

FAMOUS OPERA SINGER PASSES AT MUNICH

Minnie Hauck von Hesse-Wartegg Was Well Known at Cornelius

FATHER RESIDED THERE FOR YEARS

Celebrated Diva Annually Sent Him a Big Remittance

Mrs. August Tews, of North Hillsboro, was given a birthday surprise Tuesday evening at the family residence. The evening was indulged in games and music, and refreshments were served at a late hour.

Miss Margaryet Bilz, national lecturer of the W. C. T. U., will lecture at the M. E. Church, Sunday afternoon, at 2:30, at the children's meeting, at 6:30, at the Epworth League Meeting, and at 7:30 to the evening audience.

For sale. Ten acre poultry ranch, one mile from Cornelius; house, barn, chicken house; plenty of fruit; several acres of it in timber; fine poultry will go with place.—Address owner, Wm. Graddy, Cornelius, R. I. 35-7

John M. Scott, general passenger agent for the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon, and H. A. Hinshaw, general freight agent for the same territory, were in town the first of the week, looking over the passenger and freight situation.

All parties knowing themselves indebted to the undersigned will please call and settle. Payments can be made to either O. E. Frank or the undersigned.—J. E. Borwick, Reedville, Ore. 35-7

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Palmateer departed this week for Los Angeles, Cal., where they will remain a month or more, and then take in San Diego, and other coast points. They have rented their home to M. H. Stevenson, of the Wilkes Abstract Company.

It is reported on very close authority that the livery stable, on Main Street, the Lion saloon, and the Lyons property to the west, will join in the Spring to have the structures razed or removed and a big handsome brick or concrete structure take their places.

George Lennen, of Vinelands, was in town yesterday. He says that the change from Cornelius Route 1 to Banks Route 3 on the mail service in his neighborhood has made quite a mixing up in delivery. Things will go smoother in a week or so.

Orders for bulk or brick ice cream for Thanksgiving should be in not later than 6 p. m. Wednesday.—Den of Sweets.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ray, of Hillsdale, were registered at the Hotel Washington, Tuesday. Mr. Ray is owner of the big Witch Hazel hop yards, and is one of the big hop buyers of Portland.

Next Monday and Tuesday evenings "Miss Robinson Cruise" in two reels at the People's Theatre—a Tanhauser drama—one of the best. Do not miss this.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Ogburn, of North Yakima, Nov. 17, 1912, a son. The little fellow is a grandson of Mrs. Amanda Purdin, formerly of Hillsboro.

Shooting Match—There will be a shooting match at the Henry Jones place, Vinelands, Nov. 26, beginning at ten a. m. Turkeys and geese.

D. M. McLaughlin, of Albany, was over yesterday, looking after motive power affairs here and on the Tillamook line.

Mr. John Patterson, Heppner, was a guest of her brother, J. G. Griffith, yesterday.

Thanksgiving for Baby Home

The Public School and Coffee Club of Hillsboro will accept Thanksgiving donations of clothing, fruit and vegetables for the Baby Home, of Portland.

The potatoes and other vegetables, fruit (canned and fresh), and jelly will be received at the school house, and Prof. Barnes will attend to shipping of same.

The clothing—dresses, night gowns, underwear, shoes, stockings, etc.—for babies under four years of age, will be received at the Rest Room, and the Coffee Club will attend to the shipping. Clothing that your children have out-grown will be gratefully received.

Parties wishing to donate to the Home, and being unable to send the articles, will notify B. W. Barnes, principal of school, or Mrs. Emma McKinney, president of the club, and a team will be sent out next Tuesday to get same.

This is a worthy cause, vouchered for by Mrs. J. C. Hare, well known here, and a member of the board of directors of the Baby Home.

See Ward before buying groceries. Get his prices.

Surprise Party

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of W. J. Ingram, Friday evening, Nov. 15, 1912, when his neighbors gathered and gave a surprise on his sixty-eighth birthday.

The hours were pleasantly spent in games and music, and lunch was served at a late hour.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. John Jack, Mrs. Chas. Church, Mrs. Emma Adams, Misses Eva Ingram, Sarah Basford, Winnifred Morrison, Della and Elsie Jack, Messrs. H. M. Basford, Jos. and Riley Ingram, Chas. Morrison, Donald Hall and Harvey Jack.

