OVER A HUNDRED ON TILLAMOOK EXCURSION

Weather in Coast County Pleased First Time Visitors
TILLAMOOK BEATS HILLSBORO NINE
Train Started at 7 A. M. and Returned at 10:30 O'clock P. M.

Over 100 excursionists went over to Tillamook, on the P. R. & N., Sunday, the trip being the first of many, and the day was of interest to all. The train left Hillsboro at seven in the morning, and the return was made to this city by 10:30 in the evening. Hillsboro's baseball nine was beaten by a score of 9 to 2, but with that the boys put up a good game. Tillamook drove one over on Hillsboro by putting Harry Suter, a Pacific Coast League pitcher, in the box, and although he was hit freely, the boys could not get many out for safe hits. The Tillamookers will make Hillsboro in the not distant future for a return game. To many Hillsborites this was their first visit to the coast county, and to nearly all it was the first trip over the new Pacific Highway & Navigation Company's road to the coast city.

W. S. MACRUM

W. S. Macrum, a former resident of Forest Grove, and for many years an employee of the Merchants National Bank, Portland, died at his home at 48 East Twenty-second St., Portland, Friday evening, May 3. His death came as a great shock to his relatives and many friends. He had been attending to his duties at the bank until Thursday. That night his illness developed, and he was waiting upon by his brother, Dr. C. A. Macrum. Death came suddenly about 6 P. M., Friday. Mr. Macrum is survived by his widow, who was Miss Lulu Smith of Portland; his mother, Mrs. I. A. Macrum; his four other children, Dr. C. A. Macrum, Jewell Macrum and Garfield Macrum, of Portland; and John W. Macrum, of Spokane, and a sister, Mrs. W. H. Byrd, of Salem. He was a native of Pittsburgh, having been born in 1871. He came to Portland with his parents when a few months old. He was a graduate of the 1891 class of Pacific University. Later he took the law course of the University of Oregon, graduating in 1896. He entered the service of the Merchants National Bank, where he was employed as teller, serving there for the past 21 years. For ten years he has been recorder of Washington Lodge, Knights Templar. He was also a member of the Mystic Shrine.

Dance, Hillsboro Hall

Do not forget the dance at Hillsboro Hall, Saturday evening, May 18. Crescent orchestra, tickets, $1.00; gentlemen spectators, 25 cents. 9-10

Miss I. T. Martin, of New York, made an able address in opposition to woman's suffrage, Saturday evening at the court house. Mrs. F. J. Bailey, president of the Portland Anti-Suffrage League, accompanied Miss Martin to this city.

Mrs. Esther Leisy returned to Portland, Friday, after a visit with her children and grandchildren in this section.

Hillsboro Commercial Bank Block

The Hillsboro Commercial Bank Building, located at the southwest corner of Main and Second Streets, is one of the sightly blocks of the city. It is across the street from the court house square, and is occupied by the Commercial Bank, which has the distinction of having the largest deposits of any individual bank in the county seat, and the Hillsboro Mercantile Company, one of the largest commercial enterprises in Washington County.

A business man of 35 years in Hillsboro recently had an attack of lumbago. He started home twisted in a bow-knot, and found what he thought was some liniment. He applied it to his back in copious ablutions, and the next day, and the next, he repeated it. He was cured after three days, and was telling about the efficacy of the particular brand of liniment when his wife, who knows a thing or two, said "Why James that was a cough medicine that you used. You made a mistake."

W. L. Raymond, of near Banks, is in town Friday. He says that the Cornelius co-operative cheese factory will soon have a building completed, and that there is promise of a great deal of business. The Banks factory, Mr. Raymond states, is working right along with a big supply of milk. With the advent of Summer and a good pasturage, there is likelihood, the milk prices are likely to drop, and the cheese values will have a tendency to keep up good prices.

Closing out sale of plants.—Will sell at sacrifice to those wishing to fix up their yards—and they will do well to call and see what we have—house plants, roses, shrubbery, lilies, peonies, bleeding hearts, and other things too numerous to mention. Cabbage and tomato plants in their season. We also have some fine cemetery plants and shrubbery.—Mrs. Agnes Campbell, Corner of Seventh & Fir Streets, Phone City 153. 524f

Geo. Biersdorf was in from his North Plains hopyard, Monday, and says that with the advent of Monday's warmth, the vines started their first rapid growth of Spring. Geo. says that the clover crop is coming on nicely, and that three weeks of warm weather would precipitate haying earlier than for years. As a rule clover haying does not start until about the middle of or 20th of June, but it has an early start this season.

