HILLSBORO HIGH SCHOOL BEATS SECOND LINCOLN

Local Eleven Put up a Fine Game From Start to Finish

WILL PLAY NEXT AT TILLAMOOK

Shot Out the Portland Eleven, 16 to 0, With Greatest Ease

The Hillsboro High School Eleven defeated the Second Lincoln High School team of Portland, in a football game at the Park, last Thursday afternoon, by a score of 16 to 0, the locals playing a magnificent game from start to finish. At one time it looked as though Lincoln would score, as they were within a few feet of the line. The time limit, however, shut them out, and it was a crestfallen party that returned to the metropolis. The game was clean from start to finish, and there was no evidence of rowdiness. Lincoln had some husky lads and their weight was, if anything, a little more than the locals.

Geo. Alexander officiated as referee; Kerrell, Portland, umpire; W. R. Barrett, field judge; Goodwin, linesman; timekeepers, Ronald Vaught, Hillsboro, and Case, Portland.

The Odd Fellows commenced work the last of the week to get their building in readiness for the post office tenancy by the first of the year. A new cement floor will be laid, a new plate glass front will be installed, and the room, which extends sixty feet back from the front, will be put into fine shape for convenience of the office.

The furniture will be in quartered oak, and will present a very handsome appearance.

The Odd Fellows will have 30 feet left at the rear, which they will remodel for rental purposes, after putting in a front, facing Third.

ETHEL PORTIA DENISON

Ethel Portia Long Denison was born at Downsville, Wis., Dec. 13, 1881, and was wedded to Benj. H. Denison, Nov. 25, 1902. She died at Ronan, Montana, Nov. 12, 1911. She leaves a husband and two little daughters.

Mrs. Denison was a sister of L. A. Long and Mrs. Leah Boulden, now of Hillsboro. She visited in this city five years ago, and has some acquaintance here. The funeral took place Wednesday, and the remains were deposited in a vault at Missoula, to be shipped to New York next spring.

G. W. Russell, of Gaston, was down to the city Monday.

Jos. Connell, of near Connell station, on the United, was in town Monday.

Mrs. Al. Latham, of Portland, was a guest at the Barr and Abbott homes, Sunday.

J. F. Carstens, of Banks, returned Saturday evening after a visit with the Hartleys, at Maryhill, Wash.

C. Heitmeier and family departed Monday for Louisville, Illinois, where they will locate on their old farm home. They recently sold their place near Leisyville, which they bought last May.

C. J. Schnabel, Oglesby Young and Ex-Senator F. W. Mulkey, of Portland, were all out to the session of circuit court, Monday morning. There were also a number of other Portland attorneys on hand.

Begin now. A savings account with the Hillsboro National Bank, a government institution, earns you four per cent. interest. You will be surprised how your money will earn you money—and it is always safe.

About 6:45 Saturday evening a masked man entered the saloon of Scheidreiter & Renelt, of Beaverton, and commanded the bartender to throw up his hands. Two men sitting by the wall were also told to get up their prayer instruments, but the twain and the bartender appeared to think it was a hoax. A more determined demand, however, made them realize that the robber meant business, particularly when he re-inforced his demand with two shots into the wall, between where the two men were sitting. Hands then were raised while the burglarious hold-up took $24 from the till, making his escape through the rear door. As he left the building he tripped and fell into a ditch and lost his mask. His face-blind was a woman's black stocking, without holes for the eyes, nose or mouth, and with a head-piece that fitted down over the skull. The robber overlooked $150. There is no clue to the perpetrator—and it is a safe guess that business men will hereafter bank their money early in Beaverton. Sheriff Hancock and Deputy Applegate went to Beaverton on the first car to investigate, but could find no trace of the thug.

Thank Offering Day will be observed in Grace United Evangelical Church, Hillsboro, on Sunday, Nov. 26, morning, afternoon and evening, at 11:00, 2:30 and 7:30 o'clock, by the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society, the Addie Curry Munford Young People's Missionary Society and the Martha Ellen Munford Mission Band. Excellent programs, consisting of selections by the choir, solos, duets, quartets, exercises, recitations, addresses, picture story, and splendid dialogues are being prepared to interest all who will attend. Free Will Offerings for missions will be received.