Mr. Ingram was born in Benton Co., Arkansas, Nov. 15, 1844. About Feb. 15, 1852, he started for the Oregon Country, together with his father and mother, brothers and sisters. They arrived here about the middle of Oct. 1852, and camped on what is known as the William Ingram Donation. The piece of land where the first camp was now owned by J. T. Morrison.

Hillsboro's First Primitive Telephone

Dr. F. A. Bailey Says it Was Installed in the Seventies

Connected Four Places in City

Tinner J. C. Lamkin Made the Receiving Apparatus For Them

Speaking of Hillsboro's first telephone—the matter was brought up over an article in a Hillsboro paper last week—Dr. F. A. Bailey gives the following history of the first instruments installed in this city: "The first device of this kind originated as follows—C. W. Ransom, now a capitalist and mining man of Portland, and Dr. C. W. Cornelius, were clerking in the pharmacy, the pioneer drug store, and Dr. Cornelius was studying medicine under me. The boys frequently bought county warrants as there was a heavy discount on them at that time. They also bought the "time" of witnesses during circuit court sessions. It was often necessary to communicate with the county clerk, and this was important, as sometimes the warrants went at twenty cents discount on the dollar—so you can see that the clerk's information was worth something. The boys spoke of attempting a telephone system, and I told them to go ahead and if the instruments proved a success I would put one in my house to connect with the drug store. They hired J. C. Lamkin to make the receivers, with rawhide stretched over the ends, as diaphragms, and a heavy twine to carry the conversations. It was a pretty fair substitute for what we have now. Mr. Llewelling was the county clerk, I believe, and the alarm was several taps on the drum, and the number of taps given designated the particular place wanted—the court house, the drug store, or the residence. Of course, at that time, the transmission by electric batteries had not been put in use, and the great development in telephones rapidly followed, and were covered by patents by the Bell people—but the primitive telephones were quite a comfort and were more or less practical.

Since the question was asked I thought this might be of interest to the oldtimers there are not many left here, however, to appreciate the reminiscence."

Dr. Lowe, Friday.

For drinking or mince meat, our apple cider is now at its best.—Den of Sweets.

Dance at the M. W. A. Hall, Reedville, Wednesday evening, November 27. Portland music. Everybody invited.

Ervine Burkhalter, of South Tualatin, was in the city Tuesday, and called on the Argus office.

The season is about closed for putting down cement sidewalks in the city, owing to bad weather. The last few contracts were laid under adverse conditions.

The Argus is under obligations to the Independent for courtesies extended in the matter of the election table, last week, and sincerely appreciate the favor.

Miss Grace Cole, of Pendleton, daughter of Senator G. W. Cole and wife, was a guest of Miss Lucile Imbrie, the first of the week.

For sale—About 1,000 cords stumpage fir and oak, 21 miles south of Reedville. For price and terms apply to Mr. Sparkman, estate dealer.

Chester Alexander, engineer on the Tillamook road, and who has been between the landslides for two weeks, came in Tuesday for a short vacation.

Fall seeding will be later than usual this season, so far as the largest part of the acreage is concerned. The late rains have made it almost impossible to successfully plow and seed.

Have moved my upholstering shop to North Division Street, in the Garden Tracts—take Jackson street, west—send a postal to Box 368, H. Jaeger, Hillsboro, and I will call for work. 36-8

The new Catholic chapel and Sisters' school, at Beaverton, will be dedicated about Dec. 15. The Catholic people at Beaverton are always on the improvement, and have spent thousands of dollars for the betterment of that community.

For sale—Pekin and Indian Runner ducks, and white Leghorn hens. High grade stock and prices right.—Adams, Box 483, or inquire at place across S. P. track, near Jabez Wilkes place. 35-7

I will address the voters of Hillsboro at the Court house Saturday evening November 30, at 8 P. M., and ladies are specially invited to be present. I will discuss matters of vital concern to every citizen of Hillsboro and answer the unwarranted attacks on the present City administration.—H. T. Bagley, Mayor.—Pd. Advertisement.

Having leased my blacksmith shop, those who owe me are requested to call and settle their accounts before December 1, as I am closing up all my business affairs in the city.—U. G. Gardner, Hillsboro.

Rev. Father Lappen, who has departed from charge of St. Matthews parish, wishes to thank all who so kindly gave him needed assistance in building up the parish. He left Tuesday for his new field, working out of Portland in the missionary chapel car. He leaves a host of friends here who regret his departure.

