ALOHA PARTY

One of the most enjoyable events of the season at Aloha was the entertainment of the Fortnightly lub and the Junior Club, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Weisenback, last Friday evening. Oriental lanterns dotted the grounds and verandahs, preenting a beautiful setting, and the parlors and hall, where dancing was indulged, were tastefuly decorated with twined fern. vergreens and cut hothouse flowers. Dancing, music, songs. and gayety of many kinds were enjoyed until after midnight, with a varied program. A delightful feature was the dancing graceful little girls and sturdy

STREET PAVING IS SUCCESS

Bitulithic Regarded Here as Greatest Public Improvement

Asked what public improvement has been the most valuable to citizens of every class in this city, almost every Pendletonian would reply, without hesitation, its street paving. The older residents will remember how teams in the main streets splashed mud on their clothing and even on store windows during the months of stormy weather before the citizens awakened to the fact that hard paved streets were the most profitable municipal investment that could be

Of course, when it was decided to make the departure many plans were discussed. All manner of "improved" schemes were presented, but finally, after careful investigation, based on the experience of other progressive cities in this state and Washington, Bitulithic was overwhelmingly favored. Accordingly a contract was entered into with the Warren Construction Company.