For Sale: 32 acres of the best land in Wash. Co., located 3 miles N. W. of Forest Grove, there are about 20 acres in vetch and oats, and 2 acres to be put in potatoes in Spring, 5 acres pasture, about 5 acres of large ash and oak timber. On this place there is about 10 acres of Beaverdam land, place is ditched and cross ditched. Price, $175 per acre, 5 years time on part at 6 per cent. Also have new 6 room bungalow and 1/2 acre that will sell cheap. For particulars write to Leon T. Sills, Forest Grove, Or. Phone 17x.

The voters of Timber want better voting facilities. They are in Gales Creek precinct, and have too far to go. They either want a new precinct formed, with voting booths at Timber, or else wish to be cut off into Buxton precinct, so they can go to the polls on the P. R. & N. As Timber now represents a big percentage of the vote, with the many loggers working in the Nehalem district, their wish is very likely to attract favorable consideration.

F. M. J. Murphy, the carpenter, well known all over the Beaverton and Beaverton sections, writes the Argus that he is laid up at Linnton, with a smashed foot, and that he is lonesome without the Argus, "Larry" promises to come out to Hillsboro as soon as he can hobble around enough to navigate without crutches.

G. W. Guyton, of beyond South Tualatin, brought in a Burbank potato Monday, that weighed five and one-half pounds. This is "some potato," and would make a pretty fair hotel dinner for an excursion crowd.

Remember that the Hillsboro National Savings Bank is under government supervision, which insures you the best of protection. One dollar opens an account, 4 per cent. paid on savings.

L. J. and A. W. Creps, of above Banks, were in town Saturday. L. J. came down to have his hand dressed, having fed a portion of it into a feed chopper several weeks ago.

Walter and Frank Zuercher, of below Elmonica, were in the city last Friday. Walter recently returned from a trip to Weiser, Idaho, and other intermountain points.

Money to loan on farm or other property, on approved security. We also sell real estate.—Kuratli Brothers, Main Street, between First and Second. 20tf

Herman Rannow, of near Farmington, was up to the city Saturday. Herman has one of the productive ranches of his section.

A. C. Shute has installed a basement under the Koontz saloon.

H. Matteson, of Gaston, was in the city the last of the week.

WORKING FOR BETTER DAIRY CONDITIONS

Washington County Cow Testing Association Meets in Hillsboro

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED SATURDAY

J. D. Mickle, President, and A. T. Buxton, Re-elected Secretary

The Washington County Cow Testing Association met in Hillsboro last Saturday to hear the year's report. E. Ellerson, the tester, reported that he had given tests to various herds, embracing practically 757 cows, and that the majority of them had been tested five times. This test, for butter fat, has enabled owners to know how their herds stand, and gives them the chance to eliminate their poor producers, resulting in building up the dairy herds.

J. D. Mickle, of Hillside, was re-elected president and Thos. Carmichael, of Gaston, was elected vice president. Austin Buxton, of Forest Grove, was elected secretary, succeeding himself. The Association embraces fifty members, and Wm. Schulmerich and M. S. Shrook were appointed to take up the matter of increasing the membership and making two test districts in the county, instead of one.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the present internal tax on colored oleomargarine, and opposing the State Woman's Club, in asking for a reduction. A resolution was also passed, deploring the decision of Judge Morrow, of Portland, in issuing a decree that permits, contrary to the law, firms to take Eastern tub butter, reprocess it, and label it "Oregon Creamery Butter." President Mickle's report follows:

Gentlemen—Somewhat over a year ago, our State Dairy and Food Commissioner began some inspection and educational work in this county. Mr. M. S. Shrook being the deputy in charge of same. After spending several weeks among our dairy men, Mr. Shrook decided that this was a good field for future work and stated his belief that a good self supporting Cow Testing Association could be organized. So a call was made and in the city of Forest Grove the first Cow Testing Association in Oregon was organized nearly one year ago.

Here I wish to say that we as dairy men, seeking to better ourselves and as members of this association are deeply indebted to Mr. Shrook for his foresight in this matter and for the work done in perfecting our organization.

So we meet here today to review the work of the past year and to take whatever action may be for our future benefit.

It seems entirely fitting that we meet in this place today (in this hall of Justice) for, from within these walls have gone forth many a decree establishing what was right between man and man; and this basis of right or justice is what we wish to establish between man and cow.

