2 miles north of Orenco. Ralph Imbrie, 34-6

Arthur L. Pope, aged 15 years, 7 months and 19 days, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Pope, died in Portland, Nov. 9, 1911. The funeral was held at the Portland crematorium, Saturday, at two in the afternoon. The young man was well known in Forest Grove and Hillsboro, where he had resided for several years. He was a straight-forward, manly young fellow, and his parents have the sympathy of all their Hillsboro friends.

Money to loan on farm or other property, on approved security. We also sell real estate. Kuratli Brothers, Main Street, between First and Second. 20tf

Chas. Williams, living just at the Yamhill County line, above Gaston, lost his barn by fire, Sunday morning. The structure was one of the finest outbuildings in that section. About 70 tons of hay and fifteen tons of oats were consumed by the flames. The stock was all saved. The loss runs over $3,000, while there was but $700 insurance, written by John Vanderwal, of Hillsboro.

Maurice J. Gleason, a former resident of Washington County, having a homestead in the hills in the nineties, was killed by a street car, in Portland, one day last week. He was born in County Cork, Ireland, in 1844, and at the age of six years, crossed the plains to Marion County. They resided there until 1871, when they moved to Portland. The widow and ten children survive. Gleason was a very bright man, and took an active interest in politics.

Geo. Miller, of Cooper Mountain, was in the city Monday. From five acres of potatoes he has just harvested 700 sacks, or over 1,000 bushels—a fine average for Burbanks. The product was large, and he has already sold 300 sacks at $1 per, in Portland. Geo. starts for Hickory, Catawba County, N. C., this evening, for a three months visit with boyhood scenes and people.

County Judge Stevenson has received two Japanese deer for his ranch park, on Gales Creek. The gifts came from Hawaii, and embrace a buck and doe. They are very beautifully marked creatures, having a large white spot on their ears. Judge states that these marks would be fine for huntsmen. He expects to raise a herd of the adopted fellows.

D. A. Burkhalter, of Farmington, was in town Saturday.

CLERK AND SHERIFF DRAW JURY LIST

Thirty-One Citizens Called From the Body of the County

CIRCUIT COURT SOON TO CONVENE

Twenty-Five Out of the 31 Are Designated as Farmers

Clerk J. W. Bailey and Sheriff Geo. G. Hancock the last of the week drew the jury list for the November term of circuit court, which will convene in Hillsboro, Monday morning, Nov. 27. The full complement of thirty-one are on the venire and this will give the usual 24 trial jurors and seven for the grand jury. Twenty five of the list are farmers, and there are three merchants. A gardener, a capitalist and an expressman fill the call. The jurors and their precincts follow:

- J. C. Bills, Farmer, Washington

HURRAH FOR DR. KOCH!

Who has opened a contest for his salesmen—giving five valuable premiums to the first five men, sending in the largest amount of business in cash, between now and Feb. 1. As I intend to strive for the largest prize I hereby ask the aid of my customers by offering rewards as follows: To the one paying the largest amount of cash for goods, or on collection, between now and Feb. 1, I will give a seven-jewel Elgin Watch, 20-year gold case, value $25; second prize, set of Rogers Bros. silver knives and forks, value $5; third prize, silver cake basket, value $2.50. In addition will give a beautiful salad dish to every one who pays me $5 in cash for goods. Respectfully—C. S. Aydelott, Forest Grove, Ore. Box 197.

Emma Zwicker, who owned 3 lots in the Brugger tract, wants the circuit court to decree her owner of the same and a further decree that one John Walsh be named as a mortgage in the sum of $1,500. She also asks that deeds made by her to Louis and Hattie Salomon be cancelled. She alleges that she agreed to sell the place to Salomon for $2,500, with a payment of $1,500 down and a mortgage of $1,000. She and her husband went to Salomon's office in Portland, according to her complaint, and signed papers. No money was paid down, but on the 29th of September Salomon paid her $500, and on the following Monday gave her $1,000, with a mortgage for the balance. Later, she alleges she found out that Walsh held a mortgage for $1,500, and that her mortgage was second. She swears that Walsh had unwittingly loaned the money, thinking it was a straight deal, and that she is not satisfied with the second mortgage, but wants the whole transaction cancelled except that she is willing to keep the $1,500 and permit Walsh to hold the paper. The land is worth perhaps $4,000.