John Meurer, of near Quatama, was in the city Saturday. He says that his son-in-law, Jno. Peerenboom, of Roy, has two Holstein cows that are worth while. One has been giving 85 pounds of milk per day, and the other 82 pounds. At $1.50 per hundred this would mean over $1.20 per day for each milker—and that is some money in the dairy business.

If you have a farm for sale, or want to trade your farm for city property, see Hatch & Oakerman, real estate dealers, 819 Union Avenue N., Portland, Oregon. Old established office. Prospective farm buyers in their office nearly every day. Mr. Oakerman formerly lived in this county, and is well able to represent local property. 9-11

George Holsheimer, of Elmonica, was in the city Friday, and called on the Argus. He says that Elmonica is thriving and that he is going to stay right there—with his Dutch bungalow, Dutch family, and a fine Dutch cook.

For sale or trade for cash, or on easy terms—house on First and Washington Streets and house on First and Fir, and two houses in Highland Park. Also three vacant lots on Washington Street. See R. H. Greer, Hillsboro, Ore. 8-12

F. W. Cady, one of Beaverton's progressive merchants, was in the city Friday, and made his annual call on the Argus. He says he likes the way old Hillsboro is progressing.

John H. Dorland, of beyond North Plains, was transacting business in Hillsboro, Friday.

Tennis Pyl, of South Tualatin, was a city visitor Friday.

JUDGE T. A. M'BRIDE IN DIVORCE OPINION

Veteran Jurist Injects Humor Into Oregon Archives
THE OLD OAKEN BUCKET VS. BEER
The Mark Twain of Oregon Jurisprudence Scores Home Run

A dispatch from Salem tells of a Supreme Court decision by Supreme Judge T. A. McBride which will be relished by the many Washington County friends of the Mark Twain of Oregon's jurisprudence—here it is:

"Cool lager beer" versus the contents of the "old oaken bucket" with its accompanying possibilities of bacteria and noxious germs" proved to be the burden of a Supreme Court decision today in which Justice McBride discussed some marital woes and modified a divorce decree granted to Charles E. Short from Maggie E. Short, the case being appealed from Josephine County.

The lower court decided for the plaintiff, but as to settlement some of the lower court's findings were modified. In the course of his opinion Justice McBride says:

We gather from the testimony that both parties were disposed to be tenacious of their opinions and that defendant was disposed to magnify innocent pleasantries into gross indignities. Thus, when a few days after the marriage, he said, jokingly, to a friend, "I paid $5 for this thing (meaning defendant.)" $5 to the minister and $3 for the license," she now assumes that a deadly insult was intended. Another "indignity" was perpetrated the day after the wedding. The bridal party with relatives were on their way to Crater Lake. The day was hot, the road dusty, and the bride thirsty. Preferring cool lager, right off the ice, to the contents of the old oaken bucket, with its accompanying possibilities of bacteria and noxious germs, somebody suggested that a case of beer be procured at a wayside saloon. The groom made decided objections, and although the beverage was procured and presumably consumed, the process was not accompanied by the hilarity and good cheer usual on such occasions.

The husband gives a fair and plausible reason for his opposition, namely, that he objected to beer being drunk in the presence of the children. The wife should have respected his scruples and tried to worry along on well water, or at least not have taken the objection to heart as an intentional cruelty.

BACK TO THE FARM
"Back to the farm"—I have 130 acres of land; 40 acres clear, the rest good saw timber; good house, barn and orchard; 2 wells; 2 springs; large creek; good mill site; timber can be floated down Tualatin river. Six miles south of Hillsboro; one mile north of Laurel; on main county road; mail and milk route; phone in house; will sell all or in small tracts, at $150 per acre. Part cash. Come and see me.—A. L. Grebe, Hillsboro, Ore., Route 2, Box 18. 6-1f

N. P. Oakerman, of Portland, was in town the last of the week. Mr. Oakerman formerly resided at Beaverton, and is now in the real estate business in Portland. He says that he finds quite a demand for farm lands by the homeseeking element now coming into Portland.

The potato acreage promises to be large in Washington County this season, owing to the big prices which have prevailed this Spring. There are a number who had in five acres last year who will double the acreage this Summer.

County Clerk Bailey was up in the mountains, above Timber, Sunday, trying his luck at fishing. He made the trip on the excursion.

Ferd Groner, accompanied by his walnut horticulturist, was up to the city the last of the week, attending to some work for local patrons.

Hugh Moore, of near Roy, was down to the city Friday. He says there is still a great deal of Spring sowing to be accomplished out his way.