For Sale—Four new Metz 22-Runabouts. Will sell at a bargain if taken at once. Am leaving town on a business trip. Here is a chance to get machines at a great reduction. Can also give agency for five counties—Multnomah, Clackamas, Washington, Tillamook and Yamhill.—C. Rhoades, Hillsboro.

C. C. Nelson, of Bacona, lost a valuable horse one night last week while going up the Bacona mountain. He was trying to light a lantern when the team took fright and ran away. He was left at the starting point, and the team plunged off the grade a few hundred feet ahead. One of the animals had his neck broken. Mr. Nelson had been offered $300 for the horse.

Edw. Lyons returned to Hillsboro from Turlock, last evening, after an absence of several months. Ed. looks like the old-timer that he is, and had an avalanche of salutations before he reached his quarters on Main Street. He is looking hale and hearty, and the world appears to sit lightly on him. He will remain several weeks, and may be induced to spend the Winter in the old town of his early youth's adoption.

Born, Nov. 18, 1912, to Mr. and Mrs. Homer Carpenter, of Portland, a daughter. The little lady is a grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ransom, well known in Hillsboro and Forest Grove, and a great-grand-daughter of Jas. Gibson, of Reedville. Reports from Reedville say that Mr. Gibson started through an alley this morning, but found it too narrow, and that he was obliged to back up and take the full street in order to make the post office.

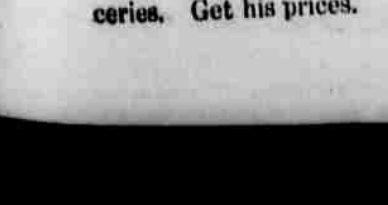

Lawrence Brown Passed Away Sunday

Death Due to Stomach and Heart Trouble of Long Standing

Was in Business District Saturday

Native Son of Oregon. Parents Were Pioneers of 1846

Lawrence C. Brown, a native son of Oregon, passed away suddenly at his home on Fir Street, Sunday morning, after an illness that had extended over several months. Although Mr. Brown was able to be around he was under the care of a physician. He was up to the city the last of the week, and was not thought in any immediate danger. Mr. Brown was the son of A. O. and Asenath Cary Brown, both of whom came to Oregon in 1846 in

The same wagon train. Mr. Brown was born near Forest Grove, Sept. 23, 1858, and aside from ten years spent near Salem, in his youth, his home has always been in this county.

He was married to Miss Jennie Leeson, Sept. 30, 1886, and shortly afterward took up a homestead on the foothills of Chehalie Mountain, known as the Iowa Hill section. A few weeks ago he bought the L. W. House property near the school house, from A. J. Roy, and moved to the county seat. His wife and the following sons survive: Percy L., Lawrence Earl, Eugene G., William W. and Ellis Allen.

His father passed away some years ago, and his mother now resides on First Street, near Washington.

Mr. Brown was noted for his strict integrity and was held in the highest esteem by the community in which he lived.

The funeral took place Tuesday from the Baptist Church, Rev. B. Clarence Cook preaching the obsequies. Interment was in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Those attending the funeral from abroad were: Willis Brown, uncle, from The Dalles; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lewis, Russellville, Ore.; Mrs. Ted. Baltra, Portland; and Mrs. M. S. Gross, aunt, of Portland.

Wants House and Lot

Will trade unimproved or improved real property 2 miles from railway station, rock road to railway, for house and lots in Hillsboro. Inquire of J. E. Reeves, Cornelius, Ore.

Auction Sale

The undersigned will sell at public auction at his farm, 1 mile east of Laurel, at ten a. m., on SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 23 Gray horse, 9 yrs, 1200; black mare, 5 years, 1100—both work single or double; bay horse, good worker.

Dairy Stock

Also the following—Twenty-one head extra good dairy cows, graded Jerseys and Graded Holsteins—17 are fresh now, and 4 will be fresh at date of sale. The average test of these cows is 4.50 for the past year, and each cow brought me $136.04 for the year. I have the statements from the condenser for this. Seventeen of these are young cows. Ten tons clover hay, Babcock milk tester, and other articles too numerous to mention.

Terms of Sale—Six months time, approved bankable note, at 8 percent. Lunch will be served at noon. Roy Heineck, Owner. J. C. Kuratli, Auctioneer. F. L. Brown, Clerk.