We are glad that it is our privilege as your officers, to report to you today upon the year's work and can earnestly say that we have tried to do our best, with the means at hand.

Although some things have not been just as we might wish for, yet with the finances at our command, we have done the best we could, and I wish to congratulate and thank Sec. Buxton for his untiring and faithful labor for the success and upbuilding of the Association.

Upon him also has fallen all the work of the past year and I am sure you will join me in extending to him our hearty thanks.

Men are coming to see more and more the need of a closer application of better methods in order to be in the rank and file of competition, and our instructors no longer tell us, "that the man who practices advance ideas is going to do better," but they say he is now doing better.

There is an old saying ("and you know where it is found") "As a man sows, so shall he also reap" and every day we see its fulfillment all around us.

Some dairymen have come to realize the foolishness of promiscuous and haphazard sowing and may their number multiply.

He that soweth to the scrub bull and the boarder cow, will of his own wisdom reap a still poorer cow and likewise a depleted pocket book.

We are proud of the fact that the statistics of our members are much in advance of the average Oregon dairymen and we deem it valuable knowledge to know the earnings of each individual cow.

We heard a story the other day, as follows:—A man asked his friend "How many cows are you keeping?" The reply was, "one." The man, knowing his friend had more, questioned further, and the friend said, "I have ten cows in the stable, but it takes the milk of the whole bunch to feed nine of them, so I have to keep the other one."

Gentlemen I prophesy to you today that if there be many of our friends and farmers in this fix, and should our next President be a democrat, some one is going to see hard times. However, before we will submit to this, we will fill the state with testing stations and oil that wheel of fortune with butter fat that may never know an administration.

We sometimes hear of the man who is making a failure in the cow business, but it is more pleasant and profitable to hear of the other fellow, and I can call your attention to several members of Washington Co. Cow Testing Association in my own community.

Several years ago Mr. Thos. Williams had one of the best herds in our neighborhood. These he sold to another member of this association at a good price, retaining only a foundation. Today he has another good working herd, headed by a registered bull, and Mr. Williams has lately purchased a portion of an adjoining farm, so his cows must be keeping him.

Mr. Chas. Bamford, another neighbor and member, has one of the most profitable herds we know of, and as a sample of the kind of cows he keeps, he gave me figures on one that in eight months or 245 days has given 10045 lbs. of milk, average test 5.13, or 515 1/2 lbs fat or 601.42 est butter, and has carried a calf somewhat over 6 months while making this record and within 3 miles of where I live are 4 tuberculous tested herds, all headed by registered sires and all members of this association.

My friends, I ask you does it pay? What is the conviction in each and every dairy mind here today? Do we wish to go on and extend and increase this work or are we going to retrograde until you and I are keeping the one cow? Other counties and states are waking up and it is up to us to prepare to hold our own.

Following us is coming another generation of dairymen, and are they going to find us to have been robbers of a virgin soil, who let our opportunities for advancement go by? Or shall their decision be, that we build the best we knew, and they should be thankful for the foundations we laid for them. Just as you and I should be thankful for those who had the foresight to lay the foundation for the Jersey, Guernsey, Holstein and Ayrshire cow.

BEAVERTON MAN WINS FOUR FIRST PRIZES

B. Leis, the Orchardist, Keeps Washington County on Map

SURPRISES THE HOOD RIVER GROWERS

Every Single Box Exhibit Entered by Him Was a Winner

Washington County was kept on the map at the Portland apple show by a Beaverton grower. Whenever anyone bets on B. Leis as a "bonehead" he is missing his guess—and missing it badly. At the show held last week Mr. Leis, whose orchard is located a mile east of Beaverton, was the only representative of Washington County horticulture—and he was there with the bells.

Mr. Leis won four first prizes in single box exhibits, against the Hood River product, and was second in a "3-box exhibit" of Northern Spys. He won first on the following: Jonathan, Ben Davis, King and Northern Spy.

This grower has been one of the pioneers of this county for proper care of orchards, and he has spraying and pruning down to a science. In winning these prizes his product is the more to be commended because he was forced against Hood River, supposed to be a world beater in production of pippins. Leis simply shows that with proper care Washington County can turn out as fine apples as any section of Oregon—and it is admitted that no section of the world can beat old Oregon.