Burt Wilkey, who has been up in the Harney country all Summer, arrived home Saturday night, to remain the Winter in Hillsboro. He says that the snow had just started as he came through the Eastern Oregon country. Burt was much surprised to see the improvements in Hillsboro during his absence.

Emmotts have a fresh lot of Krinkle corn flakes, 3 for 25 cents.

The jury list is drawn, and published in another column.

J. A. Pierce, of near Orenco, was in the city Saturday afternoon.

C. J. Haggerty, of Beaverton, Route 2, was in the city Saturday.

H. W. Bolger, cashier of the Beaverton bank, was in the city Friday last.

J. B. McNew, of below Reedsville, visited last week with his son, J. R., above Banks.

W. S. Atchinson, recently arrived from Pendleton, is building a cottage in East Hillsboro.

A. G. Watson, of Forest Grove, was down to the city Saturday, enroute home from a Portland trip.

For repairs of sewing machines, bicycles, guns, etc., go to the Wilkes Auto and Garage Company.

Geo. H. Wolf, who has been at Timber, for some months, has returned for the Winter, and will improve his place beyond Oak Park.

J. P. Wagner, with the Oregonian, was in the city the first of the week, rustling for the publication.

Good paying restaurant, with lodging house in connection, for rent at a bargain. Do not wait to sell.—Inquire of Kuratli Bros.

Will Wohlschlegel, who has six acres of fine yielding potatoes, and is waiting for better weather to unearth them, was in Saturday.

Wanted: A few good grade Angora goats, at once. Must be a bargain.—Edward L. Naylor, Forest Grove, Ore., Independent Telephone, 185. 35-7

Frank Munger who spent the Summer back in Nebraska and South Dakota, says that after all he has seen no country that has anywhere near approached Oregon for production.

We clear land; blow stumps, cut wood, etc., on large or small contracts. Call on or address Butts & Eldredgs, 24 1/2 N. Second Street, Portland, Ore. Home phone 41291; Pacific, Main 3205. 34-6

Stewart Vaughn, formerly of the Cedar Creek country, now residing at Yamhill, was down to the oldtime county seat, Saturday, greeting his Washington County friends.

For sale or trade: Twelve acres, 2 1/2 miles southeast of Hillsboro; also a house and 2 1/2 acres at McMinnville. Will sell at a bargain, or trade for Hillsboro residence property, close in.—C. F. Bunsen, Hillsboro, Ore.

F. G. Mitchell arrived Friday evening from Pendleton. He says there were four inches of snow in Umatilla County when he left—but that only means twenty dollar pieces of the wheat farmers.

For sale: Fine driving and brood mare, well bred and gentle; 1,200; ladies can handle and drive. Also 2-seated surrey, practically new, with harness. Goes reasonable. Address or call, 525 Clay Street, Portland, Ore.

Elmonica notes—The handsome bungalow of Ernest Keehn will be completed in a few days.

M. B. Gilbert, of Eastern Oregon, visited with J. G. Schmitt, last week.—Mrs. Rose Merlo is building a fine two-story house.

J. C. Beeks is making some fine improvements at Rosedale.

A telegram was received Sunday announcing the death of Mrs. Ethel Denison, wife of Ben Denison, at Ronan, Montana. Mrs. Denison was a sister of Mrs. Leah Bouland, and L. A. Long, of the Argus. The Denisons visited here throughout the Summer of 1906. She leaves a husband and two little girls.

Why pay ten dollars for a map which merely shows Washington County, when you can get one on a larger scale, showing everything from the Willamette River west, to the west boundary of the county, size 50x67 inches, for $7.50, or a pocket size, 24x33 inches, for $2.00? Get it of your bookseller, or address T. S. Wilkes & Son, Hillsboro, Oregon.