I am going out of the dairy business, and this entire herd is to go on sale—no by-bidding. This dairy is open to inspection. Any intending purchaser may come before date of sale, stay at my place, over night, free of expense, and see them milked. There is absolutely no better milking herd anywhere. Roy Heineck.

Mrs. Geo. Dooley, of Banks, is the guest of her sister, Miss Deborah Barrett.

The storm of Monday evening, beginning shortly after four o'clock, was a trifle the strongest of the year. The wind swept down many signs and played havoc with awnings. One of plate glass windows in the Shute block, corner Second and Main, was broken by the swinging iron frame, and some signs were dropped to the sidewalk, imperiling pedestrians. Umbrellas were turned inside out and those out in the open started pell mell for shelter. While the gale was heavy at the county seat, it is said that up Gales Creek and at Forest Grove there was nothing but a little zephyr. So it was in Portland, but with havoc on the electric lines, the midnight car did not show up until nearly two o'clock in the morning.

I represent Spirella corsets—not sold in stores. Will call at homes on request, and do the fitting, and teach how to adjust and wear the corset. Our tailored-made-to-measure corsets, including the latest front lace, with an experienced corsetier service, cost no more than high class corsets purchased in stores.—Mrs. M. E. Caudle, Hillsboro, Fifth and Jackson Streets, Phone No. 584. 30-41

J. N. Brown, an attorney, died at his home, 1014 Thurman St. Portland, Nov. 19, 1912. Mr. Brown formerly resided in Hillsboro. He was in the practice of law at Heppner, and it was in Mr. Brown's office that Mayor H. T. Bagley studied law. Later Mr. Brown came to Hillsboro and for a few years was associated with Geo. R. Bagley in law. He was born at Burlington, Iowa, in 1857. Coming West he graduated out of the Willamette University Law School in 1888. He leaves a widow and one son. His wife was formerly Miss Mamie Purvin, of Salem.

I have installed a new French Dry Cleaner, and with the latest process can satisfactorily clean and press both ladies' and gentlemen's suits. Give me a trial. Best of work. Suits always made to order—and we "suit" you.—Aug. Tews, Merchant Tailor, upstairs in Commercial Bank Building, Second Street. Years in business here—a pioneer of the business in the county seat.

The Hillsboro Public school is making up a Thanksgiving offering for the Boys & Girls Aid Society, and if any person wishes to make a donation, and will let Principal Barnes know, he will send a messenger after it. The school has 400 fruit jars to fill. Here is a chance to give to a worthy institution.

For sale—Five room cottage, with bath; new and modern; only three blocks from O. E. Depot and one block from school: Will sell with or without furniture.—Inquire C. S. Parker, The Palm, Hillsboro.

Next Thursday is Thanksgiving Day, and turkey and cranberry sauce is the order of the day. Turkeys are plentiful in the county this year, but the Portland market keeps the price boosted as high as the birds roost.

We have a car of alfalfa hay due in a few days. Place your order now, for delivery from the car, and thereby save handling and storage.—Climax Mill, foot of Second Street, Second Street is now open.

Portland newspaper report many realty sales all over the Willamette Valley. The Washington County list has also grown extensively since the election, as the reports of transactions of this issue bear out.

Remember the Harvest Home supper at the new church, North Plains, Saturday evening, Nov. 23, given by the ladies of North Plains. Supper begins 6 o'clock. Adults, 25c; children, under 12, 15c.

Mrs. M. S. Gross, of Portland, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Asenath Cary Brown, this week, being at the obsequies of her nephew, the late Lawrence C. Brown.

For sale—Good Guernsey cow; sow, with five pigs, 7 months old, sow, with 8 pigs, 6 months old; boar, 2 years; shoat, 125 lbs.—Arthur Miltenberger, Hillsboro. Phone City 144.

C. Jack Jr. has declined to run on the mass meeting ticket and the committee has placed the name Andrew Jack on the ballot.

For sale—Cabbage, delivered in 100 lbs. lots.—W. A. Marlin, City Route 2, or telephone City 735. 35-8

Chester Bridges was in from beyond Oak Park the last of the week. Chester is farming the Bridges place in the forks of the Dairy and Tualatin.

If you wish something good get a sack of Snow White flour, at Ward's Grocery.

Capt. J. D. Merryman and wife, and Mrs. A. B. Bailey, of Portland, were in the city Monday evening.