Donald McKenzie, aged 89 years July 25, was in the city Friday, and called on the Argus. Mr. McKenzie reads plain print without glasses, and is as active as the average man of 65 years, and more sprightly than many men of 50. He is a native of Argenteuil, Quebec, and is at present residing at Cornelius, where he resides with a son of fifty years of age.

CEREMONY PERFORMED IN A BIG AUTOMOBILE

Advertising Man on Oregonian, Weds While Machine is Stuck

ROMANCE CULMINATES IN STREET

Party Had Minister With Them and Wasted no Time, Sunday Eve

Hillsboro is always in the forefront of all things—and a wedding taking place in an auto, mired to the fenders, on Fir Street, is the latest in the column of romance. George S. Woodford, advertising man with the Oregonian Publishing Company, took out a license to wed, before Clerk J. W. Bailey, Nov. 9, and on Sunday afternoon, brought his prospective bride, E. Ada Ryan, out from the metropolis in a big touring car. Armed with the license they called on Rev. W. J. Weber, and besought him to accompany them to the house of a friend, where he was to perform the ceremony making them one. The machine started down street, and when they rounded the turn at Fir, the trouble commenced. Just below the Baptist Church the auto floundered, founded, and commenced to look pained in its eyes. The engine stopped—and the bridal party was in a quandary. Right here, with rare presence of mind, the groomsmen, a friend of the couple, said, "Well, what's to hinder a marriage right here." That ended the dilemma, and Rev. Weber had soon said the words that made them man and wife. And so—"Married, in the parlors of a touring car, on Fir, near Third, Sunday evening, November 12, Rev. W. J. Weber, of the Hillsboro M. E. Church, officiating, Mr. George S. Woodford and Miss E. Ada Ryan."

The Oregonian employees are now getting together to devise ways and means of purchasing the newly weds an auto, or some other kind of wheeled conveyance.

The groom is now singing: "Married while the gale was blowing—Wedded in a limousine, Stalled when the wheels stopped rolling, Stalled was the big machine!"

Wedded when the rain was falling—But we were so snug inside, While the parson was saying the ringing words That gave you to me, a bride!

With the first "try" the big car started, Leaving the old county seat—We dealt old Romance a solar plexus, In a car, in the storm, on the street."

Notice to Apple Tree Planters

We have for sale for 1911 Fall planting, the following:—

Newtowns, Spitzburgs, Arkansas Blacks, Winter Bananas, Johnnathans, Golden Ortley, and other choice varieties—3 to 4 ft. 8c each; from 4 to 6 ft, 12c each. For large orders write for special prices.—I. C. Nealeigh, Sherwood, Ore., R. 4; J. T. Nealeigh, Hood River, Ore., Nursery at Scholls, Ore.

August Krause, of near Sherwood, has appealed from the decision of the county court ordering the establishment of the Nancy J. Cole est. road. Jos. Galbreath was awarded $300 damages, and Krause was given $50. Galbreath waived his award, but the Krause money has been ready for payment. He has not taken it, and wants the matter reviewed by the circuit court. His petition does not say what he wants, but larger damages is thought to be the animus of the appeal. C. M. Idleman, of Portland, is his attorney.

I have several tons of cow pumpkins for sale. Will deliver at $6 per ton.—S. M. Chapman, Hillsboro, Route 4, Ind. Tel. James line, 251. Two miles west of city.

Fred Massey, the one-armed resident of North Hillsboro, whose agility and industry was a surprise to many who had two arms, is now located back at Roy, Ill. He sold his team to J. D. McHargue before leaving. Massey could haul as much wood or rock, with his big sorrel team, as the next man, and he was always at work. His father owns a big farm back in the sucker state, and he has returned to make things "hum" in the land of Billy Lorimer.

City Engineer Kelsay was in town the first of the week, going over the sewer work. He has just been awarded the $40,000 sewer supervision at Las Vegas, Nevada.
